Will Be Eligible For Appointment Following Graduation Soon

Thirty Northeast State seniors are eligible for appointment as second lieutenants in the Organized Reserve Corps following their graduation this spring, announced Lt. Col. Melville H. Griffith, professor of military science and tactics.

As a part of Northeast's initial graduating class since the school became a four-year institution, this group will be the first to obtain commissions through the advanced course of the Reserve Officers Training Corps program, which was started here in September, 1950 as a military police unit.

The thirty cadets are qualified to receive the gold bars of a second lieutenant with their college diplomas at graduation exercises in May.

Under new regulations most of the men will serve two years on active duty and remain in a reserve status for six additional years.

Several cadets wear the red, white and blue badges of distinguished military students and will be tendered regular army commissions after receiving their degrees.

A number of senior cadets intend to enter service and attempt to secure regular army commissions through the competitive plan. They will serve one year as an officer while they compete for their commissions.

Charges Truman Policies Are Preparing America For Military Conflict

JACKSON, Miss., March 22 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur declared today that the national administration "is preparing us for a war in Europe" after plunging the country, unprepared, into the Korean conflict.

He criticized the present leadership and said it was "leading us toward a Communist state with as dreadful certainty as though the leaders of the Kremlin themselves were charting our course."

The 71-year-old former Far Eastern commander loosed his most critical blast thus far at the Truman administration as he addressed a joint session of the Mississippi legislature from the steps of the state capitol building.

He called on the people to "rechart the nation's course" under constitutional processes, apparently referring to the next presidential election.

MacArthur, who is regarded as supporting the presidential bid of Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio) did not refer to President Truman by name but pictured his administration and policies as a path to the ruination of the country.

The general arrived from New York at 1:12 p. m. (CST) aboard a chartered DC-4. The arrival was two hours behind schedule because the pilot had to fly off course to miss the tornadic weather centered over Mid-South states.

After a rough flight that made a number of the general's party airsick, MacArthur was paraded through the city and taken directly to the capitol for his address. A scheduled luncheon at the governor's mansion was postponed until after the speech.

MacArthur termed the nation's leadership "fundamentally lacking in capacity and spirit to chart a course which will bring true and lasting peace."

"Just as it plunged us unprepared into the Korean War, it now is preparing us for a war in Europe . As it tears down our structure of constitutional liberty, it rears the threat of converting us into a military state," MacArthur said."

A crowd spread thickly over the capitol grounds applauded 21 times as the general charged the administration with implementing "the blueprints of Marx and Lenin with unerring accuracy and gives the stark warning that, unless the American people stem the present tide human liberty will inevitably perish from our land."

True to its advance billing, the speech struck a responsive chord

Seven - year - old Bobbie Jean Spiatta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antony Spiatta, 312 Olive street, suffered face and leg brush burns about 3 p. m. yesterday when she was struck by a car at 400 North Fourth street, police said. Police said Bobbie Jean ran out of the Piggly Wiggly driveway into the path of the on-coming car driven by Guy T. Roberts, 15, 609 Jonesboro road, West Monroe. She was rushed to the St. Francis Hospital by Mulhearn ambulance where she was released after treatment.

Roberts was traveling north when the accident occurred. No charges were preferred against Roberts.

Wedding Contest Deadline Set, Gift Donations Pour In

The bride and groom selection committee, for the "Hillbilly Wedding in June" contest, yesterday announced comprehensive rules for entering and set April 5 as the deadline for accepting eltters from couples who bid for the nomination.

Meanwhile, it was announced that the prize donations have already totalled $1,440.85 and the list is still growing. And interest in general is snowballing.

Arrangements are being made to conduct one of the most elaborate weddings and pre-ceremony parades ever held in West Monroe. The parade will be held on the day of the wedding and western togs will be donned by just about everybody.

Another development in the omnibus wedding spree plans is the decision that the winning couple will be sent to a dude ranch somewhere in the southwest. The couple will be whisked from the jamboree wedding scene and embark on their expense-free honeymoon trip. The dude ranch they will honeymoon at has not been selected, but will be one of the high classed spots in the southwest where dude ranches are numerous.

Three couples will be nominated as candidates in the contest. After the three couples are nominated, they will be submitted to a public vote, the couple getting the most votes will get prizes, and elaborate wedding ceremony, and honeymoon. The other two couples will also receive consolation prizes and be included in the ceremony where they too will be authentically married along with the first place bride and groom. The wedding will be performed before several thousand people.

Voting will begin soon after the judges select the three to be on the ballot. Their decision will be based partly on the letter they write and personal interviews.

Firms who have already agreed to donate prizes and the prizes they

Little Berinda Sue Gilmore, 10-year-old pupil in grade 10 at the Claiborne School, had an exciting experience that she will doubtless recount as long as she lives.

Reporting for school early on Friday morning, she played on the campus for some time. Then one of her group tossed a quarter of a dollar carelessly into the air. He made a high toss and it landed atop the high flat roof of the school building.

Loss of so much money just couldn't be permitted to take place. Quickly little Berinda declared she would get it down. Various schemes were resorted to but ultimately a human ladder was formed as she climbed to the shoulders of a chum and then others climbed up until a "ladder" was formed and eventually Berinda reached the roof and got the

Physical Education Annex For Neville Gets Approval

The Monroe City School Board in a special meeting issued an invitation to contractors to bid on the construction of the physical education addition to the Neville High School. Bids will be received until 4 p.m. on Tuesday, April 22, 1952.

Plans and specifications were completed for this building by Smith and Padgett, Monroe architects, in November of 1951. An application was forwarded immediately to the United States Office of Education on November 12, 1951, for authority to commence construction, pursuant to Order M-4 of the National Production Authority governing construction throughout the nation, and for allotment of controlled materials and for rating for other materials and equipment needed to construct the building. Approval of this project was dated March 18, 1952.

Shortage of critical materials, particularly copper, compelled the division of civilian education requirements of the United States office of education to hold applications for large physical education and multi - purpose rooms temporarily pending an improvement in the supply of such materials. The Neville project is one of the first of this type approved.

The Neville physical education addition is the sixth and final major project of the building and repair program of the Monroe city schools. The five major projects presently under construction are the elementary school on Lexington avenue, the elementary school on Plum street, elementary school on Orange street, the modern comprehensive high school on Renwick street, and the addition to the Sherrouse School.

Other projects to be completed as soon as possible are the renovations of plants at Barkdull Faulk School, Central Grammar School, Georgia Tucker School, Lida Ben-

227 Persons Killed By Storms And Floods As Winds Fail To Abate; Thousands Left Injured And Homeless By Twisters

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 11 (AP) — Despair and suffering settled today over five Southern states tortured by tornadoes and floods which killed 227 people and left more than 1,000 injured.

For the living the primary job still was to search for possible victims and to let tomorrow's grim task of burial and rebuilding wait.

DIERKS, Ark., March 22 (AP) — They had to remove "Uncle Bob" Stevens shoes last night to get him out of a tree after the tornado hit here.

"Uncle Bob," 90-year-old former acrobat, told Dr. A. V. Harrison today he was blown outside and into a tree when the winds smashed his home. His feet caught in the tree limbs and he was left dangling head downward. Rescuers freed him by pulling off his shoes.

Stevens was treated for head lacerations and his condition was described as "good." Mrs. Stevens, also 80 suffered a broken nose, abrasions and lacerations.

Meanwhile, there was an ominous forecast by the Washington weather bureau that fresh tornadoes were possible tonight in Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama, Virginia and West Virginia.

The winds, plunging from rain and lightning filled clouds yesterday, left 149 dead in Arkansas, 46 in Tennessee, 11 in Mississippi and 13 in Missouri.

Seven members of one family at Scottsboro, Ky., drowned last night when rain swollen waters of Garrett's Creek swept away their home.

Homes were blown apart as by shell burst. Power lines were toppled. Spring crops were flooded. Livestock was killed. Property damage was expected to reach into the millions of dollars.

Storms raked Northwest Louisiana and a Negro man died when he came in contact with a live wire blown down in Shreveport.

Arkansas put 440 National Guardsmen on active duty in the stricken area, while schools, churches and armories — anything with a roof — were converted into aid stations.

Hospitals were filled to overflowing as emergency crews of doctors and nurses worked deftly to patch the injured. The Red Cross sent to disaster workers, including medical teams, into the 19 afflicted counties.

In addition, the Red Cross shipped in 224 units of whole blood and 274 units of plasma.

Associated Press Staff Writer Ray Stephens, a combat veteran, reported from Searcy, Ark., in White County where 92 died, that the scene resembled one of war.

"Refugees," he said, "are streaming into White County from all directions. An Army detachment is directing traffic and won't let anyone pass except emergency vehicles. Traffic is packed for miles on U. S. Highway 67 south of Searcy."

Stephens added that people walked the streets as in a daze. Some had lost everything but their lives.

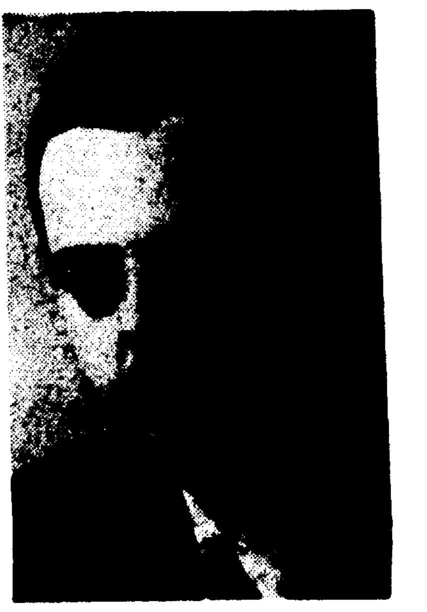
COON TO ENTER MAYOR'S RACE

Announces Candidacy To Succeed Himself As Mayor

Mayor John E. Coon announced yesterday that he would be a candidate to succeed himself as mayor of Monroe.



JOHN E. COON

Mayor Coon, whose choice was urged by various independent groups here, was appointed to succeed the late Mayor George Breece and took office on November 17, 1949.

Supporters of Mayor Coon yesterday pointed out the many improvements which have been made here since he took office. Mayor Coon formally was state representative from Ouachita parish and as such was instrumental in obtaining many benefits for this city from various state departments.

During the short time of his administration several hundred thousand dollars have been spent on improving the city streets, and the expansion of the city power and light system, sewerage system, drainage system and other smaller projects were inaugurated. He also was largely instrumental in obtaining the four - year college here.

Mayor Coon instituted the practice of forming a citizens committee representing a cross section of the population of Monroe and announced that he would continue such practice when elected mayor.

"It is my opinion," Mayor Coon

Six Candidates Qualify Here

Four persons yesterday qualified as candidates for the Democratic executive committee in the May 20 city election, and two more qualified for the city school board.

The four persons qualifying for the Democratic committee yesterday — Roy Q. Cole, Sr., C. H. Reid, Henry Haas, Sr., and George Fink — are the only persons who have qualified for that office thus far.

Qualifying for positions on the city school board yesterday were Floyd L. Martin and William Gannaway. They will oppose Warren F. Taylor, T. H. Scott, Ronald Lee Davis, E. F. Jones, Mrs. Anna Grey Noe, and Mrs. Alyce F. Davis.

Persons who have qualified for the various other city offices are: George L. Tidwell and Jack Howard, for mayor; F. F. Millsaps, Fran Brennan, and Frank X. Cline, for commissioner of finance and utilities; and John P. Simmons and Lloyd Lane, for commissioner of streets and parks.

The deadline for qualifying in any of these offices was set at 6 p. m. on March 28.

Candidates for mayor and commissioners are required to deposit $30 each with Roy Cole, Sr., president of the Democratic committee, or George Fink, secretary of the Democratic committee. Candidates for the school board or the Democratic committee will be required to deposit $10 each.

Coon set aside this week to pay honor to the nurses, an organization he declared "serves the public unceasingly and unselfishly throughout all hours of the day and night" and declared that today through March 29 should be known as Nurse Recruitment Week. In signing the proclamation, the mayor expressed gratitude in behalf of the entire city and urged the public to cooperate in furthering the nursing profession.

The special week is sponsored jointly by the Auxiliary of the Ouachita parish Medical Society and the Monroe District Nurses Association in cooperation with the E. A. Conway Hospital and the St. Francis Sanitarium. Mrs. Prentice Gray, president of the Medical Auxiliary, and Mrs. Ralph Talbert, chairman, are acting in behalf of the Auxiliary while Mrs. Emment D. Otwell and Miss Beverly Andre represent the nurses' organizations.

The proclamation in full read:

Little Berinda Sue Gilmore, 10-year-old pupil in grade 10 at the Claiborne School, had an exciting experience that she will doubtless recount as long as she lives.

Reporting for school early on Friday morning, she played on the campus for some time. Then one of her group tossed a quarter of a dollar carelessly into the air. He made a high toss and it landed atop the high flat roof of the school building.

Loss of so much money just couldn't be permitted to take place. Quickly little Berinda declared she would get it down. Various schemes were resorted to but ultimately a human ladder was formed as she climbed to the shoulders of a chum and then others climbed up until a "ladder" was formed and eventually Berinda reached the roof and got the

Four persons yesterday qualified as candidates for the Democratic executive committee in the May 20 city election, and two more qualified for the city school board.

The four persons qualifying for the Democratic committee yesterday — Roy Q. Cole, Sr., C. H. Reid, Henry Haas, Sr., and George Fink — are the only persons who have qualified for that office thus far.

Qualifying for positions on the city school board yesterday were Floyd L. Martin and William Gannaway. They will oppose Warren F. Taylor, T. H. Scott, Ronald Lee Davis, E. F. Jones, Mrs. Anna Grey Noe, and Mrs. Alyce F. Davis.

Persons who have qualified for the various other city offices are: George L. Tidwell and Jack Howard, for mayor; F. F. Millsaps, Fran Brennan, and Frank X. Cline, for commissioner of finance and utilities; and John P. Simmons and Lloyd Lane, for commissioner of streets and parks.

The deadline for qualifying in any of these offices was set at 6 p. m. on March 28.

Candidates for mayor and commissioners are required to deposit $30 each with Roy Cole, Sr., president of the Democratic committee, or George Fink, secretary of the Democratic committee. Candidates for the school board or the Democratic committee will be required to deposit $10 each.

Physical Education Annex For Neville Gets Approval

The Monroe City School Board in a special meeting issued an invitation to contractors to bid on the construction of the physical education addition to the Neville High School. Bids will be received until 4 p.m. on Tuesday, April 22, 1952.

Plans and specifications were completed for this building by Smith and Padgett, Monroe architects, in November of 1951. An application was forwarded immediately to the United States Office of Education on November 12, 1951, for authority to commence construction, pursuant to Order M-4 of the National Production Authority governing construction throughout the nation, and for allotment of controlled materials and for rating for other materials and equipment needed to construct the building. Approval of this project was dated March 18, 1952.

Shortage of critical materials, particularly copper, compelled the division of civilian education requirements of the United States office of education to hold applications for large physical education and multi - purpose rooms temporarily pending an improvement in the supply of such materials. The Neville project is one of the first of this type approved.

The Neville physical education addition is the sixth and final major project of the building and repair program of the Monroe city schools. The five major projects presently under construction are the elementary school on Lexington avenue, the elementary school on Plum street, elementary school on Orange street, the modern comprehensive high school on Renwick street, and the addition to the Sherrouse School.

Other projects to be completed as soon as possible are the renovations of plants at Barkdull Faulk School, Central Grammar School, Georgia Tucker School, Lida Ben-

Wedding Contest Deadline Set, Gift Donations Pour In

The bride and groom selection committee, for the "Hillbilly Wedding in June" contest, yesterday announced comprehensive rules for entering and set April 5 as the deadline for accepting elters from couples who bid for the nomination.

Meanwhile, it was announced that the prize donations have already totalled $1,449.85 and the list is still growing. And interest in general is snowballing.

Arrangements are being made to conduct one of the most elaborate weddings and pre-ceremony parades ever held in West Monroe. The parade will be held on the day of the wedding and western togs will be donned by just about everybody.

Another development in the omnibus wedding spree plans is the decision that the winning couple will be sent to a dude ranch somewhere in the southwest. The couple will be whisked from the jamboree wedding scene and embark on their expense-free honeymoon trip. The dude ranch they will honeymoon at has not been selected, but will be one of the high classed spots in the southwest where dude ranches are numerous.

Three couples will be nominated as candidates in the contest. After the three couples are nominated, they will be submitted to a public vote, the couple getting the most votes will get prizes, and elaborate wedding ceremony, and honeymoon. The other two couples will also receive consolation prizes and be included in the ceremony where they too will be authentically married along with the first place bride and groom. The wedding will be performed before several thousand people.

Voting will begin soon after the judges select the three to be on the ballot. Their decision will be based partly on the letter they write and personal interviews.

Firms who have already agreed to donate prizes and the prizes they

Airline Hearing Scheduled

Possibility of some action on the long-pending application of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce for a north-south airline stopping in Monroe is seen in the announcement that a hearing will be held March 31 in Birmingham, Ala.

The application for a hearing before the civil aeronautics board in Washington, D. C. has been consolidated with a similar application of Southern Airways, Inc.

The Monroe area has long been in need of a north-south airline. Businessmen and others wishing to travel from Monroe to Baton Rouge and New Orleans and from Monroe to Little Rock have been at a great disadvantage by not having any direct airline services going in those directions. There are few cities the size of Monroe that do not have airline services going in at least four directions and there seems to be every reason that Monroe should enjoy the same advantages.

A spokesman for the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce group said he believed there is a good chance of getting the north-south line, with a Monroe stop. City officials have expressed a desire for the line and have indicated they may go to Birmingham for the meeting.

We believe every effort should be made to obtain the line and that the aeronautics board should grant the application.

Purer Water Needed

Now that a contract has been awarded for a big water improvement program in Monroe, costing $1,200,000, it is to be hoped that provision will be made for additional purification of this city's water supply.

It has been a long time since trains of the Missouri Pacific and Illinois Central railroads have been allowed to take on water while stopped in Monroe. As far as water is concerned, these trains pass up Monroe and wait until they get to some town with purer water before taking on a supply.

With the amount of money to be spent on water improvement here it should be possible to get water pure enough and wholesome enough so that not only the railroads but other agencies and individuals would be glad to accept it.

As long as private water companies flourish there is pretty good evidence that the city water supply is not satisfactory. There are many people in Monroe who buy their drinking water in five-gallon jars from sellers who obtain their supply from natural springs or who use artificial means to distill it.

We would like to see Monroe's water as pure as any spring water and as wholesome as any distilled water. When that stage is reached, Monroe can be proud of its water and will thus have another advantage to offer to prospective residents.

Blow Struck At Freedoms

The interests of individual Americans are betrayed by recommendations of the President's board that would make union membership compulsory for all non-operating rail employes. If the railroads conform the right of private contract between employer and employe is nearer extinction.

A union shop, as proposed by the board, allows employment of a non-union worker but he must join the union to hold his job. He must also agree that his dues be deducted by the company before he is paid. Old non-union employes also would be subject to these regulations.

The government is obligated to protect the right of the people. Yet, federal agencies, boards and bureaus within the past few years have persistently promoted the aims of organized labor to the detriment of individual non-union workers.

In the railroad decision, Mr. Truman's hand-picked board ignored more than 100,000 non-union workers. If the recommendations are adopted, these 100,000 men will have to pay union initiation fees, dues, and special assessments—or lose their jobs.

The issue is as simple as that. Workers may have been connected with a company for 40 years, but they will have to be fired if they refuse to join a union.

The right of workers to organize is freely recognized; the privilege is guaranteed by law. But the law also recognizes the right of workers not to organize. This right not to form a union, which is as essential as the right to organize, is being abrogated by appointive boards that misuse their functions to effect social and economic changes.

President Truman's heart bleeds publicly for racial minority groups, and he calls for federal laws to compel their employment. Yet, he would bar from work sizeable minorities who do not wish to join unions.

There is no real difference in barring a man because of his color or creed and barring him because he does not believe in unions. The dstinction drawn by the adminstration is indicative of its warped views on justice.

American workingmen need to take a long-range perspective on this subject. At present, they have some choice in whether they shall join a union or not. If federal regulations become much more stringent, the ability to get and hold a job will depend more upon payment of union dues than ability, energy and ambition.

Once lost, individual freedoms are hard to regain. The right to earn a livelihood is one of the greatest of all freedoms, and it should never be placed in the hands of a Washington board or a power-seeking labor leader.

The Railway Fiction

Unrest among the employees of the railroads which has resulted in sporadic strikes, now enjoined by the courts, was marked by this comment by a brotherhood official, who was asked whether he was striking against the government:

"The government will have to answer whether this is a strike against it or against the railroad managements. We don't know who our employers are."

The government took possession of the railroads in August, 1950, under wartime authority to seize the roads, if a shutdown loomed, to forestall a national emergency.

Actually private management runs the rails and directs the operating brotherhoods. But under the fiction that the government operates them, the unions have been enjoined [illegible] stopping the trains.

This is another illustration of confused thinking at the [illegible] in America today. If management and labor cannot [illegible] at amicable agreements, government could step in to [illegible] a crippling work stoppage.

It is difficult to see what advantage there is in the gov[illegible] technical control of the rails. Perhaps [illegible] has a well-staffed bureau to buttress the fiction [illegible] government is running the railroads, and there is [illegible] to dismiss those on the payroll.

Louisiana---Its Community Life

By Ethel McIntyre

If Rip Van Winkle awoke in March after his sleeping spree, he didn't need a calendar to name the month for him. Three days of observation would do the trick for anyone. Cold winds, warm winds, gentle, stormy or in-between, frost, rain, sunshine, blue skies or gray clouds with a snowy look, take turns in making up the March weather chart. In spite of the weather, or maybe because of it the heralds of spring are here. Birds on tour, after passing the winter under a tropical sky, now wing their way northward, eager to begin building their nest in some secluded tree top. Green-tipped willow trees bend and sway in the wind, while flowering shrubs and the soft green carpet of grass seen in sheltered areas, proclaim that spring is near. Across the countryside, the roar of tractors or the strident yell of "Gid-up", mule can be heard as the farmer's break the soil to plant another crop.

Along with these yearly activities the fisherman digs out his tackle. Rods and reels are inspected for flaws, poles, hooks and lines assembled carefully and the bait bucket hung on the gate post so it cannot be forgotten. The desire to spend a day or more in a boat, on a stream fishing is like a strange, contagious malady. Few escape from it's attractive appeal. The business man, sitting at his desk, piled high with unfinished papers, suddenly sits still, looking into space and dreams of a stump-hole out among the cypress knees, in a bayou, where he hooked and lost a big black bass last fall and wonders if the old fellow isn't about ready to jump at the first cast that comes his way again. School teachers almost forget that the sixth day of the week is Saturday and not just fishing-day, while farmers have a two-fold reason for hurrying with the spring plowing, first in order to get the seed in the upturned, mellowed earth and second if they work with enough speed there might be a day for pleasure in between the planting and cultivating period which they can spend in a boat drifting and fishing.

While riding past Clear lake, located twelve miles southeast of Rayville, in Richland parish, a few days ago, I realized the trek, to the streams, of sports-fishermen has begun. Boats dotted the beautiful lake from end to end. Statistics show that more people spend more time fishing than at any other recreation and through winter and summer, spring and fall, at all seasons and in all kinds of weather, someone is fishing, the the season for most fishermen begins in March. All kinds of motor vehicles line the banks of streams from March till December. Today many fishermen own a modern club house, built on the bank of his favorite stream, where he and his family or friends spend a week or more enjoying the relaxation only fishing can bring. However the joy of "camping out" did not originate with the motor car and screened club house. Spending the day and night or several days and nights on the bank of a stream, deep in some wooded area, was as popular forty years ago as it is today. Then every article necessary for camping was carried along. The wagon was carefully packed the night before the planned excursion. bed springs were often tied to the outside of the wagon to make sleeping on the ground more comfortable. Bedding was packed into the wagon, boxes filled with salt, pepper, meal, four and lard were checked and rechecked to be sure that every item needed for the trip had been included. A skillet for frying fish, an iron pot for the camp stew, a dish that was a must on any outing, (more about that later) and an iron kettle which was used to boil coffee, plenty of fishing tackle and corn for the mules. Oh yes, there was the ax. It could not be forgotten, for usually a fallen tree would have to be cleared from the road before the campsite could be reached, or if the tree was too large to be removed in a hurry a right-of-way could be cleared around it. Everyone fell into bed the night before the trip as soon as the wagon was packed. All were up by two o'clock and on their way by three. When packing the wagon, the beds were arranged so the children could sleep on the way (which they never did). The spot selected for the camp was reached early in the morning. The wagon was placed in the shade of a tree, the mules were unhooked and fed, while the unpacking process was left till a later hour. Everyone grabbed a pole and line; a can of bait which had also been brought along, and fished while the morning was cool. Very seldom did a morning pass without catching enough fish for the noon meal which were cleaned and cooked over an open fire. The afternoon was spent in arranging the beds and hanging the mosquito bars for the night's rest. That is most of it was used for that purpose. At least forty minutes or an hour had to be spent hunting a few squirrels to kill for the camp stew, for the evening meal. There were no hunting seasons in those days. And now for that stew. This was my father's specialty. He had selected and packed into the wagon young tender ears of corn, potatoes, tomatoes and onions for this tasty meal. To this he added several squirrels and sometimes a rabbit. If you have never tasted this treat you have missed a treat. After

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, March 22 — I wonder if I may be pardoned for voicing one small "I-told-you-so" after reading statistics which indicate that twelve Class A pictures now in release are expected to gross a total of at least $60,000,000 and insure Hollywood's major studios one of the most profitable years in movie history.

The 12 pictures referred to are "Quo Vadis," "The Greatest Show on Earth," "Streetcar Named Desire," "Caruso," "An American in Paris," "David and Bathsheba," "Sailor Beware," "Detective Story," "Place in the Sun," "Bend of the River" and "African Queen." Their combined production cost was approximately $26,000,000.

These pictures range all the way from slapstick comedy ("Sailor Beware") to tragedy ("Place in the Sun" and "Streetcar Named Desire") but they all have one thing in common; they're good pictures, well-written, well produced, well-directed and well-played.

During the past few years, while too many motion picture producers were shedding buckets of tears over the certain demise of the movie industry under the blows dealt it by television, I've contended that TV had little or nothing to do with the situation. In my opinion, the motion picture industry had been made critically ill by its consistent production of bad pictures, and, again in my opinion, often expressed in this column, the only medicine needed to restore it to health was consistent production of good pictures. I think the current developments are proving my point.

There's still room for improvement. The good pictures are, I think, good enough to satisfy the most critical, but they represent too small a percentage of the industry's total output. The next step to insure Hollywood's complete recovery and perfect health should be surgical in nature. It should be the amputation of at least fifty per cent of the Class B product now made simply as "stuffing" for double-feature programs.

Idol chatter: Didyuh know that Robert Mitchum's favorite extra-curricular activity is writing verse a la Robert Service? . . . Wondering muse: What producer wouldn't welcome an opportunity to make a musical comedy co-starring Danny Kaye and Betty Hutton? . . Marilyn Monroe says she just loves nature — and why shouldn't she, after seeing in her mirror what nature did for her . . . Add men who would find cause for worry in Eden: William Powell . . . Looks like Cornel Wilde's future career will keep him in Southern California where the weather is warm; a guy who's stripped to the waist as often as he is would freeze up north.

In "Darling, I Am Growing Younger," a picture which promises to be one of the most hilarious comedies of the year, a chimpanzee named Bingo plays an important role. According to the script, he's a laboratory animal owned by Scientist Cary Grant, and, as Grant, who's invented an elixir of youth, grows more juvenile in his actions, Bingo is supposed to imitate him. In the scene being filmed yesterday, Grant and Marilyn Monroe were to enter the laboratory and find Bingo, an empty elixir bottle in his hand, swinging from a chandelier. But the course of production struck a snag. Bingo took one look at the curvaceous Miss Monroe, and, instead of swinging from the chandelier, rushed to her and gave her an enthusiastic hug.

All of which, I suppose, merely proves that it's possible to be a chimp without being a chump.

Ann Baxter is not only one of Hollywood's best actresses; she is also a very clever young business woman who knows how to get what she wants. Just now she wants the role of Lorelei in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." So what? So, before starting her current stint in a picture entitled "My Wife's Best Friend," she talked the producer into letting her blondine her naturally dark hair. The color change means nothing to the role she's playing at the moment, but it will induce studio bosses to visualize her as Lorelei when it's time to cast "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

One of Hollywood's feminine columnists opines in her pillar for today that "it isn't anything worse with Ruth Roman and Mortimer Hall than his desire to teepee in the east, and her desire to continue her career here." That, I'm afraid, is about tantamount to saying that there's nothing wrong with a man except an incurable ailment. I've known a lot of Hollywood marriages that were jeopardized by the same disagreement, and, off-hand, I can't remember one that survived.

Questions And Auswers

Q—In what year was Port Royal, Jamaica, sunk by an earthquake?

A—Port Royal, at the entrance of Kingston harbor, was largely destroyed and sunk under the sea by an earthquake in 1692.

A—Senator David Atchison. Zachary Taylor who was to be inaugurated, did not arrive in Washington in time to take the oath of office privately on March 4, which fell on Sunday. He was inaugurated on Monday, March 5, 1849.

Q—Where was the earliest known coin made?

A—In Asia Minor, about 700 B. C. by either the Lydians or the Ionians. It was called the stater.

Q—Does a desert always have a hot climate?

A—A desert may be hot, like the Sahara, or cold, like the tundras of Siberia.

Q—Was tobacco smoking ever prohibited in New England?

A—In early New England, smoking was prohibited because it was a non-productive pastime.

Q—What was the weight of the largest known elephant tusk?

A—It weighed 235 pounds and was 11 feet long, 8 inches thick.

Q—Do dogs have the ability to foretell weather conditions?

A—Many superstitions have been handed down concerning this belief. Some people believe that if a dog rolls in the snow or eats grass, that bad weather is approaching, that if a dog's coat suddenly has an odor it is going to rain, and that if his nose is moist, good weather will prevail.

Q—Which city boasts the first drive-in filling station?

A—Pittsburgh, Pa., where one was opened in December, 1913.

Q—What is the Latin word used to describe books printed before 1501?

A—Books printed before 1501 are known now as "incunabula," which is the Latin word for cradle.

Q—How fast does an electric current travel?

A—Electric current in a wire travels at the speed of light, about 186,000 miles per sceond.

The Broadway Line

There will be 19 more premieres before the dismal season chokes on its final gasp. . . . Beatrice Lillie's enjoyable capers on teevy make you wonder why she hasn't her own sponsor. . . . Lovely Mona Freeman, who plays a 14-year-old in a movie, has a 4-year-old- dghtr. . . . The Gwen Conger listed as co-author (with N. Benchley) on "The Circus of Dr. Lao" play, is John Steinbeck's ex - wife. Her first dramatic try . . . You wouldn't believe it by scanning the long roster of NBC comedians, but net - work execs have talent - scouts searching for more. . . . Sonja Henie's personal accident insurance is for a million via Lloyds. . . . "The Little White Cloud That Cried" is practically "liebeslied" by Kreisler and Rachmaninoff. . . . How's the movie biz? The Music Hall and Roxy grossed over a quarter-of-a-mill last week.

When Judy Garland arrived in town to begin her "comeback" at the Palace the newspapers were invited to interview her. Only one lad showed up. . . . After the opening show and the raves that followed — interviewers had to apply in writing for months. . . . Pinza is one opera star who really works on his programs. Most of the others render a song and retire. Ezio pitches a full 9 innings. . . . Ella Fitzgerald, now at the Paramount, starts a concert tour in Sweden on the 28th. . . . The girl who did the bits with Will Rogers in the Ziegfeld shows was beautiful Mary Lou Carstairs. In the film about him now being made the girl is June Robbins, daughter of Mary Lou. . . . Theater Arts mag has the sassiest feature. The author heckles the drama critics. They suspect he is confrere R. S.

The Theodore Roosevelt book, "No room for Mr. Roosevelt," was adapted for a teevy show. The sponsor, a rabid Republican, made sure witnesses wouldn't think it was about FDR, so he had them change the title to "Make Way For Teddy!" . . . The legit theatre press agents union will start their fireworks early this year. The old-timers will fight the heavy influx of apprentices. . . . Ann Sheridan, John Lund and Howard Duff (the stars of "Steel Town") arrive soon to plug it. Reason: They all have a chunk of it. . . In February, newcomer Johnny ("Cry") Ray earned $57,000 from recording royalties. . . . Gable's divorce terms with Lady Ashley call for annual payments until she re-weds. Not one big package of coin. . . "Something To Live For" is doing big biz at the Normandie on 57th Street. Proving that the patrons are the best critics. It got mixed reviews.

Vera Ellen's terpsichore (in black negligee and nylons) in "The Belle of New York" flicker is the scene you remember. . . . Another addition to teevy eye-lotion is Judy Johnson on the Sid Caesar shindig. . . . Martin & Lewis will gross at least $2 million this year. . . . They could get lots more zing into D. Garroway's "Today" stanza by skipping the repetitious news bulletins. . . . "The Gandy Dancers Ball" is one of Frankie Laine's best sing-a-lings. . . . Portia Nelson's accompanist at the Blue Angel (Billy Roy) did the score for "Maggie" due in the Fall. The musical is based on the play, "What Every Woman Knows". . . The hottest ticket in town should be the Sadler's Wells Ballet when it opens at the Warner (Strand) soon . . . You haven't seen a poodle cut until you've seen Sophie Tucker's.

Variety revealed that a one-minute commershill on "Your Show of Shows" costs a mere $16,000. . . . Lindsay & Crouse are making like Rodgers 'n Hammerstein. Their steenth production "One Bright Day," got raves in the tryout burgs. . . . Fifteen people showed up for a premiere of a downtown spot featuring a "name" attraction. . . . Bogart and Hepburn, who received no wages for "The African Queen" flicker, will split terrific profits . . . "Dragnet" is one whodunit that seems to be written with a typewriter instead of a mimeograph. . . . Shelley Winters is the best press agent her boy friends have. Her Italian flame appeared in the film hit, "Bitter Rice," but was unknown here until she made him her darling . . . Although their show, "Two On the Aisle," prospered, producer Arthur Lesser and star Bert Lahr no longer acknowledge each other's existence.

It takes 150,000 sales of recordings to rate a disc a hit—and that after hefty promotion. Tony Bennett's next Columbia platter, "Sleepless," already enjoys an advance sale of 100,000. . . Many movie owners are dropping their theater-television setups. No profit in it. . . . The cops won't appreciate this in "Deadline U. S. A.": A detective asks: "Can't you tell the difference between a cop and a hoodlum?" . . . To which a reporter sasses: "Not in this town!" . . . Oddest radio fluff of the season: Alabamian Tallulah, saluting an Atlanta radio station, called Georgia the "beef" instead of the "peach" State. Enough to make Georgia secede from NBC. . . Networks are dizzy trying to figure a way to keep the proanity (uttered by wrestling match ringsiders) out of the mikes . . . The legit theater has lost 9 houses to teevy. More to go. Only 29 left.

DOWN SOUTH

AN AMERICAN ENTERPRISE

There is a big American business enterprise, prominent and important throughout the history of our nation, that is currently owned by 117,967 individual stockholders and 20,201 group stockholders, such as estates, trusts, insurance companies, investment funds, churches, schools, and the like. This makes 138,168 owners of the company's stock, but the group stockholders, of course, represent literally millions of people.

These stockholders have invested their savings in this enterprise because they believe in American business—they believe it is a safe investment and will yield them a fair return; they believe the investment will grow with the years.

If anything ever arises to kill this belief of the American people in American business and its future, then we shall no longer have the America we have known throughout our history—an America built by the thrift and initiative of its people. That eventuality we must guard against with all our heart and soul—and by "we" is meant all of us, not just part of us, because the well-being of all the American people depends upon the success of American business.

Certainly the hundreds of thousands of people who have their savings invested in this particular business enterprise are interested in its success; they are interested in obtaining a good return on their investment, otherwise there would be no point in owning the stock.

But they are not the only ones interested in its success. This particular business enterprise employs 106,81 individuals—many of them stockholders too, of course —to carry on its affairs. The 138,168 investors put up the money; the 106,871 employees put it to work. They have a common interest that their cooperative efforts succeed.

We now come to the place in this story, however, when it must be pointed out that there is a growing realization in this country that if the present fiscal policies of our government are persisted in they will make it impossible for American business to succeed—that "the power to tax is the power to destroy."

It might be well, therefore, to take a quick look at what taxation is doing to the enterprise under discussion—and a similar picture could be drawn of almost any typical American business concern.

Corporation taxes were increased in 1950, and were further substantially increased in 1951. The Federal taxes on this corporation in 1951 amounted to $371,000,000. Federal taxes were 34 per cent higher than they would have been at 1950 rates and 77 per cent higher than at 1949 rates.

Total sales of the company in 1951 amounted to $1,553,200,000. This was 18 per cent higher than the previous record year of 1950. But the net earnings of the company in 1951 were $87,000,000 less than in 1950, a drop of 28 per cent.

Total dividends paid to the stockholders during 1951 amounted to $171,000,000, considerably less than half the $371,000,000 paid out in taxes. Federal taxes, in fact, almost equalled the total of $415,000,000 paid out in the form of wages, salaries and employee benefits.

All this caused the dividend per share to the common stockholder to drop from $5.35 in 1950 to $3.55 in 1951, a decrease of more than 33 per cent. Taxes amounted to $8.76 per share in 1951, compared with $5.45 in 1950, an increase of 60 per cent.

The company we are talking talking about—the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company—is perhaps in better position than most to bear up under such burdens, but even so, it is quite clear how present taxation is killing both the incentive to invest and the ability to expand, both of which are cardinal principles of American progress and prosperity.

BASCOM TIMMONS

In Washington

All the indications now seem to point to a certainty that the full blown presidential candidacy of Sen. Robert A. Taft is moving ahead, of which there was great doubt among his managers as recently as January.

That does not mean that the Ohio Republican is assured of nomination by his party — nobody's ready to go out on a limb on that — but it does boost his rating in a way that gives his city backers a renewed assurance.

One reason that Taft is moving ahead is his own aggressive campaign, conducted somewhat in the fashion of Harry S. Truman's whistle stop drive of 1948. Another is that General Douglas MacArthur has steadfastly kept out of Taft's way — a tremendous help because they draw support from the same sources.

You hear plenty of folks saying that Taft will win if he can survive the third ballot, which is simply a way of predicting that he will be nominated if he fights off his opposition. How strong that opposition will be now seems to depend entirely on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, whom his supporters are pleading with to come back and start campaigning. He will have an opportunity to do this by returning to make a report to Congress, and his more optimistic backers say that he will take off his uniform and pitch into the campaign.

That would be late for anybody but a political Lochinvar to accumulate enough delegates to win on an early ballot but it could, as in the case of the late Wendell Willkie in 1940, persuade enough delegates to take a look-see and hold off Taft's nomination for at least three ballots.

The Republicans themselves seem to think that in event of that sort of jockeying it might strike the Republicans that General MacArthur would be a logical compromise candidate and one who could win. Another group says Gov. Earl Warren of California but that is chiefly a western group. Warren has not much following in the middle west and only in spots in the east.

The much touted New Hampshire primary next Tuesday is not expected to shed much light on the confused Republican situation. Voting there might show more to convince the Democrats they have a real contender in Sen. Estes Kefauver, because the Democratic slate of delegates is undoubtedly made up of strong Truman partisans who would be among the leading Democrats of the state, and the principal office holders.

Bigger numbers will come up April 1 when Wisconsin and Nebraska vote, but the action of the Southern states in nominating both Democrat and Republican delegates will now be watched as keenly as the North, because of the announced candidacy of Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia. Taft is claiming a strong hold on the South, including majorities in Texas, Oklahoma, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama — almost every place where there is strong Republican organization. Those delegates may be decisive and Senator Taft certainly needs them if he is to be nominated by the third ballot. But this time they are not office holders because the Republican power has been out of power nationally for any GOP office holders to be left. They are much more apt to slip away if Eisenhower strength is impressive and particularly if he makes an unexpectedly strong showing among the Southern states.

It amounts to this. Taft has been carrying on a bitter fight to combat the insidious doubts that he could be elected. Perhaps he stressed that too much in the early stages of the campaign. In most sections it has been pretty well eliminated, but it crops up now and then. The ultra Taft people now claim over 600 votes on the first ballot, which would be very heavy first ballot vote unless the Eisenhower sentiment crumples.

Mr. Republican is pretty well to the fore, but nobody seems to know how far.

Editorials and Comment

Airline Hearing Scheduled

Possibility of some action on the long-pending application of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce for a north-south airline stopping in Monroe is seen in the announcement that a hearing will be held March 31 in Birmingham, Ala.

The application for a hearing before the civil aeronautics board in Washington, D. C. has been consolidated with a similar application of Southern Airways, Inc.

The Monroe area has long been in need of a north-south airline. Businessmen and others wishing to travel from Monroe to Baton Rouge and New Orleans and from Monroe to Little Rock have been at a great disadvantage by not having any direct airline services going in those directions. There are few cities the size of Monroe that do not have airline services going in at least four directions and there seems to be every reason that Monroe should enjoy the same advantages.

A spokesman for the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce group said he believed there is a good chance of getting the north-south line, with a Monroe stop. City officials have expressed a desire for the line and have indicated they may go to Birmingham for the meeting.

We believe every effort should be made to obtain the line and that the aeronautics board should grant the application.

Purer Water Needed

Now that a contract has been awarded for a big water improvement program in Monroe, costing $1,200,000, it is to be hoped that provision will be made for additional purification of this city's water supply.

It has been a long time since trains of the Missouri Pacific and Illinois Central railroads have been allowed to take on water while stopped in Monroe. As far as water is concerned, these trains pass up Monroe and wait until they get to some town with purer water before taking on a supply.

With the amount of money to be spent on water improvement here it should be possible to get water pure enough and wholesome enough so that not only the railroads but other agencies and individuals would be glad to accept it.

As long as private water companies flourish there is pretty good evidence that the city water supply is not satisfactory. There are many people in Monroe who buy their drinking water in five-gallon jars from sellers who obtain their supply from natural springs or who use artificial means to distill it.

We would like to see Monroe's water as pure as any spring water and as wholesome as any distilled water. When that stage is reached, Monroe can be proud of its water and will thus have another advantage to offer to prospective residents.

Blow Struck At Freedoms

The interests of individual Americans are betrayed by recommendations of the President's board that would make union membership compulsory for all non-operating rail employes. If the railroads conform the right of private contract between employer and employe is nearer extinction.

A union shop, as proposed by the board, allows employment of a non-union worker but he must join the union to hold his job. He must also agree that his dues be deducted by the company before he is paid. Old non-union employes also would be subject to these regulations.

The government is obligated to protect the right of the people. Yet, federal agencies, boards and bureaus within the past few years have persistently promoted the aims of organized labor to the detriment of individual non-union workers.

In the railroad decision, Mr. Truman's hand-picked board ignored more than 100,000 non-union workers. If the recommendations are adopted, these 100,000 men will have to pay union initiation fees, dues, and special assessments —or lose their jobs.

The issue is as simple as that. Workers may have been connected with a company for 40 years, but they will have to be fired if they refuse to join a union.

The right of workers to organize is freely recognized; the privilege is guaranteed by law. But the law also recognizes the right of workers not to organize. This right not to form a union, which is as essential as the right to organize, is being abrogated by appointive boards that misuse their functions to effect social and economic changes.

President Truman's heart bleeds publicly for racial minority groups, and he calls for federal laws to compel their employment. Yet, he would bar from work sizeable minorities who do not wish to join unions.

There is no real difference in barring a man because of his color or creed and barring him because he does not believe in unions. The dstinction drawn by the adminstration is indicative of its warped views on justice.

American workingmen need to take a long-range perspective on this subject. At present, they have some choice in whether they shall join a union or not. If federal regulations become much more stringent, the ability to get and hold a job will depend more upon payment of union dues than ability, energy and ambition.

Once lost, individual freedoms are hard to regain. The right to earn a livelihood is one of the greatest of all freedoms, and it should never be placed in the hands of a Washngton board or a power-seeking labor leader.

The Railway Fiction

Unrest among the employees of the railroads which has resulted in sporadic strikes, now enjoined by the courts, was marked by this comment by a brotherhood official, who was asked whether he was striking against the government:

"The government will have to answer whether this is a strike against it or against the railroad managements. We don't know who our employers are."

The government took possession of the railroads in August, 1950, under wartime authority to seize the roads, if a shutdown loomed, to forestall a national emergency.

Actually private management runs the rails and directs the operating brotherhoods. But under the fiction that the government operates them, the unions have been enjoined from stopping the trains.

This is another illustration of confused thinking at the top in America today. If management and labor cannot arrive at amicable agreements, government could step in to prevent a crippling work stoppage.

It is difficult to see what advantage there is in the government maintaining technical control of the rails. Perhaps Washington has a well-staffed bureau to buttress the fiction that the government is running the railroads, and there is reluctance to dismiss those on the payroll.

As the car-parking problem grows more and more serious how about some scientist finding a new planet?

A doctor says "The man who lives longest never does anything in a hurry." It would be interesting to count the elderly waiters.

Louisiana---Its Community Life

By Ethel McIntyre

If Rip Van Winkle awoke in March after his sleeping spree, he didn't need a calendar to name the month for him. Three days of observation would do the trick for anyone. Cold winds, warm winds, gentle, stormy or in-between, frost, rain, sunshine, blue skies or gray clouds with a snowy look, take turns in making up the March weather chart. In spite of the weather, or maybe because of it the heralds of spring are here. Birds on tour, after passing the winter under a tropical sky, now wing their way northward, eager to begin building their nest in some secluded tree top. Green-tipped willow trees bend and sway in the wind, while flowering shrubs and the soft green carpet of grass seen in sheltered areas, proclaim that spring is near. Across the countryside, the roar of tractors or the strident yell of "Gid-up", mule can be heard as the farmer's break the soil to plant another crop.

Along with these yearly activities the fisherman digs out his tackle. Rods and reels are inspected for flaws, poles, hooks and lines assembled carefully and the bait bucket hung on the gate post so it cannot be forgotten. The desire to spend a day or more in a boat, on a stream fishing is like a strange, contagious malady. Few escape from it's attractive appeal. The business man, sitting at his desk, piled high with unfinished papers, suddenly sits still, looking into space and dreams of a stump-hole out among the cypress knees, in a bayou, where he hooked and lost a big black bass last fall and wonders if the old fellow isn't about ready to jump at the first cast that comes his way again. School teachers almost forget that the sixth day of the week is Saturday and not just fishing-day, while farmers have a two-fold reason for hurrying with the spring plowing, first in order to get the seed in the upturned, mellowed earth and second if they work with enough speed there might be a day for pleasure in between the planting and cultivating period which they can spend in a boat drifting and fishing.

While riding past Clear lake, located twelve miles southeast of Rayville, in Richland parish, a few days ago, I realized the trek, to the streams, of sports-fishermen has begun. Boats dotted the beautiful lake from end to end. Statistics show that more people spend more time fishing than at any other recreation and through winter and summer, spring and fall, at all seasons and in all kinds of weather, someone is fishing, the the season for most fishermen begins in March. All kinds of motor vehicles line the banks of streams from March till December. Today many fishermen own a modern club house, built on the bank of his favorite stream, where he and his family or friends spend a week or more enjoying the relaxation only fishing can bring. However the joy of "camping out" did not originate with the motor car and screened club house. Spending the day and night or several days and nights on the bank of a stream. deep in some wooded area, was as popular forty years ago as it is today. Then every article necessary for camping was carried along. The wagon was carefully packed the night before the planned excursion. bed springs were often tied to the outside of the wagon to make sleeping on the ground more comfortable. Bedding was packed into the wagon, boxes filled with salt, pepper, meal, four and lard were checked and rechecked to be sure that every item needed for the trip had been included. A skillet for frying fish, an iron pot for the camp stew, a dish that was a must on any outing, (more about that later) and an iron kettle which was used to boil coffee, plenty of fishing tackle and corn for the mules. Oh yes, there was the ax. It could not be forgotten, for usually a fallen tree would have to be cleared from the road before the campsite could be reached, or if the tree was too large to be removed in a hurry a right-of-way could be cleared around it. Everyone fell into bed the night before the trip as soon as the wagon was packed. All were up by two o'clock and on their way by three. When packing the wagon, the beds were arranged so the children could sleep on the way (which they never did). The spot selected for the camp was reached early in the morning. The wagon was placed in the shade of a tree, the mules were unhooked and fed, while the unpacking process was left till a later hour. Everyone grabbed a pole and line; a can of bait which had also been brought along, and fished while the morning was cool. Very seldom did a morning pass without catching enough fish for the noon meal which were cleaned and cooked over an open fire. The afternoon was spent in arranging the beds and hanging the mosquito bars for the night's rest. That is most of it was used for that purpose. At least forty minutes or an hour had to be spent hunting a few squirrels to kill for the camp stew, for the evening meal. There were no hunting seasons in those days. And now for that stew. This was my father's specialty. He had selected and packed into the wagon young tender ears of corn, potatoes, tomatoes and onions for this tasty meal. To this he added several squirrels and sometimes a rabbit. If you have never tasted this treat you have missed a treat. After

HOLLYWOOD, March 22 — I wonder if I may be pardoned for voicing one small "I-told-you-so" after reading statistics which indicate that twelve Class A pictures now in release are expected to gross a total of at least $60,000,000 and insure Hollywood's major studios one of the most profitable years in movie history.

The 12 pictures referred to are "Quo Vadis," "The Greatest Show on Earth," "Streetcar Named Desire," "Caruso," "An American in Paris," "David and Bathsheba," "Sailor Beware," "Detective Story," "Place in the Sun," "Bend of the River" and "African Queen." Their combined production cost was approximately $26,000,000.

These pictures range all the way from slapstick comedy ("Sailor Beware") to tragedy ("Place in the Sun" and "Streetcar Named Desire") but they all have one thing in common; they're good pictures, well-written, well produced, well-directed and well-played.

During the past few years, while too many motion picture producers were shedding buckets of tears over the certain demise of the movie industry under the blows dealt it by television, I've contended that TV had little or nothing to do with the situation. In my opinion, the motion picture industry had been made critically ill by its consistent production of bad pictures, and, again in my opinion, often expressed in this column, the only medicine needed to restore it to health was consistent production of good pictures. I think the current developments are proving my point.

There's still room for improvement. The good pictures are, I think, good enough to satisfy the most critical, but they represent too small a percentage of the industry's total output. The next step to insure Hollywood's complete recovery and perfect health should be surgical in nature. It should be the amputation of at least fifty per cent of the Class B product now made simply as "stuffing" for double-feature programs.

Idol chatter: Didyuh know that Robert Mitchum's favorite extracurricular activity is writing verse a la Robert Service? . . . Wondering muse: What producer wouldn't welcome an opportunity to make a musical comedy co-starring Danny Kaye and Betty Hutton? . . Marilyn Monroe says she just loves nature — and why shouldn't she, after seeing in her mirror what nature did for her . . . Add men who would find cause for worry in Eden: William Powell . . . Looks like Cornel Wilde's future career will keep him in Southern California where the weather is warm; a guy who's stripped to the waist as often as he is would freeze up north.

In "Darling, I Am Growing Younger," a picture which promises to be one of the most hilarious comedies of the year, a chimpanzee named Bingo plays an important role. According to the script, he's a laboratory animal owned by Scientist Cary Grant, and, as Grant, who's invented an elixir of youth, grows more juvenile in his actions, Bingo is supposed to imitate him. In the scene being filmed yesterday, Grant and Marilyn Monroe were to enter the laboratory and find Bingo, an empty elixir bottle in his hand, swinging from a chandelier. But the course of production struck a snag. Bingo took one look at the curvaceous Miss Monroe, and, instead of swinging from the chandelier, rushed to her and gave her an enthusiastic hug.

All of which, I suppose, merely proves that it's possible to be a chimp without being a chump.

Ann Baxter is not only one of Hollywood's best actresses; she is also a very clever young business woman who knows how to get what she wants. Just now she wants the role of Lorelei in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." So what? So, before starting her current stint in a picture entitled "My Wife's Best Friend," she talked the producer into letting her blondine her naturally dark hair. The color change means nothing to the role she's playing at the moment, but it will induce studio bosses to visualize her as Lorelei when it's time to cast "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

One of Hollywood's feminine columnists opines in her pillar for today that "it isn't anything worse with Ruth Roman and Mortimer Hall than his desire to teepee in the east, and her desire to continue her career here." That, I'm afraid, is about tantamount to saying that there's nothing wrong with a man except an incurable ailment. I've known a lot of Hollywood marriages that were jeopardized by the same disagreement, and, off-hand, I can't remember one that survived.

Questions And Auswers

Q—In what year was Port Royal, Jamaica, sunk by an earthquake?

A—Port Royal, at the entrance of Kingston harbor, was largely destroyed and sunk under the sea by an earthquake in 1692.

The Broadway Line

There will be 19 more premieres before the dismal season chokes on its final gasp. . . . Beatrice Lillie's enjoyable capers on teevy make you wonder why she hasn't her own sponsor. . . . Lovely Mona Freeman, who plays a 14-year-old in a movie, has a 4-year-old- dghtr. . . . The Gwen Conger listed as co-author (with N. Benchley) on "The Circus of Dr. Lao" play, is John Steinbeck's ex - wife. Her first dramatic try . . . You wouldn't believe it by scanning the long roster of NBC comedians, but net - work execs have talent - scouts searching for more. . . . Sonja Henie's personal accident insurance is for a million via Lloyds. . . . "The Little White Cloud That Cried" is practically "liebeslied" by Kreisler and Rachmaninoff. . . . How's the movie biz? The Music Hall and Roxy grossed over a quarter-of-a-mill last week.

When Judy Garland arrived in town to begin her "comeback" at the Palace the newspapers were invited to interview her. Only one lad showed up. . . . After the opening show and the raves that followed — interviewers had to apply in writing for months. . . . Pinza is one opera star who really works on his programs. Most of the others render a song and retire. Ezio pitches a full 9 innings. . . . Ella Fitzgerald, now at the Paramount, starts a concert tour in Sweden on the 28th. . . . The girl who did the bits with Will Rogers in the Ziegfeld shows was beautiful Mary Lou Carstairs. In the film about him now being made the girl is June Robbins, daughter of Mary Lou. . . . Theater Arts mag has the sassiest feature. The author heckles the drama critics. They suspect he is confrere R. S.

The Theodore Roosevelt book, "No room for Mr. Roosevelt," was adapted for a teevy show. The sponsor, a rabid Republican, made sure witnesses wouldn't think it was about FDR, so he had them change the title to "Make Way For Teddy!" . . . The legit theatre press agents union will start their fireworks early this year. The old-timers will fight the heavy influx of apprentices. . . Ann Sheridan, John Lund and Howard Duff (the stars of "Steel Town") arrive soon to plug it. Reason: They all have a chunk of it. . . In February, newcomer Johnny ("Cry") Ray earned $57,000 from recording royalties. . . . Gable's divorce terms with Lady Ashley call for annual payments until she re-weds. Not one big package of coin. . . "Something To Live For" is doing big biz at the Normandie on 57th Street. Proving that the patrons are the best critics. It got mixed reviews.

Vera Ellen's terpsichore (in black negligee and nylons) in "The Belle of New York" flicker is the scene you remember. . . . Another addition to teevy eye-lotion is Judy Johnson on the Sid Caesar shindig. . . . Martin & Lewis will gross at least $2 million this year. . . . They could get lots more zing into D. Garroway's "Today" stanza by skipping the repetitious news bulletins. . . . "The Gandy Dancers Ball" is one of Frankie Laine's best sing-a-lings. . . . Portia Nelson's accompanist at the Blue Angel (Billy Roy) did the score for "Maggie" due in the Fall. The musical is based on the play, "What Every Woman Knows". . . The hottest ticket in town should be the Sadler's Wells Ballet when it opens at the Warner (Strand) soon . . . You haven't seen a poodle cut until you've seen Sophie Tucker's.

Variety revealed that a one-minute commershill on "Your Show of Shows" costs a mere $16,000. . . . Lindsay & Crouse are making like Rodgers ⅞ Hammerstein. Their steenth production, "One Bright Day," got raves in the tryout burgs. . . . Fifteen people showed up for a premiere of a downtown spot featuring a "name" attraction. . . . Bogart and Hepburn, who received no wages for "The African Queen" flicker, will split terrific profits . . . "Dragnet" is one whodunit that seems to be written with a typewriter instead of a mimeograph. . . . Shelley Winters is the best press agent her boy friends have. Her Italian flame appeared in the film hit, "Bitter Rice," but was unknown here until she made him her darling . . . Although their show, "Two On the Aisle," prospered, producer Arthur Lesser and star Bert Lahr no longer acknowledge each other's existence.

It takes 150,000 sales of recordings to rate a disc a hit—and that after hefty promotion. Tony Bennett's next Columbia platter, "Sleepless," already enjoys an advance sale of 100,000. . . Many movie owners are dropping their theater-television setups. No profit in it. . . . The cops won't appreciate this in "Deadline U. S. A.": A detective asks: "Can't you tell the difference between a cop and a hoodlum?" . . . To which a reporter sasses: "Not in this town!" . . . Oddest radio fluff of the season: Alabamian Tallulah, saluting an Atlanta radio station, called Georgia the "beef" instead of the "peach" State. Enough to make Georgia secede from NBC. . . Networks are dizzy trying to figure a way to keep the proanity (uttered by wrestling match ringsiders) out of the mikes . . . The legit theater has lost 9 houses to teevy. More to go. Only 29 left.

AN AMERICAN ENTERPRISE

There is a big American business enterprise, prominent and important throughout the history of our nation, that is currently owned by 117,967 individual stockholders and 20,201 group stockholders, such as estates, trusts, insurance companies, investment funds, churches, schools, and the like. This makes 138,168 owners of the company's stock, but the group stockholders, of course, represent literally millions of people.

These stockholders have invested their savings in this enterprise because they believe in American business—they believe it is a safe investment and will yield them a fair return; they believe the investment will grow with the years.

If anything ever arises to kill this belief of the American people in American business and its future, then we shall no longer have the America we have known throughout our history—an America built by the thrift and initiative of its people. That eventuality we must guard against with all our heart and soul—and by "we" is meant all of us, not just part of us, because the well-being of all the American people depends upon the success of American business.

Certainly the hundreds of thousands of people who have their savings invested in this particular business enterprise are interested in its success; they are interested in obtaining a good return on their investment, otherwise there would be no point in owning the stock.

But they are not the only ones interested in its success. This particular business enterprise employs 106,81 individuals—many of them stockholders too, of course —to carry on its affairs. The 138,168 investors put up the money; the 106,871 employees put it to work. They have a common interest that their cooperative efforts succeed.

We now come to the place in this story, however, when it must be pointed out that there is a growing realization in this country that if the present fiscal policies of our government are persisted in they will make it impossible for American business to succeed—that "the power to tax is the power to destroy."

It might be well, therefore, to take a quick look at what taxation is doing to the enterprise under discussion—and a similar picture could be drawn of almost any typical American business concern.

Corporation taxes were increased in 1950, and were further substantially increased in 1951. The Federal taxes on this corporation in 1951 amounted to $371,000,000. Federal taxes were 34 per cent higher than they would have been at 1950 rates and 77 per cent higher than at 1949 rates.

Total sales of the company in 1951 amounted to $1,553,200,000. This was 18 per cent higher than the previous record year of 1950. But the net earnings of the company in 1951 were $87,000,000 less than in 1950, a drop of 28 per cent.

Total dividends paid to the stockholders during 1951 amounted to $171,000,000, considerably less than half the $371,000,000 paid out in taxes. Federal taxes, in fact, almost equalled the total of $415,000,000 paid out in the form of wages, salaries and employee benefits.

All this caused the dividend per share to the common stockholder to drop from $5.35 in 1950 to $3.55 in 1951, a decrease of more than 33 per cent. Taxes amounted to $8.76 per share in 1951, compared with $5.45 in 1950, an increase of 60 per cent.

The company we are talking talking about—the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company—is perhaps in better position than most to bear up under such burdens, but even so, it is quite clear how present taxation is killing both the incentive to invest and the ability to expand, both of which are cardinal principles of Amercian progress and prosperity.

BASCOM TIMMONS

In Washington

All the indications now seem to point to a certainty that the full blown presidential candidacy of Sen. Robert A. Taft is moving ahead, of which there was great doubt among his managers as recently as January.

That does not mean that the Ohio Republican is assured of nomination by his party — nobody's ready to go out on a limb on that — but it does boost his rating in a way that gives his city backers a renewed assurance.

One reason that Taft is moving ahead is his own aggressive campaign, conducted somewhat in the fashion of Harry S. Truman's whistle stop drive of 1948. Another is that General Douglas MacArthur has steadfastly kept out of Taft's way — a tremendous help because they draw support from the same sources.

You hear plenty of folks saying that Taft will win if he can survive the third ballot, which is simply a way of predicting that he will be nominated if he fights off his opposition. How strong that opposition will be now seems to depend entirely on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, whom his supporters are pleading with to come back and start campaigning. He will have an opportunity to do this by returning to make a report to Congress, and his more optimistic backers say that he will take off his uniform and pitch into the campaign.

That would be late for anybody but a political Lochinvar to accumulate enough delegates to win on an early ballot but it could, as in the case of the late Wendell Willkie in 1940, persuade enough delegates to take a look-see and hold off Taft's nomination for at least three ballots.

The Republicans themselves seem to think that in event of that sort of jockeying it might strike the Republicans that General MacArthur would be a logical compromise candidate and one who could win. Another group says Gov. Earl Warren of California but that is chiefly a western group. Warren has not much following in the middle west and only in spots in the east.

The much touted New Hampshire primary next Tuesday is not expected to shed much light on the confused Republican situation. Voting there might show more to convince the Democrats they have a real contender in Sen. Estes Kefauver, because the Democratic slate of delegates is undoubtedly made up of strong Truman partisans who would be among the leading Democrats of the state, and the principal office holders.

Bigger numbers will come up April 1 when Wisconsin and Nebraska vote, but the action of the Southern states in nominating both Democrat and Republican delegates will now be watched as keenly as the North, because of the announced candidacy of Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia. Taft is claiming a strong hold on the South, including majorities in Texas, Oklahoma, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama — almost every place where there is strong Republican organization. Those delegates may be decisive and Senator Taft certainly needs them if he is to be nominated by the third ballot. But this time they are not office holders because the Republican power has been out of power nationally for any GOP office holders to be left. They are much more apt to slip away if Eisenhower strength is impressive and particularly if he makes an unexpectedly strong showing among the Southern states.

It amounts to this. Taft has been carrying on a bitter fight to combat the insidious doubts that he could be elected. Perhaps he stressed that too much in the early stages of the campaign. In most sections it has been pretty well eliminated, but it crops up now and then. The ultra Taft people now claim over 600 votes on the first ballot, which would be very heavy first ballot vote unless the Eisenhower sentiment crumples.

Mr. Republican is pretty well to the fore, but nobody seems to know how far.

BIBLE THOUGHTS:

The Lord is righteous; for I have rebelled against his commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity — Lamentations 1:18.

He is truly great in charity. He is truly great that is little in himself, and maketh no account of any height of honor. And he is truly learned that doeth the will of God, and forsaketh his own will.
—Thomas a Kempis.

For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps.
—I Peter 2:21.

It Makes Your Dollars Feel Important too

The Buick pictured here can match price tags with a lot of cars smaller in size and horsepower and win.

But that only gives you a hint as to what a whale of a buy it is.

Like costlier Buicks, it has the wide-open view of a one-piece windshield.

Like costlier Buicks, it has the gleaming distinction of sweepspear styling.

Like costlier Buicks, it has smart new fabrics and door trim.

Like all other Buicks, it has the extra safety of new, long-lasting Wide-Band brakes.

Like all other Buicks, it has the sure-footed, road-hugging, even-keeled steadiness of the Million Dollar Ride—a combination of 15 engineering features including a husky X-braced frame, end-sway and side-roll stabilizers, Hi-Poised engine mountings, Permi-Firm steering and soft coil springs for every wheel.

And like all other Buicks, it has a power-packed Fireball 8 Engine—a high-compression valve-in-head that gets extra wallop, extra mileage from every gallon of gasoline.

So we think that you'll feel mighty important bossing around this smart-stepping smoothie.

And when you check the price we're asking against the field—we think your dollars are going to feel mighty important in buying power too.

Hadn't you better look into this soon?

Parish Health Unit Survey Is Made By Women Voters

Report Intended To Inform Citizens Of Services Rendered

The report given herewith will be of interest to many readers because of the many important facts that are revealed.

Report of
Survey of Ouachita Parish Health Unit By
League of women voters of Monroe, Louisiana.
Mrs. A. Dent Tisdale, chairman Of Committee
Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher
Mrs. N. Klam
Miss Myrtle Rodgers

This is the third in the series of surveys being made by the League of Women Voters as part of a two-year project.

The Ouachita Parish Health Unit serves the entire parish including the cities of Monroe and West Monroe. This survey made by the committee consisted of an interview with Dr. W. C. Summer, director of the health unit of Ouachita parish where all the figures and facts about the unit were provided by Dr. Summer. An interview with Mr. Tom Taggert, superintendent of the department of garbage collection for the city of Monroe resulted in the information concerning the collection and disposal of the garbage.

As a result of the information secured you will find at the end of this report some recommendations made by members of the League of Women Voters. This survey is not intended to evaluate the work of the health unit, but merely to inform the citizen as to the services it renders, the amount that is spent for these services and the number of people employed. It is evident that if we are to enlarge the services more money will be required.

The budget for the year 1951-52 of the Ouachita Parish Health Unit was $72,108.00. Of this amount $47,588.00 was contributed by state and federal government. Of this amount $25,290.00 was contributed locally as follows:

Police Jury, $12,210.00; City of Monroe, $10,000.00; City of West Monroe, $1,080.00; Ouachita Parish School Board, $1,000.00; Monroe City School Board, $1,000.00. Total $25,290.00.

The building is owned by the City of Monroe and no rent is charged. A 50 per cent discount is given the Unit on lights and water.

The approximate population served by the Health Unit is 74,276 people. This is the population of Ouachita parish according to the 1950 census.

The amount spent per person in this parish is $1.00. The amount recommended is $1.75.

The staff of the Health Unit consists of the following: (All are under the merit system except the part time technician, janitor and maids.) 1. Director — full time; 2. Five nurses; 3. Four Sanitarians; 4. One X-Ray Technician; 5. Two stenographer clerks; 6. V. D. investigator; 7. Two typists; 8. One clerk; 9. One switchboard operator: 10. One janitor; 11. Two maids.

Dr. W. E. Kramer serves one-half day for five days a week as clinician for tuberculosis.

There are two Boards of Health: Monroe City Health Board: Dr. D. T. Milam, chairman; Dr. A. Dent Tisdale, Dr. Henry Guerriero, Mr. Fred Hightower, appointed by City Council; Ex-Officio, Mayor John Coon appointed by City Council.

Ouachita Parish Board of Health: Dr. A. G. McHenry, chairman; Dr. Glenn Gallaspy, Dr. Frank Rizzo, Mr. Tom Hicks, appointed by Police Jury.

These Boards of Health meet when called. The Director of Health Unit is appointed by the State Board of Health subject to the approval of these local health boards. The directors then appoint the staff with the approval of the Health Department and Merit System Council.

Activities of Health Department:

1. Control of communicable diseases: no pacards are used, except for small pox and cholera. Cases are adequately taken care of in hospitals and homes. Ouachita parish had 24 cases of polio in 1951, three cases of typhoid, two cases of undulant fever, 21 cases of hookworm, two cases of diphtheria. This was the number reported to the Health Unit.

2. Tuberculosis control: There were 50 cases of tuberculosis in 1951. The Health Unit holds one clinic a week for air injections. X-Rays are made at clinic, patients are sent to Cooley's Sanitarium for treatment. High school students are not X-rayed unless there are contacts.

3. Venereal disease control: One clinic a week. Gonorrhea is treated locally. There were 170 cases in 1951. Syphilis is sent to rapid treatment center at Pineville. In 1950 there were 233 cases. Patients are examined only when referred by police or physicians. The unit gets reports on these diseases from selective service board.

4. Prenatal, postnatal and maternal hygiene: Parish is divided in districts. Nurse serves her own district. Two prenatal clinics are held each week. They must be referred by physician or midwife. There are 23 colored midwives in the parish. The health unit operates the maternity clinic. Delivery services operated by the Catholic Daughters and Community Chest.

5. Infant and pre-school hygiene: Clinic is held once a week with doctor in charge. Pre-school round up is conducted. Local doctors participate.

6. School Hygiene: Small pox vaccination is recommended. It is recommended that all children have diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus immunization. All first grade children not already examined are checked by the doctors.

7. Adult hygiene: Educational films and literature available.

8. Crippled children's services: Two clinics a month for this district. Operations, hospital care and the services of medical social workers are provided.

9. Cancer and tumor services: No cancer clinic in this parish, but literature and films provided. There were 13 cases of cancer reported in 1951.

10. Milk and food protection:

Milk: 98 per cent of the milk used in Ouachita Parish is pasteurized. There is no pasteurization ordinance. All dairy barns and milk houses are inspected monthly. 99 per cent of the milking is done automatically. There is an inspection of cleanliness. There are 32 dairies in Ouachita Parish, four milk pasteurization plants and the unit collects yearly about 1725 samples of milk or an average of 144 per month.

Food: All establishments serving food must have a permit. The health department can close an establishment if it fails to meet requirements. Inspections are made monthly, if possible. Sterlization of glasses in drug stores and eating places is required. The health department does not issue food handler's cards. There is no provision requiring food handler's to have chest X-Ray's and blood tests, but they are encouraged to do so. Food handler's are not required to pass health tests. There is not a graduate veterinarian for inspecting meat and milk.

There are in Ouachita parish the following establishments handling food: 1. Grocery stores, 193; 2. Restaurants and school cafeterias, 185; 3. Beverage bars, 63 4. Bottling plants, 7; 5. Bakeries and pastry shops, 13; 6. Wholesale groceries, 6; 7. Packing plants and slaughter houses, 8; 8. Candy manufacturing plants, 12.

11. Vital statistics: Births must be registered in ten days. Deaths in three days. Permit for burial must be secured.

12. Water supply: Chlorine, soda ash and ammonia are used for purification. Tests are made every day by health unit. Samples from various sections of the city are collected and tested. 40 a month from Monroe. 15 a month from West Monroe. Twenty-two other public and semi-public water supplies are sampled monthly and semi-monthly. The water supply is sufficient for normal requirements. Monroe uses more than five million gallons of water per day. West Monroe more than two million. There is not provision for storage capacity. Water from pump wells and bayou is used.

13. Sewerage: No provision is made for sewage disposal other than dumping it in the river. The sewage is not treated before disposal.

The Ouachita River is polluted because of sewage and industrial wastes is deposited in it. The state and federal government have control over this problem.

14. Garbage: Garbage is collected by the city of Monroe and thrown on the city dump which is located at 18th street. The city has 18 trucks, five of which are closed.

Garbage is collected every day in the business section and twice a week in the residential section.

There is not a city ordinance requiring all garbage cans to have covers.

The City of Monroe does not have an incinerator. Had one, but has been out of use for four years.

15. Rat Control: Monroe does not have continuous rodent control program. The buildings are not inspected by Public Health Exterminator.

16. Laboratory: Separate and apart from the Parish Health Unit, although in the same building is the laboratory. It is called the regional laboratory. Serves this section of the state. It is one of the branch laboratories under the State Health Department. The principal work is routine testing of milk, water and examination of stools, sputum, and blood specimens. Examinations are made for diphtheria, typhoid fever, undulant fever, tularemia, malaria, syphillis, intestinal parasites, etc. In 1951 there were 30,549 specimens from Ouachita parish examined in the regional laboratory.

Signed: Health Committee, Local Projects, League of Women Voters of Monroe: Mrs. A. Dent Tisdale, Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher, Miss Myrtle Rodgers, Mrs. N. Klam.

Recommendations to Committee On Survey of Health Unit

1. That teachers, janitors and students be X-Rayed for tuberculosis. This would require a law.
2. That an ordinance be passed to pasteurize all milk.
3. That a law be passed to require all food handlers to pass a health test.
4. That a law be passed to require rodent control.
5. That a law be passed to require a graduate veterinarian to inspect milk and meat.
6. That a law be passed to require all food handlers to carry cards.
7. That provision be made for dental clinic to serve white and colored.
8. That a law be passed to require sellers of vegetables to wash the vegetables in water that has an approved source.
9. That the city pass an ordinance requiring covered garbage cans, and that the law be enforced.
10. That the city provide sanitary land fill for the disposal of garbage.
11. That garbage be picked up twice a week in all sections of the city.
12. That provision be made to treat the sewage before disposal.

Louisiana—Its Community Life

By Ethel McIntyre

supper stories were told around a log fire, that furnished most of the night's light and warmth too when the air was chilly. Next came bed time with the stars gleaming through the tree tops and the occasional chirp of a night bird to lull us to sleep.

I can remember no joy like that of awakening in the morning, with the sun's rays filtering through the leaves of the trees, causing the dew drops collected on the mosquito bar to glisten like diamonds and listening to the ka-plunk of the frogs in the water, with birds singing gaily and the smell of French fried potatoes, hot biscuits cooked in a Dutch oven and coffee boiling. Today's club houses provide more comfort with less labor, but much of the joy of "camping out" has been lost because of them.

SURRENDER MARKER GUARDED

LUENEBURG HEATH, Germany (AP)—Four East German refugees guard a heavy granite stone that marks the spot where German Admiral Friedeburg surrendered to British Field Marshal Montgomery May 4, 1945, at the close of World War II.

The guards, all over 50, stand watch in six-hour shifts, at the site, located on top of a lonely hill. Originally, wodden markers were erected, but these were stolen from time to time, possibly by Germans who resented a reminder to their defeat.

Some 10,000 persons a year visit "Victory Hill." Many of them take pictures of the stone.

But that only gives you a hint as to what a whale of a buy it is.

Like costlier Buicks, it has the wide-open view of a one-piece windshield.

Like costlier Buicks, it has the gleaming distinction of sweepspear styling.

Like costlier Buicks, it has smart new fabrics and door trim.

Like all other Buicks, it has the extra safety of new, long-lasting Wide-Band brakes.

Like all other Buicks, it has the sure-footed, road-hugging, even-keeled steadiness of the Million Dollar Ride—a combination of 15 engineering features including a husky X-braced frame, end-sway and side-roll stabilizers, Hi-Poised engine mountings, Permi-Firm steering and soft coil springs for every wheel.

And like all other Buicks, it has a power-packed Fireball 8 Engine—a high-compression valve-in-head that gets extra wallop, extra mileage from every gallon of gasoline.

So we think that you'll feel mighty important bossing around this smart-stepping smoothie.

And when you check the price we're asking against the field—we think your dollars are going to feel mighty important in buying power too.

Hadn't you better look into this soon?

Parish Health Unit Survey Is Made By Women Voters

Report Intended To Inform Citizens Of Services Rendered

The report given herewith will be of interest to many readers because of the many important facts that are revealed.

Report of
Survey of Ouachita Parish Health Unit By
League of women voters of Monroe, Louisiana.
Mrs. A. Dent Tisdale, chairman Of Committee
Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher
Mrs. N. Klam
Miss Myrtle Rodgers

This is the third in the series of surveys being made by the League of Women Voters as part of a two-year project.

The Ouachita Parish Health Unit serves the entire parish including the cities of Monroe and West Monroe. This survey made by the committee consisted of an interview with Dr. W. C. Summer, director of the health unit of Ouachita parish where all the figures and facts about the unit were provided by Dr. Summer. An interview with Mr. Tom Taggert, superintendent of the department of garbage collection for the city of Monroe resulted in the information concerning the collection and disposal of the garbage.

As a result of the information secured you will find at the end of this report some recommendations made by members of the League of Women Voters. This survey is not intended to evaluate the work of the health unit, but merely to inform the citizen as to the services it renders, the amount that is spent for these services and the number of people employed. It is evident that if we are to enlarge the services more money will be required.

The budget for the year 1951-52 of the Ouachita Parish Health Unit was $72,108.00. Of this amount $47-588.00 was contributed by state and federal government. Of this amount $25,290.00 was contributed locally as follows:

Police Jury, $12,210.00; City of Monroe, $10,000.00; City of West Monroe, $1,080.00; Ouachita Parish School Board, $1,000.00; Monroe City School Board, $1,000.00. Total $25,290.00.

The building is owned by the City of Monroe and no rent is charged. A 50 per cent discount is given the Unit on lights and water.

The approximate population served by the Health Unit is 74,276 people. This is the population of Ouachita parish according to the 1950 census.

The amount spent per person in this parish is $1.00. The amount recommended is $1.75.

The staff of the Health Unit consists of the following: (All are under the merit system except the part time technician, janitor and maids.) 1. Director — full time; 2. Five nurses; 3. Four Sanitarians; 4. One X-Ray Technician; 5. Two stenographer clerks; 6. V. D. investigator; 7. Two typists; 8. One clerk; 9. One switchboard operator: 10. One janitor; 11. Two maids.

Dr. W. E. Kramer serves one-half day for five days a week as clinician for tuberculosis.

There are two Boards of Health: Monroe City Health Board: Dr. D. T. Milam, chairman; Dr. A. Dent Tisdale, Dr. Henry Guerriero, Mr. Fred Hightower, appointed by City Council; Ex-Officio, Mayor John Coon appointed by City Council.

Ouachita Parish Board of Health: Dr. A. G. McHenry, chairman; Dr. Glenn Gallaspy, Dr. Frank Rizzo, Mr. Tom Hicks, appointed by Police Jury.

These Boards of Health meet when called. The Director of Health Unit is appointed by the State Board of Health subject to the approval of these local health boards. The directors then appoint the staff with the approval of the Health Department and Merit System Council.

Activities of Health Department:

1. Control of communicable diseases: no pacards are used, except for small pox and cholera. Cases are adequately taken care of in hospitals and homes. Ouachita parish had 24 cases of polio in 1951, three cases of typhoid, two cases of undulant fever, 21 cases of hookworm, two cases of diphtheria. This was the number reported to the Health Unit.

2. Tuberculosis control: There were 50 cases of tuberculosis in 1951. The Health Unit holds one clinic a week for air injections. X-Rays are made at clinic, patients are sent to Cooley's Sanitarium for treatment. High school students are not X-rayed unless there are contacts.

3. Venereal disease control: One clinic a week. Gonorrhea is treated locally. There were 170 cases in 1951. Syphilis is sent to rapid treatment center at Pineville. In 1950 there were 233 cases. Patients are examined only when referred by police or physicians. The unit gets reports on these diseases from selective service board.

4. Prenatal, postnatal and maternal hygiene: Parish is divided in districts. Nurse serves her own district. Two prenatal clinics are held each week. They must be referred by physician or midwife. There are 23 colored midwives in the parish. The health unit operates the maternity clinic. Delivery services operated by the Catholic Daughters and Community Chest.

5. Infant and pre-school hygiene: Clinic is held once a week with doctor in charge. Pre-school round up is conducted. Local doctors participate.

6. School Hygiene: Small pox vaccination is recommended. It is recommended that all children have diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus immunization. All first grade children not already examined are checked by the doctors.

7. Adult hygiene: Educational films and literature available.

8. Crippled children's services: Two clinics a month for this district. Operations, hospital care and the services of medical social workers are provided.

9. Cancer and tumor services: No cancer clinic in this parish, but literature and films provided. There were 13 cases of cancer reported in 1951.

10. Milk and food protection:

Milk: 98 per cent of the milk used in Ouachita Parish is pasteurized. There is no pasteurization ordinance. All dairy barns and milk houses are inspected monthly. 99 per cent of the milking is done automatically. There is an inspection of cleanliness. There are 32 dairies in Ouachita Parish, four milk pasteurization plants and the unit collects yearly about 1725 samples of milk or an average of 144 per month.

Food: All establishments serving food must have a permit. The health department can close an establishment if it fails to meet requirements. Inspections are made monthly, if possible. Sterlization of glasses in drug stores and eating places is required. The health department does not issue food handler's cards. There is no provision requiring food handler's to have chest X-Ray's and blood tests, but they are encouraged to do so. Food handler's are not required to pass health tests. There is not a graduate veterinarian for inspecting meat and milk.

There are in Ouachita parish the following establishments handling food: 1. Grocery stores, 193; 2. Restaurants and school cafeterias, 185; 3. Beverage bars, 63 4. Bottling plants, 7; 5. Bakeries and pastry shops, 13; 6. Wholesale groceries, 6; 7. Packing plants and slaughter houses, 8; 8. Candy manufacturing plants, 12.

11. Vital statistics: Births must be registered in ten days. Deaths in three days. Permit for burial must be secured.

12. Water supply: Chlorine, soda ash and ammonia are used for purification. Tests are made every day by health unit. Samples from various sections of the city are collected and tested. 40 a month from Monroe. 15 a month from West Monroe. Twenty - two other public and semi - public water supplies are sampled monthly and semi-monthly. The water supply is sufficient for normal requirements. Monroe uses more than five million gallons of water per day. West Monroe more than two million. There is not provision for storage capacity. Water from pump wells and bayou is used.

13. Sewerage: No provision is made for sewage disposal other than dumping it in the river. The sewage is not treated before disposal.

The Ouachita River is polluted because of sewage and industrial wastes is deposited in it. The state and federal government have control over this problem.

14. Garbage: Garbage is collected by the city of Monroe and thrown on the city dump which is located at 18th street. The city has 18 trucks, five of which are closed.

Garbage is collected every day in the business section and twice a week in the residential section.

There is not a city ordinance requiring all garbage cans to have covers.

The City of Monroe does not have an incinerator. Had one, but has been out of use for four years.

15. Rat Control: Monroe does not have continuous rodent control program. The buildings are not inspected by Public Health Exterminator.

16. Laboratory: Separate and apart from the Parish Health Unit, although in the same building is the laboratory. It is called the regional laboratory. Serves this section of the state. It is one of the branch laboratories under the State Health Department. The principal work is routine testing of milk, water and examination of stools, sputum, and blood specimens. Examinations are made for diphtheria, typhoid fever, undulant fever, tularemia, malaris, syphilis, intestinal parasites, etc. In 1951 there were 30,549 specimens from Ouachita parish examined in the regional laboratory.

Signed: Health Committee, Local Projects, League of Women Voters of Monroe: Mrs. A. Dent Tisdale, Mrs. J. Hunter Thatcher, Miss Myrtle Rodgers, Mrs. N. Klam.

Recommendations to Committee On Survey of Health Unit

1. That teachers, janitors and students be X-Rayed for tuberculosis. This would require a law.
2. That an ordinance be passed to pasteurize all milk.
3. That a law be passed to require all food handlers to pass a health test.
4. That a law be passed to require rodent control.
5. That a law be passed to require a graduate veterinarian to inspect milk and meat.
6. That a law be passed to require all food handlers to carry cards.
7. That provision be made for dental clinic to serve white and colored.
8. That a law be passed to require sellers of vegetables to wash the vegetables in water that has an approved source.
9. That the city pass an ordinance requiring covered garbage cans, and that the law be enforced.
10. That the city provide sanitary land fill for the disposal of garbage.
11. That garbage be picked up twice a week in all sections of the city.
12. That provision be made to treat the sewage before disposal.

supper stories were told around a log fire, that furnished most of the night's light and warmth too when the air was chilly. Next came bed time with the stars gleaming through the tree tops and the occasional chirp of a night bird to lull us to sleep.

I can remember no joy like that of awakening in the morning, with the sun's rays filtering through the leaves of the trees, causing the dew drops collected on the mosquito bar to glisten like diamonds and listening to the ka-plunk of the frogs in the water, with birds singing gaily and the smell of French fried potatoes, hot biscuits cooked in a Dutch oven and coffee boiling. Today's club houses provide more comfort with less labor, but much of the joy of "camping out" has been lost because of them.

SURRENDER MARKER GUARDED

LUENEBURG HEATH, Germany (AP)—Four East German refugees guard a heavy granite stone that marks the spot where German Admiral Friedeburg surrendered to British Field Marshal Montgomery May 4, 1945, at the close of World War II.

The guards, all over 50, stand watch in six-hour shifts, at the site, located on top of a lonely hill. Originally, wodden markers were erected, but these were stolen from time to time, possibly by Germans who resented a reminder to their defeat.

Some 10,000 persons a year visit "Victory Hill." Many of them take pictures of the stone.

ROB'T. J. STEWART

ROBT. STEWART IN PULPIT HERE

Local Youth To Give Sermon At New Presbyterian Church

Robert J. Stewart, junior year student at Southwestern at Memphis, Tenn., will supply the pulpit of the new Presbyterian church at 11 a. m. this morning in the college auditorium.

He is a native of Monroe. He attended the city schools and junior high at Neville but later transferred to Ouachita Parish High where he was graduated. While in high school he was a member of the Glee club, the Ensemble, Key and Jeffersonian clubs.

He served in the navy and when at the naval air base he served in the chaplain's office for two and a half years. He also directed the air station choir Sundays in Pensacola.

His family always deeply consecrated Presbyterians, his father an elder in the Monroe Presbyterian Church, Robert felt called to the ministry and in this he was greatly strengthened and encouraged by the pastor, Rev. Ernest Duncan Holloway.

Completing armed service, Stewart entered Northeast Junior College here for a year and at the end of that time, transferred to Southwestern in Memphis.

Last year a commission from Arkansas Presbytery came to the college seeking ministerial students to supply small churches as student pastors. Ultimately Stewart was chosen to supply at the Presbyterian church in Bassett, Ark., He is now serving a second year there and also preaches at Osceola, Ark.

After graduating at Southwestern he plans to enter the Presbyterian Theological seminary in Austin, Tex.

The new Presbyterian Church will, at the morning service today discuss and probably vote on the name of the church and also may decide on its location.

MISSION WILL BE CONDUCTED

St. Matthew's Church To Have Annual Period Of Consecration

Beginning March 23 at the Sunday morning Masses and lasting through March 29, St. Matthew's Catholic Church here in Monroe will sponsor its annual Mission to be preached by the Reverend Clement Martin, O. F. M., it has been announced by the Right Reverend Pastor of St. Matthew's, Monsignor Marsh.

The purpose of this annual Mission in most Catholic parishes is to give all the parishioners an opportunity to set aside one week a year during which they may learn more about their religious obligations towards God during the past year. It is a concentrated period during which the people may renew and revive to a greater degree their daily way of life in the light of their Christian duties.

At all the Masses on Sunday Morning, Father Clement, a well-known and experienced preacher, will give the introductory sermon. He will preach again at the 7:30 services Sunday evening. Again he is scheduled to give a short instruction each morning after the 6:30 and 7:45 Masses. Each evening at 7:30 this preacher will conduct religious services consisting of a sermon, special prayers, and Benediction of the Most Holy Sacrament.

"We have been praying during the past few weeks for the success of this mission," said Monsignor Marsh. pastor, "and know that the good people of Monroe will take this opportunity in these troubled times to come still closed to God by faithfully attending all the functions of the mission. We know that all the parishioners will benefit from the excellent sermons planned by our well-known and most competent Missionary, Father Clement, the pastor of the Church of the Little Flower in Monroe."

MEN FACE TERM IN STATE PRISON

Aggravated Rape, And Negligent Homicide Cases Tried

JONESVILLE, March 22.—(Special)—Three men tried in seventh district court on felony charges this week were found guilty, and face prison terms ranging from life downward. Sentences have not yet been imposed by Judge Jesse C. McGee, but are expected to be meted out next week.

Hulan C. Rutledge of Levelland, Tex., being tried for aggravated rape of a 17-year-old Catahoula girl on December 22, was found guilty as charged without capital punishment.

Ike Brackens Negro, on trial for the murder of his wife, Ella, on Christmas night, was found guilty of manslaughter.

Rube Robinson, Negro, charged with negligent homicide in the traffic death of Bunion H. Posey, was found guilty as charged.

Rutledge and Brackens were tried by jury, but a jury trial was waived in the case of Robinson.

Rutledge, who has a long prison record behind him, is also wanted in Richland parish and in Texas on charges of rape. Under the law, Rutledge will automatically get a life sentence to Angola.

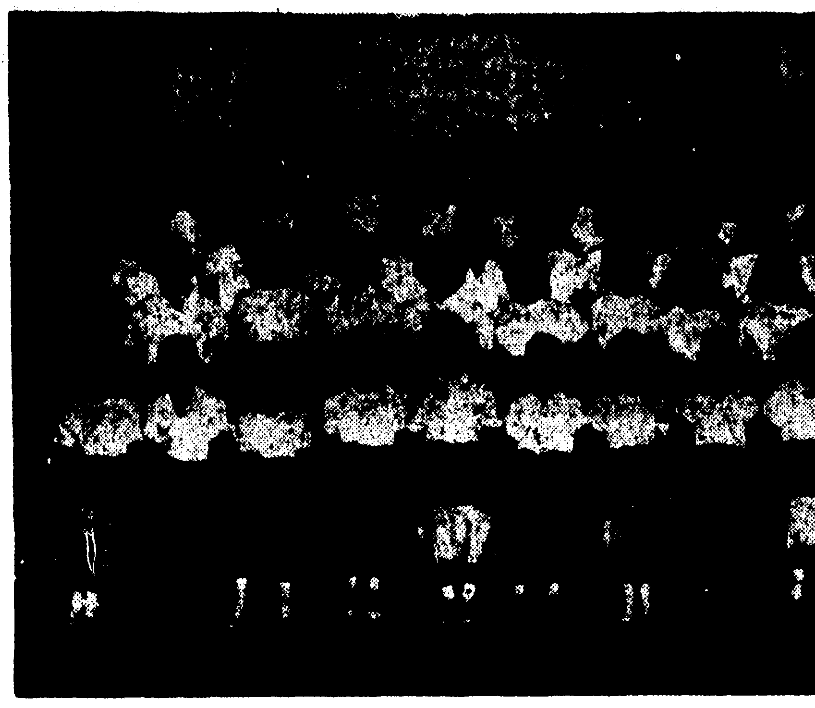
WOODLAWN CHOIR SUPERIOR



The Woodlawn Community is proud of the superior rating received by the Woodlawn Elementary School mixed chorus at the Music Festival in Ruston.

This is the first year the school has been in existence; the first year these forty - eight students have sung together; and the first time many of them have ever sung in any kind of a musical organization.

The judges especially praised their intonation, blend and balance of voices, dynamics, naturalness, purity of vowels, and stage department.

The Chorus has had other interesting activities during the year. They presented a highly successful operetta at Christmas time, and have sung for P. - T. A. meetings.

Mrs. Gladys Cox Seymour is director of the Woodlawn group.

9 TONGUES ARE HIS STOREHOUSE

Student In Tech Has Mastery Of This Number Languages

RUSTON, March 22.—(Special)—If the command of three or four languages makes a person a linquist, then what is a person who speaks nine languages?

An air force clerk-typist trainee at Louisiana Tech who hails from the little European country of Luxembourg can claim the title of a nine-language expert.

Pfc. Fernand Deltgen of Esch-sur-Alzette, Luxembourg, includes in the list of languages which he speaks the following: French, Spanish, German, Dutch, Italian, Portuguese, Flemish, English and a native tongue, Luxembourgian.

The fact that he speaks so many languages can partly be explained by the fact that his country is a small one located between France and Germany. Most Americans that he has met, he said, do not know that it is an independent country and even less know its location.

The tall airman said that he did not learn English until the Germans occupied his country during World War II. English was a subject that the Germans stressed in the public school curriculum, according to the Luxembourgian.

Most of his other languages were acquired in traveling, he said.

When the Luxembourgian was only 14 years old he worked as an interpreter for the U. S. Army in the final stages of the last war.

MANY GI MEN NOT FILING CLAIMS

H. B. M'Clendon Urges Action Before March Deadline

Despite the extension of the filing deadline to March 31, a large number of ex-prisoners of war of World War II have not made claim with the War Claims Act, H. B. McClendon, parish service officer, said today.

Mr. McClendon, pointing to the deadline date that is fast approaching, expressed his opinion that in addition to some living ex-POW's a number of survivors of deceased prisoners who are eligible for the benefits have not yet filed claims. Widows, children, and parents of deceased POW's, in that order, are eligible for benefits under the War Claims Act.

The benefits available to American POW's or their survivors under present law are $1.00 for each day the POW was interned by the enemy and was not provided with the amount and quality of food required under the Geneva Convention of 1929 relating to the treatment of prisoners of war.

Service Officer McClendon, has the proper applications forms for living ex-POW's and for the survivors of deceased POW's at his department of veteran's affairs office located in Room 204, Parish Courthouse, Monroe, La., and urges that eligible persons contact him prior to the deadline of March 31.

WOODLAWN CHOIR SUPERIOR

The Woodlawn Community is proud of the superior rating received by the Woodlawn Elementary School mixed chorus at the Music Festival in Ruston.

This is the first year the school has been in existence; the first year these forty - eight students have sung together; and the first time many of them have ever sung in any kind of a musical organization.

The judges especially praised their intonation, blend and balance of voices, dynamics, naturalness, purity of vowels, and stage department.

The Chorus has had other interesting activities during the year. They presented a highly successful operetta at Christmas time, and have sung for P. - T. A. meetings.

Mrs. Gladys Cox Seymour is director of the Woodlawn group.

Student In Tech Has Mastery Of This Number Languages

RUSTON, March 22.—(Special)—If the command of three or four languages makes a person a linquist, then what is a person who speaks nine languages?

An air force clerk-typist trainee at Louisiana Tech who hails from the little European country of Luxembourg can claim the title of a nine-language expert.

Pfc. Fernand Deltgen of Esch-sur-Alzette, Luxembourg, includes in the list of languages which he speaks the following: French, Spanish, German, Dutch, Italian, Portuguese, Flemish, English and a native tongue, Luxembourgian.

The fact that he speaks so many languages can partly be explained by the fact that his country is a small one located between France and Germany. Most Americans that he has met, he said, do not know that it is an independent country and even less know its location.

The tall airman said that he did not learn English until the Germans occupied his country during World War II. English was a subject that the Germans stressed in the public school curriculum, according to the Luxembourgian.

Most of his other languages were acquired in traveling, he said.

When the Luxembourgian was only 14 years old he worked as an interpreter for the U. S. Army in the final stages of the last war.

BIG GAME HUNT TO DRAW CROWD

Wherever Shown, Kitchen's Hunting Scenes In Jungles Attracts Throng

Monroe hunters and those who love the sport even if they do not find time to hunt, will enjoy in a big way Clyde Kitchen's Big Game hunting pictures, to be shown the first time in Monroe at the O. P. H. S. auditorium, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. under sponsorship of the Civitan Club.

The views are regarded as among the finest big game hunting pictures ever filmed. They show the sport as Kitchen pursued it in Africa, Alaska, Old Mexico and the United States.

Mr. Kitchen, renowned traveler and big game hunter of Homer, La., has traveled over 75,000 miles and spent many thousand dollars on 23 big game and picture-taking safaris.

He has killed almost every kind of animal in old Mexico and other countries named and these ranged from a brown bear weighing over 1,000 pounds to African elephant weighing ten thousand pounds.

His pictures will show African natives cutting up an elephant and eating the meat raw; how they dress, eat and live back in the wilds. Their tribal dances and musical instruments are also shown.

Enormous python snakes and a four months old lion that was captured on the hunt is in the pictures.

One of the most unusual scenes are those showing hippopotami tumbling over each other and many kinds of unusual animals as they exist in little known lands. The list includes rhinoceros, buffalos, kudus, imalpias, zebras, elands, wart hogs, and many others. Then will be shown the Cape Buffalo, the most dangerous animal in the world.

The Zimbabee ruins, one of the few history fails to record, are viewed among the scenes and then there is Victoria Falls, the largest waterfall in all the world.

All who attend will have an evening filled with thrills, real entertainment and instruction, assures Mr. Kitchen.

Forensic Tourney In Tech Set For April 7, 8

RUSTON, March 22.—(Special)—Plans for the second annual Louisiana Tech forensic tournament for high schools have been announced for April 7-8.

Contests included for the event will be debate, extemporaneous speaking, poetry reading, and radio audition. Separate divisions

The debate contest is composed of four divisions: freshman and sophomore boys, freshman and sophomore girls, junior and senior boys, and junior and senior girls.

Trophies and certificates will be awarded.

RITES HELD

Funeral services for Mrs. J. W. Sutton, Jr., former Monroe resident who died in a Lubbock, Texas, hospital, were held Monday in Fort Worth. Mrs. Sutton lived in Monroe for two and one-half years, moving to Lubbock last year.

have been provided for boys and girls.

APPRECIATION GIVEN TEACHERS

The March meeting of the Crosley P.-T. A. was devoted mainly to honoring teachers. Mrs. Johnny Painich, president, presided during the meeting and gave a short inspirational talk on how much we appreciate our teachers. J. W. Rutledge, principal, introduced each teacher and they were presented with a corsage.

The Crosley band, under the direction of Solon King, played several selections. Mrs. King announced the band had received for the fifth consecutive year the "Superior" rating at the Spring Music Festival held in Ruston.

The fourth grade pupils of Mrs. P. C. Gaston and Mrs. W. B. Hedgepeth delighted the P.-T. A. with a costume play depicting characters from the book, Mother Goose.

Mrs. Amos Hood, in words of praise, presented Mrs. Johnny Painich with the P.-T. A. Life Membership Pin.

Mrs. Painich announced the Crosley P.-T. A. scrapbook had received the superior rating at the spring district meeting and thanked Mrs. Helen Smith, publicity chairman and Mrs. Harry Moore, scrapbook chairman, for their work.

Mrs. P. C. Gaton's room received the award for the most parents present.

At the conclusion of the meeting, delicious refreshments were served to over three hundred parents by the hospitality chairman, Mrs. W. C. Leonard.

FFA PURCHASE BIG INCUBATOR

JONESVILLE, March 22.—A 2,940-egg capacity modern electric incubator has been purchased by the Block high school chapter of the Future Farmers of America. The incubator was installed this week in the school's agriculture building.

The unit will begin operating as soon as eggs from tested flocks can be obtained. Settings of 200 eggs will be made each Tuesday and Thursday.

The incubator turns the eggs automatically every two hours, and the eggs are in full view through glass windows at all times. Stanford Richardson, F. F. A. advisor, plans to build a platform by the incubator so that children in the lower grades of school can watch the biddies kick open their shells and emerge.

The incubator cost $700. Downpayment of $160 was made with money from the sale of calendars. Other payments are planned through the sale of chicks.

Never Put Off

It's a mighty complicated world we live in. A little confusion or delay at one point can cause confusion, delay and loss all back up the line and all the way down the line in the other direction. For example, delay on the part of a lot of farmers in ordering the fertilizer they expect to need later in the year has caused a slump in fertilizer production and threatens lower production and heavy losses for a good many next harvest season.

Demand for fertilizer has increased so much in the past several years that fertilizer factories are able to meet it only by producing at the highest possible rate for as great a part of the year as possible. They have been running full speed for some time now, but their storehouses are full and the fertilizer isn't moving out to the farm as the manufacturers had expected. If it doesn't move more rapidly, they will have to reduce production for lack of storage space. Not only will there be less fertilizer manufactured, but there may be serious transportation difficulties if most growers wait until the rush season to order. A check of fertilizer manufacturers in Louisiana shows that to be true here as in other states, says the Agricultural Extension Service.

What about you, Dear Reader, if you live on the farm? Have you ordered that feritlizer, to be delivered at once? Have you ordered the insecticide you may need later this year? Is there any equipment you know you'll have to have, but which you haven't ordered yet? Are there any repairs that must be made before you can put in a crop or harvest a crop later on?

The old saying, "never put off until tomorrow what you can do today," has a double meaning for all of us, farmers and everyone else, in the world of today. With every operation dependent on so many other operations, putting off until tomorrow may mean waiting until day after tomorrow or even until sometime next week.

Form Youth

Louisiana farm people — and others as well — have an opportunity to make a unique contribution to international friendship and understanding through the international farm youth exchange program. The international farm youth exchange program, IFYE, for short, is sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service and the National 4-H Club Foundation. Its operation is simple, consisting of an exchange of visits by farm youths of this country and farm youths of other countries outside the Iron Curtain. Its potential benefits are very great.

Experience has shown that ignorance and misunderstanding play a large part in international conflict and ill-feeling. With a few historic exceptions, of course, the people who know each other best get along the best. And in getting to know one another better, whether we live in neighboring communities or far distant countries, nothing that we can read or hear can substitute entirely for a friendly visit.

Under the IFYE program, young farm people from the United States visit in a foreign country for several months, living with the farm people there, taking part in their work and every day activities, learning about how they live and what they think. Young people from these other countries spend several months in the United States on a similar mission.

In order to send a young farm man or woman from a Louisiana community to a foreign country and have a young man or woman from that country visit in the community, an agricultural group or some other organization needs only to nominate a young man or woman and raise $600 through contributions or otherwise. Details of the program can be had from the parish agricultural or home demonstration agent's office.

IFYE is an interesting and worth-while project whose past success justifies its continuation.

YOUR GARDEN:

Use Proper Pruning 'Surgery' For Shapely, Healthy Trees

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

One of the most important spring garden tools — along with the spading fork and rake—is a sharp pair of pruning shears.

Actually, the pruning of trees and shrubs is almost a year-round occupation, for certain species respond better at certain seasons. Some even die of injuries incurred by bad timing in necessary surgery. By and large however spring—while the plants are still dormant—is prescribed as the best pruning time.

Most bushes and shrubs and trees benefit from pruning if the pruner knows what he is about. One purpose of the operation is to remove dead and injured branches, leaving a clean-cut, smooth-surfaced wound with clean edges which can heal quickly.

Protect Tree Wound

The wound — if larger than a couple of inches across—should be protected so that decayed organisms cannot get in. Such a wound should be painted with an antiseptic solution and covered with a compound of resin, beef tallow and alcohol, or a commercially prepared solution.

In cutting off larger limbs of trees, don't try to do the job simply by sawing through at a point close to the trunk. Its weight is likely to rip it off and make a big, ragged wound on the trunk. Instead, do it the hard way with three separate cuts. The first shold be from below, well away from the trunk and cut about half - way through the limb. The second, from the top and an inch or so beyond the first cut. This cut goes through to take off the branch cleanly and without injuring the trunk. Finally, cut off the remaining short stump by sawing flush with the trunk, trimming the bark to points at top and bottom to aid the flow of sap.

Pruning Stimulates Production

Other purposes pruning serves is to stimulate the production of either flowers or foliage, and to improve the form of the plant. It cannot change the natural habit of a particular plant, but it can keep it from getting out of bounds.

Few plants should be clipped, like a hedge or a poodle. In pruning, it is important to study the particular plant's habit, including this class of shrubs. Most shrubs which bloom in the late spring or thereafter form their buds on the current year's growth. For these, pruning activity should be undertaken in March and April.

Proper Pruning Times

All evergreens, including the broadleaved ones, are better pruned a few weeks before they go into spring growth. A few trees should be pruned when they are in leaf. They "bleed" if pruned in spring when their sap is rising.

In cutting branches and twigs to train trees to a desired shape which grow inward or rub other branches, cut about a quarter of an inch above a bud which points in the desired direction. Using a the time when its flower buds are formed. Try to cut away old wood which is neither productive nor useful, usually from the base of the plant.

A rule of thumb—and there are exceptions to all rules — is that early-flowering shrubs form their buds on last year's growth, and therefore should be pruned a couple of weeks after flowering. Forsythia is a good example of sharp instrument — sometimes a knife is better than shears — make the cut slightly slanting, it's high side above the bud. Don't make the cut slant too much, or too high above the bud or too close to the bud. Any of these are bad for the branch.

Regardless of the season, cut out limbs, branches or twigs which are dead, dying or diseased — and burn them as a precaution. These menace the health of the whole plant and cut off sunshine and food from other portions of the plant.

Eggs Can Be Kept With Refrigeration

Eggs produced in a surplus production season can be treated and held for short holdings with any type of refrigeration that will go to 40 degrees F. and maintain this temperature without too much fluctuation. The eggs should be dipped for 15 seconds in a pure mineral oil, drained and placed in clean cases. They can then be held for three to six months at a temperature of 40 degrees F. with a 75 per cent relative humidity without great losses in quality. The egg room should be free of odors (all strong ones — cigar, cabbage, etc.) and should be kept clean for the entire storage season. If eggs are kept for more than three months they should be turned by tilting cases 45 degrees, end to end, weekly until used.

More Fertilizer Will Be Available This Year

Slightly more fertilizer will be available for agriculture in the coming year. But supplies may not meet the heavy demand. Since little additional land can be counted on for expanding farm production, increased production will be highly dependent on fertilizers. Farmers should buy at least part of their needs early to keep distribution channels open. Here is the supply outlook for the three major fertilizers: Nitrogen — will be tight. Supplies available for agriculture are expected to be 7 per cent higher than last year. But military or industrial demands could upset this narrow improvement. Also, agricultural demand will be greater than last year. Potash — should be in moderately good supply with 5 per cent more available than record supplies of the past year. Phosphates — expected to be tight with probably 6 per cent less available than last year. Problem is scarcity of sulfur and sulfuric acid needed in producing superphosphate.

Identical Calf Twins Valuable In Research

Twin calving in dairy cattle occurs approximately once out of every 56 normal births. Out of this number a small percentage are identical twins. Identical twins in dairy cattle have proven very valuable for research. The Dairy Department of L. S. U. is very interested in obtaining identical twin calves for research work. Those who have any in the future that they would be willing to sell at a reasonable price for research should contact Dr. J. B. Frye, Jr., head of the Dairy Department, L. S. U.

There's no need to have the same vegetables day in and day out on your table when you realize that there are 50 different common vegetables, Mrs. Euna D. Spielman, home demonstration agent, L. S. U. agricultural extension service, has announced. Try planting broccoli, brussels sprouts, Swiss chard, kohlrabi or some other new (to you) vegetable this year for variety, she suggests.

"Learn to cook all vegetables so that they taste good," she advises. "For most vegetables the rule is: Cook in as small amount of water as possible. Other rules are: Long slow cooking is necessary for dried legumes. Green vegetables keep their color best when put into a small amount of boiling salted water. Soda destroys vitamins so don't use it to preserve green color. Strong vegetables like cabbage and turnips not only turn brownish when overcooked, but develop an unpleasant odor and flavor. They are harder to digest, too.

"It's good to know which vegetables do more for you. Here's how they rank in terms of 9 nutrients. A hgih rank means that they contribute a good deal of several nutrients. 1) green peas, lima beans, broccoli; 2) sweet potatoes, artichokes; 3) brussels sprouts; 4 spinach, green asparagus, string bears; 5) cauliflower, sweet corn 6) white potatoes, cabbage; 7) turnips, beets; 8) carrots, celery, cantaloupes, green peppers; 9) tomatoes, lettuce, onions, winter squash, casaba and honeydew melons; 10) summer squash, radishes, cucumbers; and 11) watermelons.

It is spring time, and it is the time of the year when we have to start worrying with our cattle while grazing the beautiful green clovers. We should watch our herds very closely. There is not too much known about bloat, but there are a few simple remedies that are found to be helpful, such as: If a cow is not bloating too much put a stick in her mouth like a pair of bridle bits; another simple remedy to run your cattle, which causes the gas to escape. Some of the simple remedies developed by farmers are to drench the cows with coal oil or turpentine or formaldehyde, which only takes about an ounce of either of these mixed into a bottle of water to stop fermentation. One of the best known remedies that I know is to put out some dry hay. I have seen cattle while grazing on this rank growing clover where they had free access to hay when they would feel the pressure from the gas from the clovers, they would start into a run to the hay and begin eating it and pretty soon they would be back down to normal size. Sometimes it is advisable to take the mowing machine and clip the clover to the ground. This clover cures into hay and the cows can pick enough hay while eating the green clover to help control the bloat. Of course, if none of these help, the last suggestion would be the trowcar.

A new type of fertilizer is being experimented here in Ouachita parish. It is liquid ammonium nitrate. It has been put out on grasses and oats in which it took effect the fourth and fifth day. In three weeks time the plants were twelve to fifteen inches taller than where no fertilizer was put out. This fertilizer is manufactured by the Commercial Solvents Plant at Sterlington, and being distributed by the Dixie Fertilizer Company of Monroe. Commercial Solvent's people were so well pleased with the demonstration that they agreed to manufacture 150 tons for demonstration and experimental purposes throughout northeast Louisiana. In this parish, plans are to put out as much as 250 lbs. plant food of nitrogen per acre where irrigation is used. One hundred and twenty pounds plant food nitrogen per acre where irrigation is not being used. This fertilizer apparently has many advantages: that it does not burn the plants, that it is in a liquid form and is well dissolved and can be put on pastures while cattle are grazing without danger of killing the cattle.

Reporting May Curb Biological Warfare

Better methods of reporting livestock diseases and modernization and strengthening of laws for their control are two steps that should safeguard the possibility of a biological warfare attack on the nation's livestock industry.

If biological warfare should come, its first phase might consist of efforts to spread the common livestock diseases and do as much damage as possible before the enemy activity could be detected. Later, might come efforts to spread rinderpest and other foreign livestock diseases.

Clip Clover For Seeding, Franklin Agent Advises

WINNSBORO, La., March 22 (Special) — Franklin parish farmers who want to harvest a crop of white Dutch or crimson clover seed should stop grazing their clover about March 15 and clip it so it will seed uniformly, says Franklin parish agricultural agent Guy A. Luno. Luno adds that Franklin is now the leading parish in the state in white Dutch clover seed production and growers here produce seed of a very high quality, as well as high-quality ladino and re-seeding crimson clover seed.

In fact, the agricultural agent points out, a three-quart sample of ladino seed exhibited by T. B. Gilbert and Company of Wisner at the hay and grain show in Chicago in 1951 won first place in competition with exhibits throughout the United States and Canada.

Seed production on a commercial basis started in the parish in 1948 and the first harvest was in 1949. There are 2 seed growers in the parish. The clovers furnish a winter and early spring grazing crop for beef and dairy cattle and hogs; a seed harvest and a hay crop following the seed harvest and, in addition, build up the soil. Seed harvests furnish a good source of extra income for cattle owners.

Clover should be top-dressed in the fall, preferably, or in the late winter with 300 pounds of 20 per cent phosphate to the acre. An application of 100 pounds of potash to the acre is advisable every other year. Seed must be properly cleaned and sacked to meet the marketing requirements. White Dutch will produce 150 to 200 pounds of seed to the acre and re-seeding crimson about 200 pounds to the acre.

Franklin parish seed producers now include Harry Gilbert, Wisner; Rupert Scott, Wisner; Curtis Dupree, ward five; Chevis Sherrouse, Gilbert; Hester Wiltshire, Lone Ceder; J. B. Eley, Chase; Dave Roach, Sr., Wisner; P. V. Watson, Oak Grove; Otho Williams, Ogden, and several others.

NICHOLS MOTORS WINS LA-MISS-ARK CROWN

TROUNCES TOM'S PEANUTS, 73-58, IN FINAL BATTLE

Louisiana Business College 3rd In Independent Meet

The Nichols Motors Company basketball team, fortified with such stars as Connie Mack Rea of Centenary and Lovett of Louisiana Tech, marched over Tom's Peanuts of Natchitoches, a team dominated by talent from Northwestern Louisiana State, 73 to 58, to win the Louisiana-Mississippi-Arkansas Championship Independent Basketball Tournament here last night in Ouachita Parish High School gymnasium.

Third place went to Louisiana Business College of Monroe which nosed out Kilpatrick-Gresham Motors of Jonesboro, 50-49, in an overtime consolation scramble.

Lovett led the Nichols attack in the final with 13 points, while Rea contributed 12. Curtis Nichols, sponsor of th titled team, used a dozen players to mark up the win, and just about every one of them contributed to the scoring. Ham McConathy, former Northwestern Little All-American, was high scorer of the game, however, with 16 points.

It was only the second defeat in 61 games for Tom's Peanuts which recently won the Tri-State tournament at Shreveport. Tom's had a string of 76 consecutive victories snapped by Nichols only last Tuesday night. After winning three more yesterday, Nichols turned the trick on the Natchitoches club again.

Kilpatrick-Gresham Motors and Louisiana Business College gave the fans a thriller in the consolation scramble with L. B. C. coming through in an overtime contest to win, 50-49.

Larry Angron, who hooped 30 points on ten field goals and ten free shots, forced the game into overtime when he hooped a field basket with five seconds to go in regulation time, deadlocking the game at 48-48. In the three-minute overtime session, Angron sewed up the game with two free shots. Thomas, Kilpatrick - Gresham, also got two gift tosses in the overtime, but he missed one of them and that was the game.

Tom's Peanuts and Nichols Motors gained the finals with semi-final triumphs over Kilpatrick-Gresham Motors of Jonesboro and Louisiana Business College of Monroe. The Peanuts stopped Kilpatrick-Gresham, 60 to 40, and Nichols gained the title game by socking L. B. C., 62 to 44.

Earlier in the day the high-geared Natchitoches quintet had beaten Tensas Motor Supply of St. Joseph, 58 to 42, and the Ogden Independents, 64 to 29, while Nichols Motors was stopping Hunt and Whitaker of Monroe, 73 to 37, and Chase and Bag Factory of Crossett, Ark., 67 to 37.

The tournament got underway at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in the Ouachita gym, and except for a one-hour break from 7 to 8 p. m., play was continuous throughout the event that attracted good crowds throughout the program.

In other preliminary contests Kilpatrick - Gresham defeated Wayne Confectionary of Warren, Ark., 45-36; L. B. C. trounced Choudrant Independents, 46-32; Kilpatrick - Gresham stopped Monroe Auto Auction, 45-37; and L. B. C. eliminated L. and B. Independents of Bastrop, 38-23.

Hilltoppers Again 5th Army Champs

FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo., March 22 (AP)—The Hilltoppers of Fort Leonard Wood today retaine their Fifth Army basketball title by defeating Fitzsimons General Hospital, Denver, 37 to 36.

The victors, who moved up through the winner's bracket of the double elimination affair will represent the Fifth Army area in the All-Army Tournament at Fort Sam Houston in April.

Randall Barron was high scorer with 14 points.

Northeast Loop Session Called

The Northeast Louisiana Baseball League will hold its third meeting of the year here at the Frances Hotel at 8 p. m. Wednesday, L. J. Fox, president of the league, announced last night.

The meeting is expected largely to determine whether or not the league will operate this year, since at least two more teams are needed to make the circuit a going concern, President Fox said.

At the last meeting — with teams from West Monroe, Rayville, and Monroe represented—it was decided to send committees to other nearby towns to talk to baseball representatives on entering teams in the league.

The report of the committee's results at Wednesday's meeting may determine whether or not the league will operate this year.

Serois Faces Malone For Dubious Honor Of Meeting 300-Pound Bear

Laye Returns For Main Event Bout With 'Sailor' Moran

The main event at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night will match a couple of top notch performers, but the two 45-minute time limit semi-final bouts promise to be the best shows of the night.

Wrestling in the semi-final opener will be Eddie Malone, Miami, Fla., and "Buff" Serois, Buffalo, N. Y. Both winn be doing their best to win, too, since the loser has the dubious honor of wrestling Ginger, a 300-pound wrestling bear, in the second match of the night.

In the main event of the evening, the third match on the card, "Sailor" Moran, who last week took care of Ellis Bashara in straight falls, will wrestle Charley Laye, Knoxville, Tenn., battler who made such a good showing here a few months back.

Kallio arranged for the two 45-minute semi-final wrangles when he discovered that he could not get a wrestler to take on the bear without some chance of getting out of it.

All of the wrestlers he approached turned down the match with the bear on the grounds that "Bears bite." Kallio told them that he would put a muzzle and gloves on the bear so that it couldn't "bite" and they told him, "That muzzle is liable to come loose and the bear will chew our ears off."

Then Kallio hit on the plan of having the loser of the first bout take on the bear in the next, and both wrestlers agreed.

Kallio stated that the bear-man match would have the same rules as any wrestling match and that to win the bout, the wrestler would have to pin the bruin's shoulders for three seconds. Then, with a slightly evil chuckle, he added, "You know that bear is pretty hard to pin."

Kallio should know. He, at one time, owned a wrestling bear himself, and kept if for four months. "I won that bear one time back in 1916," Kallio said. "This wrestler had the bear and he kept bragging that he didn't think I could beat it, so I told him that I might not be able to beat the bear but that I could beat him."

"He bet me a $100 against the bear that I couldn't do it," Kallio said, "and you know, I kept that bear a whole summer."

Besides the bear, the only matman on Tuesday's show who is not well known in Monroe is Eddie Malone. Malone, who Kallio described as being about as tall as Jack Curtis but not quite so heavy, made his appearance in Monroe some 10 or 11 years ago.

Kallio stated that Malone was an old hand at wrestling, and was pretty good. Moran and Serois both appeared in bouts here last week and Charley Laye will be remembered for the series of bouts with Jack Curtis, the champion, last summer.

The main event will have a 90-minute time limit with two falls to win, and the semi-final bouts will have one fall to win. The doors will open at 7 p. m. and the first bout will get underway an hour later.

LSU SCRAPPERS WIN SIBT TITLE

BATON ROUGE, La., March 22 (AP) — Louisiana State University fighters won three finals events while its closet competitors knocked each other out of the running tonight to win the Southern Invitational Boxing Tournament here. It was LSU's fourth SIBT championship.

LSU scored 33 points, while South Carolina got 22, Minnesota 17, Miami 16, Syracuse 12, Maryland 10 and Virginia 4.

LSU's winners were Bobby Jackson over John Randell of Minnesota in the 132-pound division, Calvin Clary over Chuck Davis of South Carolina in the 139-pound division and Evans Howell over Ben Sauls of Miami in the heavyweight class.

The classiest fight was the Clary-Davis affair, which matched two fast, clever and hard-hitting fighters. The fight was stopped after the second because Clary was bleeding from a cut on his cheek. Under tourney rules, the boxer ahead in points when the fight is stopped for such reasons wins.

NATS TAKE A'S

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 22 (AP)—The Warhington Senators took advantage of three errors by the Philadelphia Athletics today to score a 5 to 1 victory in an exhibition game at Connie Mack Stadium.

Left hander Alex Kellner was the victim of shoddy support and his own wildness. The first two Senators he walked scored, and two others were helped across the plate by miscues.

Score by innings:

Washington (A) 001 010 210—5 9 2

Philadelphia (A) 010 000 000—1 7 3

BRAVES WHIP PHILS

BRADENTON, Fla., March 22 (AP)—A three-run seventh-inning outburst against rookie Paul Stuffel carried the Boston Braves to a 5-3 win over the Phillies today before 1,811 fans.

Billy Klaus' third hit, a force out, Pete Whisenant's triple and singles by George Crowe and Jack Parks, plus an infield out, erased a 3-2 Philadelphia edge. The Boston win was the second in as many days over the visitors.

Steve Ridzik went the first six for the Phils, giving up two runs and eight hits. Max Surkont went the first five for the Braves, yielding three runs and five hits. Big Gene Conley, 6 foot 7½ inch rookie from Hartford, gave up two hits in an impressive relief job.

TIGERS SHADE CARDS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, involved in their sixth extra-inning game in 11 days, lost a 5-4 decision to the Detroit Tigers today in 12 innings.

Pitcher Ed Ludwig, who went to the mound for the Cards in the 11th, gave up the winning run. He walked George Kell, who advanced on a sacrifice and scored on a single by Vic Wertz.

A crowd of 3,640 saw Card manager Eddie Stanky use a team of reserves, except for a few pinch-hitters, for the second consecutive day.

Score by innings:

Detroit (A) 100 101 100 001—5 13 0

St. Lo. (N) 000 200 200 000—4 12 1

YANKS WN SLUOFEST

TAMPA, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Both the New York Yankees and Cincinnati Reds shook off hitting slumps today as the world champions won an 11-8 slugfest.

The Yankees slashed seventeen hits, including homers by Jack Jensen and Gil McDougald.

Wally Post and Eddie Pellagrini pounded three-run homers for the Reds, who now have dropped five straight games.

Allie Reynolds, the Yanks' double no-hit ace, was the only pitcher of distinction. The Chief worked five scoreless innings at the start, running the Red's string of blanks to 30 successive frames.

Score by innings:

New York (A) 023 010 221—11 17 0

Cincinnati (N) 000 004 004— 8 8 3

CHISOX THUMP PIRATES

PASADENA, Calif., March 22 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox scored three runs in the first inning after a Pittsburgh Pirates infielder threw the ball away and went on to a 4-2 exhibition victory today.

With the bases loaded and one out, the Sox' Eddie Robinson knocked a liner to Second Baseman John Merson who, trying for a double play, threw the ball into left field. All three runners scored.

The Sox added another run in the seventh on a double by Hector Rodriguez and a single by Chico Carrasquel, both off Ron Neccisi.

Howie Pollet started the game for the Pirates and pitched the first six innings.

Billie Pierce pitched the first six innings for the Sox and Lou Kretlow the last three.

ST. JOHN UPSETS KENTUCKY QUINT

Redmen Win Eastern NCAA Regional Crown, 64 To 57

RALEIGH, N. C., March 22 (AP)—Center Bob Zawoluk led an amazing St. John's of Brooklyn team to a brillant 64-57 victory over highly favored Kentucky tonight in the title game of the eastern NCAA regional play - offs. Zawoluk set a new NCAA individual scoring record with 32 point .

The Redmen thus will represent the east in the national finals at Seattle, Wash., next week.

In the first game of tonight's double header North Carolina State whipped Penn State, 49-60, to capture third place.

The underdog of Coach Frank McGuire showed 11,200 spectators in Reynolds Colliseum that a control game mixed with some accurate shooting could manage the Wildcats, the nation's No. 1 team and defending NCAA titlists.

The defeat snapped a 23-game winning streak for the usually high-scoring Kentuckians.

St. John's began to mold its upset in the first period. It was the deadly hook shooting of Zawoluk that set the stage. He dropped in 16 points in the first half.

Charley Johnson Sparks LSU To 89 2/3 to 28 1/3 Win

BATON ROUGE, La., March 22 (AP) —Louisiana State University's track team ran away with a dual meet against Loyola University of the South here today, 98 2/3 — 28 1/3.

The Tigers had 13 firsts in 16 events, and were paced by Junior Charley Johnson, a one man track team in himself.

Johnson, who broke in his first pair of track shoes late last season, took the 100 and 220-yard dashes, the broad jump and anchored LSU's winning 440-yard relay quartet.

The Wolfpack lost all the running events and had to settle for victories in the high jump, javelin and shot put.

Summary:

Shot put — 1. Ray Rocker, Loyola, 45 feet 9 inches: W. Paul Miller, LSU, 45 4 2-5; 3. George Tarasovic, LSU, 43 11 7&8.

NICHOLS MOTORS WINS LA-MISS-ARK CROWN

TROUNCES TOM'S PEANUTS, 73-58, IN FINAL BATTLE

Louisiana Business College 3rd In Independent Meet

The Nichols Motors Company basketball team, fortified with such stars as Connie Mack Rea of Centenary and Lovett of Louisiana Tech, marched over Tom's Peanuts of Natchitoches, a team dominated by talent from Northwestern Louisiana State, 73 to 58, to win the Louisiana-Mississippi-Arkansas Championship Independent Basketball Tournament here last night in Ouachita Parish High School gymnasium.

Third place went to Louisiana Business College of Monroe which nosed out Kilpatrick-Gresham Motors of Jonesboro, 50-49, in an overtime consolation scramble.

Lovett led the Nichols attack in the final with 13 points, while Rea contributed 12. Curtis Nichols, sponsor of th titled team, used a dozen players to mark up the win, and just about every one of them contributed to the scoring. Ham McConathy, former Northwestern Little All-American, was high scorer of the game, however, with 16 points.

It was only the second defeat in 81 games for Tom's Peanuts which recently won the Tri-State tournament at Shreveport. Tom's had a string of 76 consecutive victories snapped by Nichols only last Tuesday night. After winning three more yesterday, Nichols turned the trick on the Natchitoches club again.

Kilpatrick-Gresham Motors and Louisiana Business College gave the fans a thriller in the consolation scramble with L. B. C. coming through in an overtime contest to win, 50-49.

Larry Angron, who hooped 30 points on ten field goals and ten free shots, forced the game into overtime when he hooped a field basket with five seconds to go in regulation time, deadlocking the game at 48-48. In the three-minute overtime session, Angron sewed up the game with two free shots. Thomas, Kilpatrick - Gresham, also got two gift tosses in the overtime, but he missed one of them and that was the game.

Tom's Peanuts and Nichols Motors gained the finals with semi-final triumphs over Kilpatrick-Gresham Motors of Jonesboro and Louisiana Business College of Monroe. The Peanuts stopped Kilpatrick-Gresham, 60 to 40, and Nichols gained the title game by socking L. B. C., 62 to 44.

Earlier in the day the high-geared Natchitoches quintet had beaten Tensas Motor Supply of St. Joseph, 58 to 42, and the Ogden Independents, 64 to 29, while Nichols Motors was stopping Hunt and Whitaker of Monroe, 73 to 37, and Chase and Bag Factory of Crossett, Ark., 67 to 37.

The tournament got underway at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in the Ouachita gym, and except for a one-hour break from 7 to 8 p. m., play was continuous throughout the event that attracted good crowds throughout the program.

In other preliminary contests Kilpatrick - Gresham defeated Wayne Confectionary of Warren, Ark., 45-36; L. B. C. trounced Choudrant Independents, 46-32; Kilpatrick - Gresham stopped Monroe Auto Auction, 45-37; and L. B. C. eliminated L. and B. Independents of Bastrop, 38-23.

LSU SCRAPPERS WIN SIBT TITLE

BATON ROUGE, La., March 22 (AP) — Louisiana State University fighters won three finals events while its closet competitors knocked each other out of the running tonight to win the Southern Invitational Boxing Tournament here. It was LSU's fourth SIBT championship.

LSU scored 33 points, while South Carolina got 22, Minnesota 17, Miami 16, Syracuse 12, Maryland 10 and Virginia 4.

LSU's winners were Bobby Jackson over John Randell of Minnesota in the 132-pound division, Calvin Clary over Chuck Davis of South Carolina in the 139-pound division and Evans Howell over Ben Sauls of Miami in the heavyweight class.

The classiest fight was the Clary-Davis affair, which matched two fast, clever and hard-hitting fighters. The fight was stopped after the second because Clary was bleeding from a cut on his cheek. Under tourney rules, the boxer ahead in points when the fight is stopped for such reasons wins.

Hilltoppers Again 5th Army Champs

FORT LEONARD WOOD, Mo., March 22 (AP)—The Hilltoppers of Fort Leonard Wood today retaine their Fifth Army basketball title by defeating Fitzsimons General Hospital, Denver, 37 to 36.

The victors, who moved up through the winner's bracket of the double elimination affair will represent the Fifth Army area in the All-Army Tournament at Fort Sam Houston in April.

Randall Barron was high scorer with 14 points.

Serois Faces Malone For Dubious Honor Of Meeting 300-Pound Bear

Laye Returns For Main Event Bout With 'Sailor' Moran

The main event at Gus Kallio's Arena Tuesday night will match a couple of top notch performers, but the two 45-minute time limit semi-final bouts promise to be the best shows of the night.

Wrestling in the semi-final opener will be Eddie Malone, Miami, Fla., and "Buff" Serois, Buffalo, N. Y. Both winn be doing their best to win, too, since the loser has the dubious honor of wrestling Ginger, a 300-pound wrestling bear, in the second match of the night.

In the main event of the evening, the third match on the card, "Sailor" Moran, who last week took care of Ellis Bashara in straight falls, will wrestle Charley Laye, Knoxville, Tenn., battler who made such a good showing here a few months back.

Kallio arranged for the two 45-minute semi-final wrangles when he discovered that he could not get a wrestler to take on the bear without some chance of getting out of it.

All of the wrestlers he approached turned down the match with the bear on the grounds that "Bears bite." Kallio told them that he would put a muzzle and gloves on the bear so that it couldn't "bite" and they told him, "That muzzle is liable to come loose and the bear will chew our ears off."

Then Kallio hit on the plan of having the loser of the first bout take on the bear in the next, and both wrestlers agreed.

Kallio stated that the bear-man match would have the same rules as any wrestling match and that to win the bout, the wrestler would have to pin the bruin's shoulders for three seconds. Then, with a slightly evil chuckle, he added, "You know that bear is pretty hard to pin."

Kallio should know. He, at one time, owned a wrestling bear himself, and kept if for four months. "I won that bear one time back in 1916," Kallio said. "This wrestler had the bear and he kept bragging that he didn't think I could beat it, so I told him that I might not be able to beat the bear but that I could beat him."

"He bet me a $100 against the bear that I couldn't do it," Kallio said, "and you know, I kept that bear a whole summer."

Besides the bear, the only matman on Tuesday's show who is not well known in Monroe is Eddie Malone. Malone, who Kallio described as being about as tall as Jack Curtis but not quite so heavy, made his appearance in Monroe some 10 or 11 years ago.

Kallio stated that Malone was an old hand at wrestling, and was pretty good. Moran and Serois both appeared in bouts here last week and Charley Laye will be remembered for the series of bouts with Jack Curtis, the champion, last summer.

The main event will have a 90-minute time limit with two falls to win, and the semi-final bouts will have one fall to win. The doors will open at 7 p. m. and the first bout will get underway an hour later.

Northeast Loop Session Called

The Northeast Louisiana Baseball League will hold its third meeting of the year here at the Frances Hotel at 8 p. m. Wednesday, L. J. Fox, president of the league, announced last night.

The meeting is expected largely to determine whether or not the league will operate this year, since at least two more teams are needed to make the circuit a going concern, President Fox said.

At the last meeting — with teams from West Monroe, Rayville, and Monroe represented— it was decided to send committees to other nearby towns to talk to baseball representatives on entering teams in the league.

The report of the committee's results at Wednesday's meeting may determine whether or not the league will operate this year.

BOSOX TRIM DODGERS

MIAMI, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Mel Parmell and Ellis Kinder limited the Brooklyn Dodgers to six hits today as the Boston Red Sox defeated the National Leaguers, 5-2.

Joe Black started for the Brooks and yielded three unearned runs in the second inning.

Bud Podbielan was nicked for two runs in the seventh when Morgan collided with Andy Pafko in leftfield permitting Walter Dropo a double on an easy fly. Roy Campanella and Andy Pafko accounted for four Brooklyn hits, the former connecting for a homer.

NATS TAKE A'S

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 22 (AP)—The Warhington Senators took advantage of three errors by the Philadelphia Athletics today to score a 5 to 1 victory in an exhibition game at Connie Mack Stadium.

Left hander Alex Kellner was the victim of shoddy support and his own wildness. The first two Senators he walked scored, and two others were helped across the plate by miscues.

Score by innings:

Washington (A)    001 010 210—5 9 2
Philadelphia (A)  010 000 000—1 7 3

BRAVES WHIP PHILS

BRADENTON, Fla., March 22 (AP) —A three-run seventh-inning outburst against rookie Paul Stuffel carried the Boston Braves to a 5-3 win over the Phillies today before 1,811 fans.

Billy Klaus' third hit, a force out, Pete Whisenant's triple and singles by George Crowe and Jack Parks, plus an infield out, erased a 3-2 Philadelphia edge. The Boston win was the second in as many days over the visitors.

Steve Ridzik went the first six for the Phils, giving up two runs and eight hits. Max Surkont went the first five for the Braves, yielding three runs and five hits. Big Gene Conley, 6 foot 7½ inch rookie from Hartford, gave up two hits in an impressive relief job.

Score by innings:

Phil. (N)     100 200 000—3 7 1

TIGERS SHADE CARDS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, involved in their sixth extra-inning game in 11 days, lost a 5-4 decision to the Detroit Tigers today in 12 innings.

Pitcher Ed Ludwig, who went to the mound for the Cards in the 11th, gave up the winning run. He walked George Kell, who advanced on a sacrifice and scored on a single by Vic Wertz.

A crowd of 3,640 saw Card manager Eddie Stanky use a team of reserves, except for a few pinch-hitters, for the second consecutive day.

Score by innings:

Detroit (A)  100 101 100 001—5 13 0
St. Lo. (N)  000 200 200 000—4 12 1

YANKS WN SLUGFEST

TAMPA, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Both the New York Yankees and Cincinnati Reds shook off hitting slumps today as the world champions won an 11-8 slugfest.

The Yankees slashed seventeen hits, including homers by Jack Jensen and Gil McDougald.

Wally Post and Eddie Pellagrini pounded three-run homers for the Reds, who now have dropped five straight games.

Allie Reynolds, the Yanks' double no-hit ace, was the only pitcher of distinction. The Chief worked five scoreless innings at the start, running the Red's string of blanks to 30 successive frames.

Score by innings:

New York (A) 023 010 221—11 17 0

CHISOX THUMP PIRATES

PASADENA, Calif., March 22 (AP) —The Chicago White Sox scored three runs in the first inning after a Pittsburgh Pirates infielder threw the ball away and went on to a 4-2 exhibition victory today.

With the bases loaded and one out, the Sox' Eddie Robinson knocked a liner to Second Baseman John Merson who, trying for a double play, threw the ball into left field. All three runners scored.

The Sox added another run in the seventh on a double by Hector Rodriguez and a single by Chico Carrasquel, both off Ron Neccisi.

Howie Pollet started the game for the Pirates and pitched the first six innings.

Billie Pierce pitched the first six innings for the Sox and Lou Kretlow the last three.

ST. JOHN UPSETS KENTUCKY QUINT

Redmen Win Eastern NCAA Regional Crown, 64 To 57

RALEIGH, N. C., March 22 (AP)—Center Bob Zawoluk led an amazing St. John's of Brooklyn team to a brillant 64-57 victory over highly favored Kentucky tonight in the title game of the eastern NCAA regional play - offs. Zawoluk set a new NCAA individual scoring record with 32 point .

The Redmen thus will represent the east in the national finals at Seattle, Wash., next week.

In the first game of tonight's double header North Carolina State whipped Penn State, 49-60, to capture third place.

The underdog of Coach Frank McGuire showed 11,200 spectators in Reynolds Colliseum that a control game mixed with some accurate shooting could manage the Wildcats, the nation's No. 1 team and defending NCAA titlists.

The defeat snapped a 23-game winning streak for the usually high-scoring Kentuckians.

St. John's began to mold its upset in the first period. It was the deadly hook shooting of Zawoluk that set the stage. He dropped in 16 points in the first half.

ALGASIR MAKES $62.80 PAYOFF

Wins Capitol Handicap Before Big Opening Laurel Crowd

LAUREL, Md., March 22 (AP)—The biggest opening day post-war turnout at a Maryland track, 21,888 fans, saw one of racing's biggest washouts score an upset today when Algasir won the Capitol Handicap at Laurel.

Algasir, now six years old, was bought as a 2-year-old by the late Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark for $106,000, the record price for a young gelding.

The son of Sir Gallahad never approached being worth that and a couple of years ago was bought by H. A. Kimball of Great Barrington, Mass., for $26,000.

This was Algasir's first race of 1952 and the bettors had him 30-1 on the board, longest shot in the eight-horse Capitol field.

Jockey Sam Boulmetis whipped Algasir coming down the stretch to win by a length and a quarter and return $62.80, $24.40 and $12.60 across the board.

Second place was taken by another long shot, Carolyn K stable's Hi Billee, which paid $19.60 for second. Mrs. A. Roberts' Eatontown was third and the 6-5 favorite, Palatine stable's Woodchuck fourth.

Algasir ran the three-quarters of a mile in 1:18 1-5 to win the $5,935 pot.

The crowd was one of the biggest to jam into Laurel since the track opened in 1911. The record attendance was an estimated 25,000 in the fall of 1945.

Betting amounted to $1,325,111 compared with the track's record of $1,523,204 set at the 1945 meeting. This was the start of a 33-day meeting Laurel is sharing with Bowie.

If no fertilizer were used on U. S. farm crops, production would be at least 25 per cent lower.

Spur On Claims Kaklawn Purse

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 22 (AP)— Spur On raced through the mud today to carry the blue and white silks of B. W. Landy, Chicago turfman, to a driving victory over four rivals in the $5,000 Oaklawn Handicap at Oaklawn Park.

Perfectly ridden by Jockey Johnny Adams, the four-year old son of Whirlaway came between horses in the stretch to take the lead and finish a length ahead of the favored Ruhe.

Mrs. E. K. Weil's Gloriette, only filly in the short field, which set the pace to the stretch turn, finished third, a length farther back.

False finished fourth, followed by Fleet Factor.

It was Spur On's second victory in four Oaklawn starts.

The Landy colorbearer ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:46.2. A third betting choice, he returned his backers $11.60 straight.

Doug Ford Drives To Halfway Lead In Jacksonville Open Golf Tourney

Turnesa, Toski Run 2nd; Snead Slips To 5-Way Tie For 3rd

By F. T. MACFEELY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Doug Ford, former amateur star from Harrison, N. Y., drove to the half-way lead in the Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament with a seven-under-par 137 here today.

Ford backed up his first round 69 with a 68 early in the day and the rest of the star - laden field whacked away all day without denting it.

Bob Tosvi, 25-year - old Northhampton, Mass., professional, and the veteran Jim Turnesa finished at 138, one stroke back of Ford. Tosk had a 71 and Turnesa 68 on their second round over the 6,508-yard Hyde Park course.

Two pre - tournament favorites, Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, and Sam Snead, the slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., were bracketed with Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., Earl Stewart, Jr., Dallas, and Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., at 139.

The third round is scheduled Sunday and the wind-up of the 72-hole tournament comes Monday.

Lew Worsham, former National Open champion from Oakmont, Pa., and Pete Cooper, White Plains, N. Y., first-day leaders at 66, were nine strokes worse today. Their 75's left them tied for twelfth place at 141.

Today's best score, 67 on the par 36-36—72 course, was turned in by Horton Smith, president of the professional Golfers Association from Detroit, and Herman Coelho, Honolulu, Hawaii. Smith's 67 made his total 142, and Coelho's put him at 141.

Lloyd Ribner, White Plains, N. Y., Took the lead among amateurs by scoring 68 for a total of 142.

Snead's 68 on today's round was questionable for a time depending upon a tournament committee ruling. His second shot on the long 10th hole was just past the out-of-bounds marker and the committee rechecked after he finished his round before giving him a par five on the hole. With an optional ball he had taken seven strokes.

The leaders:

Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y., 69-68—137.
Bob Toski, Northhampton, Mass. 67-71—138.
Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., 70-68—138.

Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, 71-70—141.
Jack Shields, Gleneagles, Ill., 71-70—141.
Joe Kirkwood, Hollywood, Calif., 73-68—141.
Jack Burke, Houston, Tex., 72-69—141.
Skee Reigel, Tulsa, 71-70-141.
Herman Coelho, Honolulu, 74-67—141.

FONDREN PACING GULFPORT GOLF

Memphis Pro Stroke Ahead Of Abbott; Reed Falls Behind

GULFPORT, Miss., March 22 (AP)—Jack Fondren established himself today as the man to beat in the $6,000 Gulf Coast Invitational Golf Tournament by shooting a 69 for a three-quarter mark total of 206. The tourney is being played over the 6,006-yard Great Southern course.

The Memphis, Tenn., pro was two strokes over par when he went into the final nine holes of the third round, but he more than made up for it on the back side.

He was on the green in two on every one of the last nine holes, including the 576-yard 15th and he birdied the 11th, 12th, 15th and 18th holes to take a one - stroke lead over defending Champion Pat Abbott, also of Memphis.

Abbott came in with a 70 today, rimming a seven-foot putt for a birdie three on the 18th. Had Abbott made it, he and Fondren would have gone into tomorrow's final 18 holes all tied up.

Abbott had to stand by while Fondren calmly sank his six-foot putt for a birdie and the lead.

Elmer Reed, the second round leader from Atlanta, Ga., had putter trouble and came in with a one-over-par 72 for a 54-hole total of 208.

Otey Crisman, Selma, Ala., pro. shot a 71 today and he also has 208.

Tommy Wright of Kingsport, Tenn., shot the best round of the tournament, a six-under-par 65. He went into today's round even par at 142 for 36. But his putter was hot as he dunked eight birdies and came in with a 32-35.

Dick Collord of New Orleans leads the field in the amateur bracket. Chubby Dick had a 73 today to go along with his 137 second round total. Tommy Morrow of LSU shot an even 7 moved into second place among the amateurs with 211.

Jim Barfield, Grand Rapids, Mich., pro, who holds the course record of 63, and Jack Smith, Beaumont, Tex., pro are tied with Eldon Briggs of Saginaw, Mich., with 210. All are still in the running for the $900 first place award,.

ROMACK TO FACE PAT O'SULLIVAN

Meet Today In Finals Of Women's North And South

PINEHURST, N. C., March 22 (AP)—Pat O'Sullivan, the smiling slugger from Orange, Conn., and 19-year-old Barbara Romack, Sacramento, Calif., today scored impresive North and South Golf Tournament semi-final victories.

Personable Pat, seeking a record-equalling third straight title, threw five birdies at Mrs. H. S. Covington, Orangeburg, S. C., and finished even with par to take a 4 and 2 decision. Little Barbara, who has the makings of a feminine Ben Hogan, also finished even with par as she scored a 4 and 3 victory over Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich.

The 18-hole championship match will be played at 12:30 p. m. (CST) tomorrow.

Both Barbara and Pat led by three up at the turn with a 37, par for the 5,915-yard No. 2 country club course.

The only previous meeting of Pat and Barbara came in the Hollywood, Fla., four - ball tournament early this year. Barbara and Dorothy Kirby teamed to trim Pat and partner Mae Murray in the second round.

Will Seek To Cut Basketball Play

RALEIGH, N. C., March 22 (AP)—A move appeared to be underway here today to shorten collegiate basketball playing seasons by moving up playoffs of the NCAA.

At least four head coaches of teams appearing in the eastern NCAA regional finals here have discussed the matter unofficially among themselves and agree that current playing seasons are too long.

The four are Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, Elmer Gross of Penn State, Frank McGuihe of St. John's of Brooklyn, and Everett Case of North Carolina State.

Said Rupp: "The season is entirely too long. It should end by at least March 15. At the rate we've been playing our seasons run about three and a half months. When the season is long you often run into unseasonably warm weather like we're having here in Raleigh. Our game against Penn State last night was our first in three weeks."

Case said the matter of shortenung the season is expected to come up for study, along with a number of rules changes, at the NCAA finals at Seattle, Wash., next week.

'Bo' M'Millin Finally Quits His Hospital Bed

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. March 22 (AP)—Alvin N. (Bo) McMillin, former Indiana University and professional football coach, was taken home today from Bloomington Hospital, where he'd been confined two months with a serious stomach ailment.

His wife said the firmer Detroit Lion and Philadelphia Eagle coach was resting easily.

Pittman, Rankin In Senior Finals

SEBRING, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Eugene Pittman, Washington sales engineer, upset favored Thomas C. Robbins, Larchmont, N. Y., in the semi-finals of the annual Senior Amateur Match Play Golf Tournament today.

In the other semi-final Allen R. Rankin, Columbus, O., a two-time winner here, scored an easy 6 and 5 triumph over Paul Hyde, Buffalo, N. Y.

Pittman and Rankin play for the championship tomorrow.

Robbin , the chamion of the U. S. Senior Golf Association, romped into a four-hole lead after seven holes. He had taken over the favorite's role after beating defending Champion M. E. Stephens of Sebring in the second round.

Pittman, who had trouble reaching the greens at first, then found his game and gradually crept up. He evened the match at the 17th with the help of several putting lapses by Robbins, but had to go to the 20th before winning.

Rankin won the first hole against Hyde, a drug manufacturer, and was never headed.

Baltimore Heavyweight Fight Card Cancelled

BALTIMORE, March 22 (AP)—Promoter Sam Zannino announced today postponement of the heavyweight fight between Dan Bucceroni and Al Smith, scheduled here for 10 rounds Monday night.

Zannino said he had learned Bucceroni injured his right hand in training.

ALERTED COPS APPLETON RAC

Beats Out Why Not No By Head; Going Away Is Third

MIAMI, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Alerted, owned by the Hampto stables, outlasted Why Not Now by a head in the $10,000 Appleto Handicap before a crowd of 17,660 at Gulfstream Park today.

Ovie Scurlock sent the four-year-old son of Bull Lea into the lead on the inside entering the stretch and whiplashed him hom over the fast-closing Why Not No.

Alerted was coupled in the wagering with Easy Whirl, the entry paying $5.40, $2.80 and $2.30. Why Not Now, who ran as an entry with Dart By under the C. B. Bohn colors, returned $3.70 an $2.60 and Going Away, representing the Brookmeade stable, yielded $3 for third.

Alerted covered the mile and a sixteenth over a fast track in 1.43. Easy Whirl wound up fourth and was followed by the slight favorit Mass O'Gold, Abbe Sting and Dar By.

The feature was named in hono of the late Albert I. Appleton, one of Gulfstream Park's most enthusiastic supporters and a motivating figure in the construction of the track's new million dollar clubhouse.

One thousand forty-four fans who coupled Moola and Dance Band in the daily double wagering collected $67.70 for every $2.

ALGASIR MAKES $62.80 PAYOFF

Wins Capitol Handicap Before Big Opening Laurel Crowd

LAUREL, Md., March 22 (AP)—The biggest opening day post-war turnout at a Maryland track, 21,888 fans, saw one of racing's biggest washouts score an upset today when Algasir won the Capitol Handicap at Laurel.

Algasir, now six years old, was bought as a 2-year-old by the late Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark for $106,000, the record price for a young gelding.

The son of Sir Gallahad never approached being worth that and a couple of years ago was bought by H. A. Kimball of Great Barrington, Mass., for $26,000.

This was Algasir's first race of 1952 and the bettors had him 30-1 on the board, longest shot in the eight-horse Capitol field.

Jockey Sam Boulmetis whipped Algasir coming down the stretch to win by a length and a quarter and return $62.80, $24.40 and $12.60 across the board.

Second place was taken by another long shot, Carolyn K stable's Hi Billee, which paid $19.60 for second. Mrs. A. Roberts' Eatontown was third and the 6-5 favorite, Palatine stable's Woodchuck fourth.

Algasir ran the three-quarters of a mile in 1:18 1-5 to win the $5,935 pot.

The crowd was one of the biggest to jam into Laurel since the track opened in 1911. The record attendance was an estimated 25,000 in the fall of 1945.

Betting amounted to $1,325,111 compared with the track's record of $1,523,204 set at the 1945 meeting. This was the start of a 33-day meeting Laurel is sharing with Bowie.

If no fertilizer were used on U. S. farm crops, production would be at least 25 per cent lower.

Spur On Claims Kaklawn Purse

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 22 (AP)— Spur On raced through the mud today to carry the blue and white silks of B. W. Landy, Chicago turfman, to a driving victory over four rivals in the $5,000 Oaklawn Handicap at Oaklawn Park.

Perfectly ridden by Jockey Johnny Adams, the four-year old son of Whirlaway came between horses in the stretch to take the lead and finish a length ahead of the favored Ruhe.

Mrs. E. K. Weil's Gloriette, only filly in the short field, which set the pace to the stretch turn, finished third, a length farther back.

False finished fourth, followed by Fleet Factor.

It was Spur On's second victory in four Oaklawn starts.

The Landy colorbearer ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:46.2. A third betting choice, he returned his backers $11.60 straight.

Doug Ford Drives To Halfway Lead In Jacksonville Open Golf Tourney

Turnesa, Toski Run 2nd; Snead Slips To 5-Way Tie For 3rd

By F. T. MACFEELY

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Doug Ford, former amateur star from Harrison, N. Y., drove to the half-way lead in the Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament with a seven-under-par 137 here today.

Ford backed up his first round 69 with a 68 early in the day and the rest of the star - laden field whacked away all day without denting it.

Bob Tosvi, 25-year - old Northhampton, Mass., professional, and the veteran Jim Turnesa finished at 138, one stroke back of Ford. Tosk had a 71 and Turnesa 68 on their second round over the 6,508-yard Hyde Park course.

Two pre - tournament favorites, Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, and Sam Snead, the slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., were bracketed with Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., Earl Stewart, Jr., Dallas, and Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., at 139.

The third round is scheduled Sunday and the wind-up of the 72-hole tournament comes Monday.

Lew Worsham, former National Open champion from Oakmont, Pa., and Pete Cooper, White Plains, N. Y., first-day leaders at 66, were nine strokes worse today. Their 75's left them tied for twelfth place at 141.

Today's best score, 67 on the par 36-36—72 course, was turned in by Horton Smith, president of the professional Golfers Association from Detroit, and Herman Coelho, Honolulu, Hawaii. Smith's 67 made his total 142, and Coelho's put him at 141.

Lloyd Ribner, White Plains, N. Y., Took the lead among amateurs by scoring 68 for a total of 142.

Snead's 68 on today's round was questionable for a time depending upon a tournament committee ruling. His second shot on the long 10th hole was just past the out-of-bounds marker and the committee rechecked after he finished his round before giving him a par five on the hole. With an optional ball he had taken seven strokes.

The leaders:

Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y., 69-68—137.

Bob Toski, Northhampton, Mass. 67-71—138.

Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., 70-68—138.

Herman Coelho, Honolulu, 74-67—141.

FONDREN PACING GULFPORT GOLF

Memphis Pro Stroke Ahead Of Abbott; Reed Falls Behind

GULFPORT, Miss., March 22 (AP)—Jack Fondren established himself today as the man to beat in the $6,000 Gulf Coast Invitational Golf Tournament by shooting a 69 for a three-quarter mark total of 206. The tourney is being played over the 6,006-yard Great Southern course.

The Memphis, Tenn., pro was two strokes over par when he went into the final nine holes of the third round, but he more than made up for it on the back side.

He was on the green in two on every one of the last nine holes, including the 576-yard 15th and he birdied the 11th, 12th, 15th and 18th holes to take a one - stroke lead over defending Champion Pat Abbott, also of Memphis.

Abbott came in with a 70 today, rimming a seven-foot putt for a birdie three on the 18th. Had Abbott made it, he and Fondren would have gone into tomorrow's final 18 holes all tied up.

Abbott had to stand by while Fondren calmly sank his six-foot putt for a birdie and the lead.

Elmer Reed, the second round leader from Atlanta, Ga., had putter trouble and came in with a one-over-par 72 for a 54-hole total of 208.

Otey Crisman, Selma, Ala., pro, shot a 71 today and he also has 208.

Tommy Wright of Kingsport, Tenn., shot the best round of the tournament, a six-under-par 65. He went into today's round even par at 142 for 36. But his putter was hot as he dunked eight birdies and came in with a 32-35.

Dick Collord of 'New Orleans leads the field in the amateur bracket. Chubby Dick had a 73 today to go along with his 137 second round total. Tommy Morrow of LSU shot an even 7 moved into second place among the amateurs with 211.

Jim Barfield, Grand Rapids, Mich., pro, who holds the course record of 63, and Jack Smith, Beaumont, Tex., pro are tied with Eldon Briggs of Saginaw, Mich., with 210. All are still in the running for the $900 first place award,.

ROMACK TO FACE PAT O'SULLIVAN

Meet Today In Finals Of Women's North And South

PINEHURST, N. C., March 22 (AP)—Pat O'Sullivan, the smiling slugger from Orange, Conn., and 19-year-old Barbara Romack, Sacramento, Calif., today scored impresive North and South Golf Tournament semi-final victories.

Personable Pat, seeking a record-equalling third straight title, threw five birdies at Mrs. H. S. Covington, Orangeburg, S. C., and finished even with par to take a 4 and 2 decision. Little Barbara, who has the makings of a feminine Ben Hogan, also finished even with par as she scored a 4 and 3 victory over Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich.

The 18-hole championship match will be played at 12:30 p. m. (CST) tomorrow.

Both Barbara and Pat led by three up at the turn with a 37, par for the 5,915-yard No. 2 country club course.

The only previous meeting of Pat and Barbara came in the Hollywood, Fla., four - ball tournament early this year. Barbara and Dorothy Kirby teamed to trim Pat and partner Mae Murray in the second round.

Will Seek To Cut Basketball Play

RALEIGH, N. C., March 22 (AP)—A move appeared to be underway here today to shorten collegiate basketball playing seasons by moving up playoffs of the NCAA.

At least four head coaches of teams appearing in the eastern NCAA regional finals here have discussed the matter unofficially among themselves and agree that current playing seasons are too long.

The four are Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, Elmer Gross of Penn State, Frank McGuihe of St. John's of Brooklyn, and Everett Case of North Carolina State.

Said Rupp: "The season is entirely too long. It should end by at least March 15. At the rate we've been playing our seasons run about three and a half months. When the season is long you often run into unseasonably warm weather like we're having here in Raleigh. Our game against Penn State last night was our first in three weeks."

Case said the matter of shortenung the season is expected to come up for study, along with a number of rules changes, at the NCAA finals at Seattle, Wash., next week.

'Bo' M'Millin Finally Quits His Hospital Bed

BLOOMINGON, Ind. March 22 (AP)—Alvin N. (Bo) McMillin, former Indiana University and professional football coach, was taken home today from Bloomington Hospital, where he'd been confined two months with a serious stomach ailment.

His wife said the firmer Detroit Lion and Philadelphia Eagle coach was resting easily.

Pittman, Rankin In Senior Finals

SEBRING, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Eugene Pittman, Washington sales engineer, upset favored Thomas C. Robbins, Larchmont, N. Y., in the semi-finals of the annual Senior Amateur Match Play Golf Tournament today.

In the other semi-final Allen R. Rankin, Columbus, O., a two-time winner here, scored an easy 6 and 5 triumph over Paul Hyde, Buffalo, N. Y.

Pittman and Rankin play for the championship tomorrow.

Robbin , the chamion of the U. S. Senior Golf Association, romped into a four-hole lead after seven holes. He had taken over the favorite's role after beating defending Champion M. E. Stephens of Sebring in the second round.

Pittman, who had trouble reaching the greens at first, then found his game and gradually crept up. He evened the match at the 17th with the help of several putting lapses by Robbins, but had to go to the 20th before winning.

Rankin won the first hole against Hyde, a drug manufacturer, and was never headed.

Baltimore Heavyweight Fight Card Cancelled

BALTIMORE, March 22 (AP)—Promoter Sam Zannino announced today postponement of the heavyweight fight between Dan Buccerroni and Al Smith, scheduled here for 10 rounds Monday night.

Zannino said he had learned Bucceroni injured his right hand in training.

ALERTED COPS APPLETON RACE

Beats Out Why Not Now By Head; Going Away Is Third

MIAMI, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Alerted, owned by the Hampton stables, outlasted Why Not Now by a head in the $10,000 Appleton Handicap before a crowd of 17,660 at Gulfstream Park today.

Ovie Scurlock sent the four-year-old son of Bull Lea into the lead on the inside entering the stretch and whiplashed him home over the fast-closing Why Not Now.

Alerted was coupled in the wagering with Easy Whirl, the entry paying $5.40, $2.80 and $2.30. Why Not Now, who ran as an entry with Dart By under the C. B. Bohn colors, returned $3.70 and $2.60 and Going Away, representing the Brookmeade stable, yielded $3 for third.

Alerted covered the mile and a sixteenth over a fast track in 1.43. Easy Whirl wound up fourth and was followed by the slight favorite Mass O'Gold, Abbe Sting and Dart By.

The feature was named in honor of the late Albert I. Appleton, one of Gulfstream Park's most enthusiastic supporters and a motivating figure in the construction of the track's new million dollar clubhouse.

One thousand forty-four fans who coupled Moola and Dance Band in the daily double wagering collected $67.70 for every $2.

Malone Welcomes Return Of Varied Sports Program To Northeast State

Baseball, Track Activity Now Occupy Tribe Athletes

Visions of a varied athletic program that became a reality, dimmed, and are fanning into flame again are once more becoming quite real for James L. Malone, athletic director and head football coach at Norteast Louisiana State here.

Fresh out of L. S. U., Malone came to Northeast in 1934 when the school was known as Northeast Center of L. S. U., a junior college. He had an ambitious program in mind and figured he had "the world by the tail." Northeast, then, had only a competitive football team that was taking quite a kicking around.

Malone added baseball, boxing, and track, and revived basketball that had retrenched to an intramural state. A year later, 1935, the Indian football team enjoyed its first undefeated, untied season with eight victories in a campaign in which the Tribe had only six points scored against it. Then for five years Northeast carried strong athletic program that crumbled under wartime strain.

A curtailed athletic budget for the last decade forced elimination of just about all but football from the Indian program.

But Northeast last fall plunged into its first athletic season as a senior college, came up with a football team that won six and lost only two and again returned to basketball on a broad scale under Coach Cary Phillips.

Then this week the Tribe returned to baseball and track, grooming for spring competition in those two sports.

Arnold Kilpatrick, one of the last to appear on a Northeast track program back in the late 1930s, is head coach of Redskin track men. He turned out state titled teams as coach at Jonesboro-Hodge High before joining the coaching staff here last fall.

Woody Boyles, a former Indian quarterback, is coaching the baseball squad. Boyles caught for semi-pro teams of this area for several seasons and last year was coach of the Monroe American Legion Junior team that won the Fifth District championship.

That glisten in his eyes was probably reflecting joy in his heart as Malone watched around 50 athletes working with Kilpatrick and Boyles the past week. Some of the talent was alternating under both coaches with plans to play baseball as well as appear in special events with the track and field squad.

Northeast's old cinder track is gone and the boys are having to run on grass.

"We're going to have to show in our dual meets away from home this year," Malone said. "Appearing against teams which have their own tracks will give us a handicap since our talent wont be used to such tracks. Again, just as was the case in basketball and football, these track and baseball clubs will likely be dominated by freshmen and sophomores for a season or two.

"But there's an old saying, 'You have to crawl before you can walk,' but it's mighty encouraging to see a full athletic program coming back. It's not as easy to jump into four-year competition and come up with a winner as some peole might think, but we'll take it in stride."

Malone could be a little happy, too, that a big load has been taken off his shoulders and he can concentrate on duties as athletic director during the winter and spring activity. Coaches for basketball, track, and baseball take that additional pressure off the Redskin mentor who once had to run the whole show.

ISBELL TO COACH DALLAS TEXANS

Named Backfield Mentor Of Newest Pro Grid Machine

DALLAS, March 22 (AP) — Cecil Isbell, the Texan who starred at Purdue and in professional football, today was named backfield coach of the Dallas Texans of the National Football League.

Jim Phelan, head coach and general manager of the Texans, announced the appointment of Isbell, who was assistant coach of the Chicago Cardinals last year.

Isbell played high school football at Houston. He went to Purdue where he starred in 1935, 1936 and 1937. He was a passer and runner for Green Bay from 1938 to 1942 and teaming with Don Hutson, set a flock of National Football League passing records.

Isbell was backfield coach at Purdue in 1943 and head coach in 1944, 1945 and 1946. He returned to professional football in 1947 as head coach of Baltimore. He directed that team until it quit the pro league in 1949.

Dick Donovan, rookie pitcher, is the only player on the Boston Brave roster who was born in Boston.

Steelers Sign Rookie Fullback And Tackle

PITTSBURG, March 22 (AP) — Two promising rookie grid prospects signed contracts today with the National Football League Pittsburgh Steelers.

They are Jack Spinks, 22-year-old Negro fullback, from Toomsuba, Miss., and Tackle Ernie Cheatham, formerly of Loyola University of Calif.

Cheatham was drafted by the Steelers last while still a junior. He weighs 250 pounds and stands 6 feet 2. Spinks played with Alcorn A. & M.

ISBELL TO COACH DALLAS TEXANS

Named Backfield Mentor Of Newest Pro Grid Machine

DALLAS, March 22 (AP) — Cecil Isbell, the Texan who starred at Purdue and in professional football, today was named backfield coach of the Dallas Texans of the National Football League.

Jim Phelan, head coach and general manager of the Texans, announced the appointment of Isbell, who was assistant coach of the Chicago Cardinals last year.

Isbell played high school football at Houston. He went to Purdue where he starred in 1935, 1936 and 1937. He was a passer and runner for Green Bay from 1938 to 1942 and teaming with Don Hutson, set a flock of National Football League passing records.

Isbell was backfield coach at Purdue in 1943 and head coach in 1944, 1945 and 1946. He returned to professional football in 1947 as head coach of Baltimore. He directed that team until it quit the pro league in 1949.

Dick Donovan, rookie pitcher, is the only player on the Boston Brave roster who was born in Boston.

Steelers Sign Rookie Fullback And Tackle

PITTSBURG, March 22 (AP) — Two promising rookie grid prospects signed contracts today with the National Football League Pittsburgh Steelers.

They are Jack Spinks, 22-year-old Negro fullback, from Toomsuba, Miss., and Tackle Ernie Cheatham, formerly of Loyola University of Calif.

Cheatham was drafted by the Steelers last while still a junior. He weighs 250 pounds and stands 6 feet 2. Spinks played with Alcorn A. & M.

BIG EIGHT LOOP MEETS MONDAY

Adopt Schedule', Elect Secretary And Publicity Director

RUSTON, La., March 22 (Special)—The Big Eight League will meet Monday night at the city hall in Ruston. On the agenda will be the adoption of a schedule, selection of a secretary, publicity director, an umpire-in-chief, and check on player lists and eligibilities.

The Big Eight this year will have two new members, Bastrop and Homer. Hodge was unable to field a team and the two Ruston teams, the Rebels and the Vols, have combined which accounts for the two vacancies. The Ruston team will be called the Ramblers and will be managed by Coach Berry Hinton and Slim Cassibry. Bastrop was a member of the Northeast Louisiana League last year and is backed by the International Paper Company of Bastrop. The Homer Oilers played successfully against the best semi-pro teams of Louisiana last year and won the majority of their games. The remaining teams are Bernice, Minden, Dubach, Farmerville and the Commercial Solvents of Sterlington.

Baskin Girls Build To Basketball Record; 204 Games Without Defeat

BASKIN, La., March 22 (Special) — The Baskin High School girls' basketball team has finished another undefeated season that ended when Miss Willie Edna "Tiny" Tarbutton's Sextet won its 204th consecutive game in winning a fifth straight Class B Louisiana State championship at Southeastern Louisiana College, Hammond, this month. It was the sixth state crown in eight years for Coach Tarbutton's girls.

In this recent state tournament Baskin won over their opponents by the following scores: Calhoun, 51-29; Academy of Immaculate Conception of Opelousas, 63-41; Chatham, 56-45; Oak Grove (De Soto), 57-49. The last game was a thriller to the end, the lead changing hands several times. One player, Dixie Baskin, was selected on the all - state team; two others, Betty Fox and Johnnie Merriwether were given honorable mention.

During five undefeated seasons the team has won 29 tournaments; this includes five Class B state, five district, five Franklin parish, and 14 invitational tournaments in which all classes AA, A, B, and C are mixed. This year they won six first places in the following tournaments: Baskin Invitational by defeating Pioneer, 74-32; Ouachita Invitational by defeating Ouachita, 69-38, in the finals; Northeast State College Invitational by defeating Oak Grove (West Carroll), 50-48, in the finals; Northwestern State College district by winning over Oak Grove (De Soto), 72-35, in the finals; Class B State at Hammond beating Oak Grove (De. Soto) again in the finals, 57-49.

Ruth Ragsdale, the 6-footer (as she is known) was high scorer of the year with 860 points. She is a sister of Mildred Ragsdale, stellar forward from last year's team. This was Ruth's second year to play but her first year as forward, since she played in a guard position last season. Her points per game average was 23.9.

Dixie Baskin and Betty Fox did a wonderful job of delivering the ball to Ruth to score. Their passes had to be accurate and fast to keep the guards from getting them. They also proved good on fast breaks and crip shots. Betty Fox accounted for 503 of her team's points.

Dixie Baskin, a graduating senior, scored 637 points this year bringing her total points since she began playing to 2,038. She began playing while in the eighth grade, alternating first team position with another girl. Dixie is the only girl on the squad who has played all the five victorious years. She has never played in a game in which her squad was defeated. Dixie was the captain of the team this year and proved a very able one in in holding the team together and keeping them plugging where the going was rough.

During these five years Baskin has been undefeated and untied and has scored 11,029 points to their opponents 4,632. This year the team scored 2,399 against 1,167 for the opposition. This indicates the alertness of the defensive players. Johnnie Merriwether, Alice Hammond and Glynda Coronado set up a tight zone defense that proved difficult to break through. Through their diligent efforts the forwards were given the ball many extra times by their breaking up passes and getting the ball off the backboard.

The total number of fouls called on the team this year was 319 to 599 for the opponents. This is an indication of the clean type of basketball these girls played. Not a single player was disqualified with five fouls all during the season. In only two games of the 40 played, did the players have more fouls called on them than on the opponents.

The points per game average this year was 60 while the losers were held to a 29-point per game average.

In the last eight years the team has suffered only 12 losses and two ties in 318 games. During this time Baskin has won the first place trophy in 37 tournaments entered; they also have won one third place trophy and three second place ones. They have entered only one tournament in these years in which they did not place at all and that was the Sicily Island tourney in 1947 with Block of Jonesville defeating them in the semi-finals. There was no colsolation game for third place in that meet.

Baskin loses three girls through graduation this year; they are: Dixie Baskin, forward; Glynda Coronado and Johnnie Merriwether, guards. Left to take their places are Betty Fox, Ruth Ragsdale, Barbara Woods, Opal Williams and Emma June Anderson, forwards; Alice Hammond, Ruby Coronado, Betty Jo Duchesne and Audrey Phillips, guards.

Postpone Central Volley Ball Date

PINEVILLE, March 22.(Special)—The date for the Central Louisiana High School Volley Ball Tournament for boys and girls has been postponed until Friday, April 18, Henry E. Walden, rally secretary said today. The change is due to conflicts of a number of schools with religious holidays Thursday and Friday, April 10 and 11.

There will be no classification of teams for the volley ball tournament. Silver trophies will be given to winners in both boys and girls divisions. Each winning team will receive eight gold volley balls. Second place trophies and silver volley balls will be given to the runners-up in each division.

Other rally contests will be carried out as previously dated: general literary, April 5; general track and field, April 26; tennis, softball and baseball for boys and girls, May 9 and 10. Trophies and awards will be given in each of these rally contests.

8 TEAMS ENTER BOXING TRYOUTS

Shreveport Prepares For Sub-Regional Olympic Fights

SHREVEPORT, La., March 22. (Special) — Eight boxing teams are expected to be represented in the Sub - Regional Olympic Boxing Tournament scheduled for April 22-23 in the Municipal Auditorium in Shreveport, director of the sponsoring Sportatorium Club said today.

Boxing teams which are due for representation are Camp Leroy Johnson of New Orleans; Lake Charles Air Force Base; Camp Polk, winner of the recent armed forces tournament; Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport; Biloxi, Miss. C. Y. O.; Louisiana State University boxing team; McNeese State College; and Oak Grove High School, Oak Grove, La.

In addition to team representation, individual entries have already been received from seven boxers in northwest Louisiana and east Texas.

Winners in the Shreveport sub-regional matches will be eligible for the regional eliminations to be held in San Antonio, Tex. and will receive expense paid trips to San Antonio.

In the event that they should win in San Antonio they will then be qualified for the National Olympic try-outs to be held in Kansas City, Mo.

In order to enter the Shreveport Sub-Regional, fighters should write to Director, P. O. Box 909 in Shreveport stating their age, height, weight, home address and a brief resume of their previous boxing experience. No other formal entry regulations are required. The deadline for entries in the Sub-Regional Olympic tryouts will be April 10.

Tookie Gilbert, Rufer Sent To Oakland Oaks

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22 (AP)—The New York Giants today optioned First Baseman Tookie Gilbert and Rookie Shortstop Rudy Rufer to Oakland of the Pacific Coast League.

Both played with Minneapolis of the American Association last year. Gilbert saw action with the Giants in 1950, hitting .220 in 113 games.

British Champion Enters Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 22 (AP) — Max Faulkner, the British Open champion, today accepted an invitation to play in the sixth annual $15,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Faulkner became the twenty-fifth entry. The field this year is expected to be about 50.

Previously Bobby Locke, the South Africa star who twice won the British Open, accepted an invitation to again play in the Colonial Tournament.

Postpone Central Volley Ball Date

PINEVILLE, March 22 (Special) —The date for the Central Louisiana High School Volley Ball Tournament for boys and girls has been postponed until Friday, April 18, Henry E. Walden, rally secretary said today. The change is due to conflicts of a number of schools with religious holidays Thursday and Friday, April 10 and 11.

There will be no classification of teams for the volley ball tournament. Silver trophies will be given to winners in both boys and girls divisions. Each winning team will receive eight gold volley balls. Second place trophies and silver volley balls will be given to the runners-up in each division.

Other rally contests will be carried out as previously dated: general literary, April 5; general track and field, April 26; tennis, softball and baseball for boys and girls, May 9 and 10. Trophies and awards will be given in each of these rally contests.

8 TEAMS ENTER BOXING TRYOUTS

Shreveport Prepares For Sub-Regional Olympic Fights

SHREVEPORT, La., March 22. (Special) — Eight boxing teams are expected to be represented in the Sub - Regional Olympic Boxing Tournament scheduled for April 22-23 in the Municipal Auditorium in Shreveport, director of the sponsoring Sportatorium Club said today.

Boxing teams which are due for representation are Camp Leroy Johnson of New Orleans; Lake Charles Air Force Base; Camp Polk, winner of the recent armed forces tournament; Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport; Biloxi, Miss. C. Y. O.; Louisiana State University boxing team; McNeese State College; and Oak Grove High School, Oak Grove, La.

In addition to team representation, individual entries have already been received from seven boxers in northwest Louisiana and east Texas.

Winners in the Shreveport subregional matches will be eligible for the regional eliminations to be held in San Antonio, Tex. and will receive expense paid trips to San Antonio.

In the event that they should win in San Antonio they will then be qualified for the National Olympic try-outs to be held in Kansas City, Mo.

In order to enter the Shreveport Sub-Regional, fighters should write to Director, P. O. Box 909 in Shreveport stating their age, height, weight, home address and a brief resume of their previous boxing experience. No other formal entry regulations are required. The deadline for entries in the Sub-Regional Olympic tryouts will be April 10.

Tookie Gilbert, Rufer Sent To Oakland Oaks

SAN FRANCISCO, March 22 (AP)—The New York Giants today optioned First Baseman Tookie Gilbert and Rookie Shortstop Rudy Rufer to Oakland of the Pacific Coast League.

Both played with Minneapolis of the American Association last year. Gilbert saw action with the Giants in 1950, hitting .220 in 113 games.

Phillies Really Talking Pennant; Sawyer Says Russ Meyer Is Reason

Tempermental Pitcher Figured To Be Front-Line Hurler

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 22 (AP)—Maybe it's the dreamy Florida gloaming, but at any rate the Philadelphia Phillies are really in the mood for pennant talk.

The boys are keenly aware of an "Oh yeah?" attitude among many fans back home. After winning the National League flag in 1950 the Phils faltered to a mediocre fifth place finish last year. Their rooters are still pretty unhappy about it..

All of which leads to the inevitable questions—what happened to the Phillies last year? And why does the club think it has a good chance to come out on top this season?

Manager Eddie Sawyer had a couple of answers today.

In yet another post-mortem on the dismal 1951 showing, Sawyer said "We didn't have a No. 2 pitcher."

Naturally, the thoughts of his listeners sped back to Curt Simmons' brilliant work in 1950. Before that memorable season ended Simmons was in army uniform, and his baseball services were missed a great deal indeed. They were missed even more last year.

Simmons, now with the 28th infantry division in Germany, is expected back with the team this summer. But Sawyer is by no means building high hopes on that alone.

And who is the pitcher he thinks may be his No. 2 man of destiny?

None other than Russ Meyer, the mercurical moundsman who has the master touch when he's in top form and unruffled, and is as futile as a whisper in a whirlwind when he's fussed.

"Meyer is the man I'm depending on," Sawyer said. "If he comes up to what I expect, we'll be off and running from the beginning of the race."

"Pardon my skepticism" was the reaction of some of those in camp not fully acquainted with all sides of the Meyer personality.

They granted that Russ can win when he is right. But they couldn't forget the Meyer who exploded when something went wrong.

It's an old story about the Meyer tantrums, going back to his days with the Chicago Cubs. Both Meyer and Sawyer feel, however, that the famous temper is at least under control.

Asked if Meyer is in better condition this year than he has been in the last few seasons, Sawyer asserted:

"Meyer is always in good shape. I've never had to worry about that. He's had things preying on his mind in the past that have now been taken care of. I think he'll be okay this year.

"We're counting on Robin Roberts and Meyer to be the one-two pitching threat. The other pitchers we're counting upon have done well. Here and there they've slipped. That's to be expected. No pitcher has ever been letter perfect each time he went out. But if Roberts and Meyer can fulfill the jobs I have in mind for them, we'll be all right."

Ex-Michigan Football Ace, Sports Writer Dies

BELLEVILLE, Ill., March 22 (AP)—Tod Rockwell, 52, quarterback on the University of Michigan football team in 1922, 1923 and 1924, died today at Scott Field Air Force Base here of a heart attack.

He was civilian aide to Lt. Gen. Robert W. Harper, commanding general of the air training command, a position he had held for the last eight years.

Rockwell formerly was a sports writer for the Detroit Free Press and covered Michigan football games for that paper for more than 10 yers.

During World War II Rockwell served overseas with the Seabees, afterwards returning to the Free Press. Later he started his own newspaper, "Sports Final," in Detroit.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete but burial will be in Detroit.

ALBANY, Calif., March 22 (AP)—Big Noise charged into the lead at the far turn to win the $10,000-added Berkeley Handicap at Golden Gate fields today by three lengths.

Ralph Neves, veteran from Arcadia, Calif., was in the saddle, weighted at 118 pounds.

Haltafire, the favorite, raced second and Horsetrader-Ed was third.

A crowd of 22,650 saw Big Noise win handily in the race for three-year-olds.

Big Noise, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry James of Hollywood, Calif., paid $8.60, $3.70 and $3.10. Horsetrader-Ed paid $4.30. horsetrader-Ed paid $4.30.

Phil D. closed with a stirring stretch run to win the $7,500 point Fleming Handicap.

Aegean ran second and Reighs Bull, the favorite, was third.

Phil D. owned by W. C. Martin, of Stratford, Tex., was ridden by Ray York of San Diego. The four-year-old colt had a time for the six furlongs of 1:11 4-5.

Phil D. paid $6.90, $3.90 and $2.80; Aegean $4.30 and $2.80. Reighs Bull $2.50.

BEARS GET SMITH

CHICAGO, March 22 (AP) — The Chicago Bears announced today the signing of Larry Smith, University of South Carolina center, for the 1952 National Football League season. Smith, whose home is in Cadogan, Pa., is 22 and weighs 226 pounds.

More Donations To Little League

Donations from "Pap" Strauss, C. O. Boyd of Calhoun, and George Guerriero Insurance Company have the Little League baseball park building program a $76 boost yesterday, it was announced by Jack Hesketh, league secretary.

A contribution of $50, previously listed as pledged by The Lieber Company, also has been forwarded to the Little League.

The building program now needs slightly less than $3,000 to complete the miniature stadium. Work on the project at Bernstein Park began Wednesday under the supervision of Raymond Masling of Frank Masling and Son, local contractors.

Chuck Darling Big 10's Most Valuable Cager

CHICAGO, March 22 (AP)—Chuck Darling, Iowa center who established new conference scoring marks this season, tonight was named the most valuable basketball player in the Big Ten.

Darling was a near-unanimous choice of the selection committee. He obtained 20 of 20 first place votes.

Rod Fletcher, Illinois captain and guard, was second; Albert Nicholas, Wisconsin guard, was third; and Carl McNulty, Purdue center, was fourth.

As the conference's most valuable man, Darling will receive a silver basketball, actual size, at a time and place to be designated by him.

BROWNS SIGN END

WAR IN EUROPE

from this anti-Truman States rights stronghold.

The general touched on purely Southern problems only once.

"Of possibly most immediate concern to the South," he said, "has been the manner in which this federal autocracy has sought by the unconstitutional assumption of authority and power of inordinate taxation to seize or suppress the sovereign powers expressly reserved to the states.

"Efforts to sequester their tideland resources or to regulate their purely social problems are among the many recent incidents."

MacArthur repeated his denunciation of the Truman foreign policy along the lines of his speeches following his dismissal as Far Eastern commander last summer.

The administration, he declared, killed chances of an early Allied victory in Korea and left the troops to face death in a stalemate while the Communists built up strength where they needed it most.

"We had them fight to a stalemated position on the Peninsula," he said. "And left them there to die in a deadlocked struggle of positions and attrition while we entered into so-called 'cease-fire' negotiations, universally interpreted as our suing for peace."

"These negotiations have been underway for eight months, the only noticeable result being that the enemy has gained time to bring up artillery, air and mechanical transport and to perfect his anti-aircraft defenses and communications, all to gain strength where his weakness was most pronounced."

Applause burst forth again when he solemnly said "As long as history is written, the shame of this will be recorded . . ."

Dark clouds hung over the capitol as the general spoke. Behind him on a temporary platform sat the Mississippi Senators and Representatives who invited him to speak.

The general departed from the prepared text of his address at only one point.

After quoting Daniel Webster that "if these columns of constitutional liberty fall they will not be raised again. They will be the monuments of a more glorious edifice than Greece and Rome, the edifice of constitutional liberty," MacArthur added:

"Had he been alive today he would have spoke again the same way."

The general said that "despite the billions we have poured abroad, I doubt that we have gained a single Communist convert to the cause of human freedom or inspired new or deeper friendships."

The billions Amercia has contributed has made little progress in convincing Western Europeans they should throw themselves to the task of building up their own defenses, he said.

"We hear no clamor to pledge their own lives, their own fortunes, and their own sacred honor in defense of their liberties," he said.

Turning to the domestic scene, MacArthur accused the government of "irresponsibility" and said even "shocking disclosures of graft and corruption" in public life "seemingly fail to stir the conscience of our leaders."

It is increasingly clear, he said that American fiscal policy is being brought into consonance with the Karl Marx Communist theory.

The general, with his wife and son Arthur and members of their party, were met at the airport by Gov. Hugh White and Mrs. White, Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Carrol Gartin, and a delegation of legislators and their wives.

Mrs. MacArthur greeted Mrs. White saying "I'm so sorry we're late. I just about died over your having to stand here waiting so long."

The general was paraded through Jackson in an open convertible.

After his speech MacArthur and his party had a "Dixie" luncheon at the governor's mansion.

They left on the chartered airliner at 4:30 p. m. (CST) to visit Natchez, Miss., and attend the pilgrimage through the old Mississippi River town's antebellum mansions.

In Natchez the MacArthurs will again be the center of a parade and later attend a buffet dinner as guests of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Tomorrow the MacArthur party will fly to Little Rock, Ark., where the general will visit his birthplace at the U. S. Arsenal and the Christ Episcopal church where he was baptized.

said, "that the advice and counsel of these people who represent business, labor, industry, and professional men of our community is invaluable. I pledge to the people of Monroe that such advice, which in my belief represents the opinions of the entire community, is of paramount importance to any public official."

Mayor Coon said he would continue every progressive step towards the further building of the city.

The present mayor is a member of the First Methodist Church and a former member of the board of stewards. Before taking office as mayor he conducted a successful [illegible] business for a long period of time.

He is a member of the Monroe [illegible] Club, Woodmen of the World, [illegible] Star Lodge No. 24, Monroe [illegible] No. 28, R. A. M., Monroe [illegible] No. 1, R. S. and M., [illegible] Commandery No. 7, El [illegible], Knights of Pythias [illegible].

Deaths

T. C. BURKETT

RAYVILLE, La., March 21—(Special)—Funeral services for T. C. Burkett, who died Friday night at his home, were held today at 3 p.m. Interment, under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home here, was conducted in the Rayville Masonic Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hattie Burkett, of Rayville, two daughters, Mrs. Ramsey Gay, of Shreveport, and Mrs. Lucille Lamb, of Rayville, and a brother, Mack Burkett, of Jackson.

MRS. INEZ SIMS BUTLER

DELHI, La., March 22.—(Special)—Mrs. Inez Sims Butler, former resident of Monroe, died at her residence in Steubenville, O., recently. The body will arrive Monday at Delhi and will be taken to the Mulhern Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements were incomplete late last night.

Interment will be conducted at the Epps cemetery.

Mrs. Butler is survived by her mother, Mrs. Mary Sims, of Epps; her husband, C. D. Butler, of Steubenville; three daughters, Mrs. Mrs. John D. Fryer, of Delhi, Mrs. Robert Alexander, Mrs. Ladrell Moody, both of Steubenville and a son, John Thornton, of Steubenville.

MRS. MARY A. GOSSETT

Mrs. A. Gossett, 71, Monroe, died yesterday afternoon of a heart attack. Funeral arrangements were incomplete late last night but will be held at Peters Funeral chapel. Interment will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Gossett was a native of Batesville, Ark., but had lived in Monroe for the past 29 years.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. B. W. Wallace, of Swartz; one son, John McClain, of Monroe; a brother H. L. Emerson, of Pleasant Pains, Ark.; 10 grandchildren and eight grandchildren.

MRS. C. H. CALKINS

Mrs. C. H. Calkins, 82, died in a Monroe hospital Saturday.

Funeral services will be held at the West Monroe First Methodist Church at 3 p. m. Sunday with Rev. R. H. Staples officiating. He will be assisted by Reverend Alston of Huttig, Ark. Burial will be in the Hasley Cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home. A short prayer will be held at the Mulhearn Chapel before leaving for the church.

Mrs. Calkins is survived by her husband, C. H. Calkins of Bolding, Ark., and three daughters, Mrs. Ethel Maroney of Perryville; Mrs. W. W. Lofton of West Monroe; and Mrs. E. R. Callison of Perryville. Other survivors are a son, Clyde Calkins of Camden, Ark., and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Calkins was a member of the Methodist Church in Bolding, Ark. She was born in England. She had made her home in Bolding for the past thirty years, but had been visiting her daughters here for the past few months.

Pallbearers will be David Hunt, Marvin Griffin, Sam Free, E. H. Williamson, Billy Ray Nelsom, Woody Weatherly, and M. P. Weatherly.

U. E. GARRISON

DELHI, La., March 22 (Special)—Ulysses Eli Garrison, 71, of Rayville, died this morning at an Alexandria hospital. Pallbearers will be J. B. Rainer, J. C. Boyce, Reggie Jones, Edgar Duncan, Fred Lilliecrat and Irley Sharbono.

Red Cross Drive Forging Ahead

The Ouachita parish chapter of the American Red Cross has reached the $27,025 mark in its drive to reach a quota of $40,000 for this year, Harold Brady, general chairman, said yesterday.

The chairman said that although the amount was still far from the goal set for this parish, he was confident that the goal "will be reached by the end of the month." He termed as "aboslutely necessary" the reaching of the parish quota, pointing out that a large percentage of the national fund goal will be used for the "blood for Korea" program. Brady said the Red Cross had set aside $12,642,900 for its "blood for Korea" program and may have to utilize more if a heavier casualty list is reported.

Also in the Korean program of the Red Cross, Brady said, were 11,000 food packages waiting distribution to prisoners in the war zones when and if access can be obtained by the Red Cross International Committee. In addition to the food packages, a large number of medical camp kits are awaiting this same approval.

PROCLAIM NURSE RECRUITMENT WEEK

Mayor John E. Coon, in cooperation with the Louisiana Nursing organizations, recently signed a proclamation declaring today through March 29 as Nurse Recruitment Week and praised the nursing profession for its work and dedication to the general public. Acting as co-sponsors of the week are the Auxiliary of the Ouachita Parish Medical Society and the Monroe District Nurses Association. Looking on as Mayor Coon signed the proclamation were Mrs. Prentice Gray, president of the Medical Auxiliary, Mrs. Ralph Talbot, Mrs. Emment D. Otwell, co-chairman, and Miss Beverly Andre, clinical coordinator of the Monroe division, Department of Nursing at Northwestern State College and nurse recruitment chairman of the Monroe district.

ton School, Neville High School, and the present Monroe Colored High School.

Completion of the program hereinabove mentioned will place the Monroe city schools in the position stated in the final conclusions of the study and report of curriculum and building needs prepared under the direction of Dr. M. S. Robertson of the Bureau of Educational Research of the College of Education of Louisiana State University, and reviewed and approved by Dr. N. E. Viles of the United States Office of Education, as follows:

1. Every child will be housed in a modern school plant.

2. Monroe's school facilities for all children will be among the best to be found anywhere in comparable cities.

3. Monroe will have school facilities of which any city would be proud.

FRESH WAVE

vious storm was June 5, 1946, when 86 died.

The Nation's worst tornado disaster occurred March 18, 1925, when in a single day 689 people died in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

The tornadoes plunged into Arkansas through "tornado valley," given that name because of the frequence of the big winds in the past. They blitzed the state in a line running from the southwest corner to the northwest tip.

Heart of the stricken area was at Judsonia, near Swarcy.

From there Jack Hogan, Associated Press photographer, reported that half the town was wiped out and that, overall, 75 per cent of it was damaged.

From an airplane in which he was making pictures, Hogan said he could see families grouped around small fires seeking to keep warm. Broken timbers of their homes furnished the fuel.

At Searcy Ramon Greenwood, a reporter for the Arkansas Democrat, wrote that he saw a father holding a blood plasma bottle for his desperately injured, four year old daughter.

Students from the University of Arkansas medical school at Little Rock were helping, Greenwood continued, and other students from a local school were serving as stretcher bearers.

Eyewitnesses at Caruthersville, Mo., said there was rain, thunder and lightning, a terrifying roar, and the silence, just before the storm hit.

Alf Greenwood of Cottonwood Point, observed, "houses were toppled and blown to bits and fields were leveled, just like there had been an invisible claw."

Mrs. Bonnie Fennell, who lost her nine month old son in the Cottonwood Point storm, said her shoes were blown off her as the twister picked her up and hurled her into a field.

At Dyersburg, Tenn., the wind picked up the car of Tennessee Highway Patrol Sgt. Joe Williamson and whirled it 300 yards. Williamson was killed.

The tales of death were many and morgues were filled beyond capacity in some of the small towns.

A tally of the dead included:

Arkansas— White County, 92; Dierks, 7; Center Point, 5; Hazen, 3; McCrory, Carlisle, Marked Tree and Hickory Ridge, two each; Manila, Trumann and Wattersaw, one each.

Kentucky— Scottsville, 7; (drowned).

Tennessee— Dyersburg, 14; Henderson, 14; Lexington, 9; Moscow, 6; and one each in Medina, Leach and Chesterfield.

Mississippi— Byhalia, 10, and Cayce, 1.

Missouri— Caruthersville area, 13.

Louisiana— Shreveport 1.

THREE ARRESTED

Monroe police arrested three persons early yesterday afternoon on charges of being drunk and disorderly. Placed under bonds of $15 at the Monroe city jail were Sam Arnold, 40, South Carolina; Arthur Green, 37, Calhoun; and Mack D. Lawes, 71, 308 Ouachita avenue, Monroe.

Agency will insure the couple during the honeymoon trip.

Several other donations are known to be forthcoming and will be announced in the next few days. The total value of the gifts and honeymoon may run well over $3,000 when they are all in.

Hugh Taylor, an official with the Ouachita Valley Jamboree, sponsors of the wedding splash, said several letters of application had already been received from couples throughout this section of the state. He urged that any others who wished to enter write before the April 5 deadline.

"We want every eligible couple within 100 miles of West Monroe to enter if they wish," Taylor said. He said those whose letters have been received have been sent an appointment for personal interview.

Taylor released the following comprehensive list of rules for entering:

1. Neither can have been married before.

2. Both must be at least 17 years of age.

3. The bride must have her parents' consent.

4. They must live within a 100 mile radius of West Monroe.

5. Must agree to come to West Monroe for a personal interview at the request of the selection committee.

6. In writing the letter, they must give their names, age, address and phone number if possible. Also, a picture of each should be sent, but is not required.

7. Letter must be written to box 3387 West Monroe, before midnight Saturday, April 5.

quarter safely in her hand.

Then came time for descent. It seemed impossible. Shivering on the edge of the roof she stood, while other pupils rushed into the principal's office and told what had happened.

The principal called the West Monroe fire department that responded with hook and ladder, and Berinda, still tightly clasping the coveted quarter, was brought down to earth in safety.

Air travel, to and from Monroe is on the gain, states the Civil Aeronautics board in its latest survey.

The increase in passenger traffic at Monroe, among the regularly scheduled airline services, was 16.4 percent in the period, as compared with a national increase of only 10.7 percent.

A total of 1,132 passengers, of which 540 were inbound and 592 outbound, were counted at the local airport in the one month studied, compared with 973 the other time. They took trips averaging 381 miles.

This amounted to 430,925 passenger miles for the month, a rate of 5,160,000 passenger miles flown on an annual basis.

This extent of air travel gave Monroe a ranking well above average among the 504 cities from which scheduled airlines operate. The CAB places it 172nd with respect to passengers carried and 168th in rank with respect to passenger miles.

Monroe will have its first chance to see Clyde Kitchen's Big Game hunting pictures in the OPHS auditorium, Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. They are being shown through the sponsorship of the Civitan club and views like these have never been shown in Monroe before.

They will interest all ages and the price is so low that all lovers of the great outdoors will want to attend this showing. Tickets will be sold at the door or are available from any Civitan member.

Monroe Girl Scouts and their wide following in Monroe were pleased to read the well illustrated stories of this great group in the current issue of Life. All who have not read these should do so at once. Collier's magazine previously devoted two pages of color pictures to Scouting during the month.

Mrs. C. E. Faulk states that she is starting life all over again, while her son Clarence and his wife are on a two months' tour of Europe, for in their absence she has two Faulk grandchildren living with her. Amelia has been placed in the Mitchell school, West Monroe, while her older brother is in OPHS. Mrs. Faulk declares it is really a great experience to have young people once more committed to her charge.

The European trip will last two months during which time Mr. and Mrs. Faulk will visit England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Italy and France. The trip is a conducted tour and started with passage on the Queen Mary.

Local Police Seek Escapees

Monroe, West Monroe, and state police today were searching for two boys who left the Louisiana Training Institute early yesterday morning. They were also seeking an automobile that was stolen from Lennon Motor Company here sometime Friday night.

Institute authorities reported to the police at 8:44 a. m. yesterday that two boys, both 15 years old with brown hair and brown yes, had left the institute at approximately 5 a. m. yesterday and E. S. Wells reported at 9:15 a. m. that a blue 1950 Tudor Pontiac had been stolen some time after 9 p. m. Friday night from the Lennon Motor Company, at the corner of Third and Washington here.

Police made no connection between the two occurrences.

FIRE ALARMS

The Monroe fire department yesterday morning answered two fire alarms one at a sand house at the Missouri Pacific railroad shops and the other a truck fire at Sixth and Louisville.

Fire companies 102 and 104 answered a call to the Missouri Pacific shops at 4:45 a. m. yesterday to extinguish a fire in the M. P. sand house, and reported back to the station at 6:36 a. m. No estimate of the damage was available late yesterday.

At 8:20 a. m. yesterday company 103 was called out to douse a truck fire at Sixth and Louisville. The truck, owned by Eddie Cooper, caught fire because of a gas leak in the motor. Damage was reportedly light and the truck reported back to the station at 8.30 p. m.

WATCH SMUGGLING EXPECTED

SINGAPORE (AP)—Watch dealers have issued a warning that smuggling of good quality watchse into the colony will follow the cut in imports to 25 per cent of present volume.

The Singapore and Malayan governments ordered the cut to conserve dollars and other hard currencies now being expended on watch imports.

from this anti-Truman States rights stronghold.

The general touched on purely Southern problems only once.

"Of possibly most immediate concern to the South," he said, "has been the manner in which this federal autocracy has sought by the unconstitutional assumption of authority and power of inordinate taxation to seize or suppress the sovereign powers expressly reserved to the states.

"Efforts to sequester their tideland resources or to regulate their purely social problems are among the many recent incidents."

MacArthur repeated his denunciation of the Truman foreign policy along the lines of his speeches following his dismissal as Far Eastern commander last summer.

The administration, he declared, killed chances of an early Allied victory in Korea and left the troops to face death in a stalemate while the Communists built up strength where they needed it most.

"We had them fight to a stalemated position on the Peninsula," he said. "And left them there to die in a deadlocked struggle of positions and attrition while we entered into so-called 'cease-fire' negotiations, universally interpreted as our suing for peace."

"These negotiations have been underway for eight months, the only noticeable result being that the enemy has gained time to bring up artillery, air and mechanical transport and to perfect his anti-aircraft defenses and communications, all to gain strength where his weakness was most pronounced."

Applause burst forth again when he solemnly said "As long as history is written, the shame of this will be recorded . . ."

Dark clouds hung over the capitol as the general spoke. Behind him on a temporary platform sat the Mississippi Senators and Representatives who invited him to speak.

The general departed from the prepared text of his address at only one point.

After quoting Daniel Webster that "if these columns of constitutional liberty fall they will not be raised again. They will be the monuments of a more glorious edifice than Greece and Rome, the edifice of constitutional liberty," MacArthur added:

"Had he been alive today he would have spoke again the same way."

The general said that "despite the billions we have poured abroad, I doubt that we have gained a single Communist convert to the cause of human freedom or inspired new or deeper friendships."

The billions Amercia has contributed has made little progress in convincing Western Europeans they should throw themselves to the task of building up their own defenses, he said.

"We hear no clamor to pledge their own lives, their own fortunes, and their own sacred honor in defense of their liberties," he said.

Turning to the domestic scene, MacArthur accused the government of "irresponsibility" and said even "shocking disclosures of graft and corruption" in public life "seemingly fail to stir the conscience of our leaders."

It is increasingly clear, he said that American fiscal policy is being brought into consonance with the Karl Marx Communist theory.

The general, with his wife and son Arthur and members of their party, were met at the airport by Gov. Hugh White and Mrs. White, Lt. Gov. and Mrs. Carrol Gartin, and a delegation of legislators and their wives.

Mrs. MacArthur greeted Mrs. White saying "I'm so sorry we're late. I just about died over your having to stand here waiting so long."

The general was paraded through Jackson in an open convertible.

After his speech MacArthur and his party had a "Dixie" luncheon at the governor's mansion.

They left on the chartered airliner at 4:30 p. m. (CST) to visit Natchez, Miss., and attend the pilgrimage through the old Mississippi River town's antebellum mansions.

In Natchez the MacArthurs will again be the center of a parade and later attend a buffet dinner as guests of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Tomorrow the MacArthur party will fly to Little Rock, Ark., where the general will visit his birthplace at the U. S. Arsenal and the Christ Episcopal church where he was baptized.

said, "that the advice and counsel of these people who represent business, labor, industry, and professional men of our community is invaluable. I pledge to the people of Monroe that such advice, which in my belief represents the opinions of the entire community, is of paramount importance to any public official."

Mayor Coon said he would continue every progressive step towards the further building of the city.

The present mayor is a member of the First Methodist Church and a former member of the board of stewards. Before taking office as mayor he conducted a successful insurance business for a long period of time.

He is a member of the Monroe Lions Club, Woodmen of the World, Western Star Lodge No. 24, Monroe Chapter No. 18, R. A. M., Monroe Council, No. 8, R. S. and M., Monroe Commandery No. 7, El Karubah Temple, Knights of Pythias, and Knights of Khorassan.

Red Cross Drive Forging Ahead

The Ouachita parish chapter of the American Red Cross has reached the $27,025 mark in its drive to reach a quota of $40,000 for this year, Harold Brady, general chairman, said yesterday.

The chairman said that although the amount was still far from the goal set for this parish, he was confident that the goal "will be reached by the end of the month." He termed as "aboslutely necessary" the reaching of the parish quota, pointing out that a large percentage of the national fund goal will be used for the "blood for Korea" program. Brady said the Red Cross had set aside $12,642,900 for its "blood for Korea" program and may have to utilize more if a heavier casualty list is reported.

Also in the Korean program of the Red Cross, Brady said, were 11,000 food packages waiting distribution to prisoners in the war zones when and if access can be obtained by the Red Cross International Committee. In addition to the food packages, a large number of medical camp kits are awaiting this same approval.

ton School, Neville High School, and the present Monroe Colored High School.

Completion of the program hereinabove mentioned will place the Monroe city schools in the position stated in the final conclusions of the study and report of curriculum and building needs prepared under the direction of Dr. M. S. Robertson of the Bureau of Educational Research of the College of Education of Louisiana State University, and reviewed and approved by Dr. N. E. Viles of the United States Office of Education, as follows:

1. Every child will be housed in a modern school plant.
2. Monroe's school facilities for all children will be among the best to be found anywhere in comparable cities.
3. Monroe will have school facilities of which any city would be proud.

vious storm was June 5, 1946, when 86 died.

The Nation's worst tornado disaster occurred March 18, 1925, when in a single day 689 people died in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana.

The tornadoes plunged into Arkansas through "tornado valley," given that name because of the frequence of the big winds in the past. They blitzed the state in a line running from the southwest corner to the northwest tip.

Heart of the stricken area was at Judsonia, near Swarcy.

From there Jack Hogan, Associated Press photographer, reported that half the town was wiped out and that, overall, 75 per cent of it was damaged.

From an airplane in which he was making pictures, Hogan said he could see families grouped around small fires seeking to keep warm. Broken timbers of their homes furnished the fuel.

At Searcy Ramon Greenwood, a reporter for the Arkansas Democrat, wrote that he saw a father holding a blood plasma bottle for his desperately injured, four year old daughter.

Students from the University of Arkansas medical school at Little Rock were helping, Greenwood continued, and other students from a local school were serving as stretcher bearers.

Eyewitnesses at Caruthersville, Mo., said there was rain, thunder and lightning, a terrifying roar, and the silence, just before the storm hit.

Alf Greenwood of Cottonwood Point, observed, "houses were toppled and blown to bits and fields were leveled, just like there had been an invisible claw."

Mrs. Bonnie Fennell, who lost her nine month old son in the Cottonwood Point storm, said her shoes were blown off her as the twister picked her up and hurled her into a field.

At Dyersburg, Tenn., the wind picked up the car of Tennessee Highway Patrol Sgt. Joe Williamson and whirled it 300 yards. Williamson was killed.

The tales of death were many and morgues were filled beyond capacity in some of the small towns.

A tally of the dead included:

Arkansas— White County, 92; Dierks, 7; Center Point, 5; Hazen, 3; McCrory, Carlisle, Marked Tree and Hickory Ridge, two each; Manila, Trumann and Wattersaw, one each.

Kentucky— Scottsville, 7; (drowned).

Tennessee— Dyersburg, 14; Henderson, 14; Lexington, 9; Moscow, 6; and one each in Medina, Leach and Chesterfield.

Mississippi— Byhalia, 10, and Cayce, 1.

Missouri— Caruthersville area, 13.

Louisiana— Shreveport 1.

THREE ARRESTED

Monroe police arrested three persons early yesterday afternoon on charges of being drunk and disorderly. Placed under bonds of $15 at the Monroe city jail were Sam Arnold, 40, South Carolina; Arthur Green, 37, Calhoun; and Mack D. Lawes, 71, 308 Ouachita avenue, Monroe.

Agency will insure the couple during the honeymoon trip.

Several other donations are known to be forthcoming and will be announced in the next few days. The total value of the gifts and honeymoon may run well over $3,000 when they are all in.

Hugh Taylor, an official with the Ouachita Valley Jamboree, sponsors of the wedding splash, said several letters of application had already been received from couples throughout this section of the state. He urged that any others who wished to enter write before the April 5 deadline.

"We want every eligible couple within 100 miles of West Monroe to enter if they wish," Taylor said. He said those whose letters have been received have been sent an appointment for personal interview.

Taylor released the following comprehensive list of rules for entering:

1. Neither can have been married before.
2. Both must be at least 17 years of age.
3. The bride must have her parents' consent.
4. They must live within a 100 mile radius of West Monroe.
5. Must agree to come to West Monroe for a personal interview at the request of the selection committee.
6. In writing the letter, they must give their names, age, address and phone number if possible. Also, a picture of each should be sent, but is not required.
7. Letter must be written to box 3387 West Monroe, before midnight Saturday, April 5.

quarter safely in her hand.

Then came time for descent. It seemed impossible. Shivering on the edge of the roof she stood, while other pupils rushed into the principal's office and told what had happened.

The principal called the West Monroe fire department that responded with hook and ladder, and Berinda, still tightly clasping the coveted quarter, was brought down to earth in safety.

Air travel, to and from Monroe is on the gain, states the Civil Aeronautics board in its latest survey.

The increase in passenger traffic at Monroe, among the regularly scheduled airline services, was 16.4 percent in the period, as compared with a national increase of only 10.7 percent.

A total of 1,132 passengers, of which 540 were inbound and 592 outbound, were counted at the local airport in the one month studied, compared with 973 the other time. They took trips averaging 381 miles.

This amounted to 430,925 passenger miles for the month, a rate of 5,160,000 passenger miles flown on an annual basis.

This extent of air travel gave Monroe a ranking well above average among the 504 cities from which scheduled airlines operate. The CAB places it 172nd with respect to passengers carried and 168th in rank with respect to passenger miles.

Monroe will have its first chance to see Clyde Kitchen's Big Game hunting pictures in the OPHS auditorium, Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. They are being shown through the sponsorship of the Civitan club and views like these have never been shown in Monroe before.

They will interest all ages and the price is so low that all lovers of the great outdoors will want to attend this showing. Tickets will be sold at the door or are available from any Civitan member.

Monroe Girl Scouts and their wide following in Monroe were pleased to read the well illustrated stories of this great group in the current issue of Life. All who have not read these should do so at once. Collier's magazine previously devoted two pages of color pictures to Scouting during the month.

Mrs. C. E. Faulk states that she is starting life all over again, while her son Clarence and his wife are on a two months' tour of Europe, for in their absence she has two Faulk grandchildren living with her. Amelia has been placed in the Mitchell school, West Monroe, while her older brother is in OPHS. Mrs. Faulk declares it is really a great experience to have young people once more committed to her charge.

The European trip will last two months during which time Mr. and Mrs. Faulk will visit England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Italy and France. The trip is a conducted tour and started with passage on the Queen Mary.

Local Police Seek Escapees

Monroe, West Monroe, and state police today were searching for two boys who left the Louisiana Training Institute early yesterday morning. They were also seeking an automobile that was stolen from Lennon Motor Company here sometime Friday night.

Institute authorities reported to the police at 8:44 a. m. yesterday that two boys, both 15 years old with brown hair and brown yes, had left the institute at approximately 5 a. m. yesterday and E. S. Wells reported at 9:15 a. m. that a blue 1950 Tudor Pontiac had been stolen some time after 9 p. m. Friday night from the Lennon Motor Company, at the corner of Third and Washington here.

Police made no connection between the two occurrences.

FIRE ALARMS

The Monroe fire department yesterday morning answered two fire alarms one at a sand house at the Missouri Pacific railroad shops and the other a truck fire at Sixth and Louisville.

Fire companies 102 and 104 answered a call to the Missouri Pacific shops at 4:45 a. m. yesterday to extinguish a fire in the M. P. sand house, and reported back to the station at 6:36 a. m. No estimate of the damage was available late yesterday.

At 8:20 a. m. yesterday company 103 was called out to douse a truck fire at Sixth and Louisville. The truck, owned by Eddie Cooper, caught fire because of a gas leak in the motor. Damage was reportedly light and the truck reported back to the station at 8:30 p. m.

WATCH SMUGGLING EXPECTED

SINGAPORE (AP)—Watch dealers have issued a warning that smuggling of good quality watchse into the colony will follow the cut in imports to 25 per cent of present volume.

The Singapore and Malayan governments ordered the cut to conserve dollars and other hard currencies now being expended on watch imports.

Mud Is Important Factor In Search For Oil Wells

By WILBUR MARTIN

HOUSTON, Tex., March 22(AP)—Maybe you couldn't sell those mud pies you made as a kid for a plug nickle, but mud is big business now—and an essential part of the oil industry.

It isn't the same kind of mud that makes mothers wince when Junior comes galloping into the house. Research engineers have fondled this mud in the same manner you probably did when you were making those pies.

Maybe you can't see why mud would be important in drilling an oil well. But it is, with these principal functions:

Overcoming gas, oil and water flows—and preventing blowouts; keeping the hole free of cuttings; preventing the walls of the hole from caving; cooling the bit and lubricating the drill stem, and securing proper information from the well and not damaging productive beds.

Of these, preventing blowouts and securing information from the hole are the most important, in the opinion of James W. Bugbee.

Bugbee is with Baroid, one of the biggest and probably the oldest of the concerns specializing in drilling mud.

"The cuttings that the mud brings up will tell you what you've actually got in the hole," he said, "and in a wildcat well—that's all important."

You don't just mix a lot of mud over where you're going to drill and then start. You force the mud down the drilling stem, making sure you've got just the right amount and the right type.

Type can vary, almost from location, but generally in areas. What's good mud in the Mid-Continent area may not be quite right on the Gulf Coast.

Bentonite— or soapstone — forms the basis for one of two basic types of drilling mud offered by Baroid. This is the same bentonite used as a base for women's face powder.

It is mined in chunks, then put through a high refining process.

Spotless laboratories, emaculate research personnel, and highly complicated equipment signal the respectability — and importance — of mud. A far cry from its first mention of mud in connection with oil well drilling.

This was in 1897, Bugbee said, when there was reference to "driving cattle through a tank to stir up the mud on the bottom" and then "forcing the mud into the hole."

Mud as big business dates back only since the early thirties. Then, Bugebee said, wells started getting deeper and mud took on added importance.

New Shirt Styles Team Well With Spring Slacks

The sport shirt, which buttons down at the collar, is an excellent buy as it may be worn with or without a tie and is at home with either. Newest cotton T-shirts are so well-made and handsome that they have become a must for every man who longs for both style and comfort.

Slacks are one of the most important parts of a man's wardrobe. They're handsome for office wear and appropriate for leisure and active sports, and definitely a prerequisite for vacation travel. The high-waisted Hollywood style continues to reign. New details such as offset pockets, back-flap pockets and saddle stitching merit your attention.

Denim For Men

Practical equipment for the outdoor man . . . devotee of sun and sand . . . the ever-loving denim with faded blue the favorite color. Now well-tailored, with pleated slacks . . . zipped waist-length jackets or the longer belted coats worn with the cotton T-shirt in navy blue, often collared with tags of red and white. The shoe: navy denim, white-laced with heavy crepe soles.

Mud Is Important Factor In Search For Oil Wells

By WILBUR MARTIN

HOUSTON, Tex., March 22(AP)—Maybe you couldn't sell those mud pies you made as a kid for a plug nickle, but mud is big business now—and an essential part of the oil industry.

It isn't the same kind of mud that makes mothers wince when Junior comes galloping into the house. Research engineers have fondled this mud in the same manner you probably did when you were making those pies.

Maybe you can't see why mud would be important in drilling an oil well. But it is, with these principal functions:

Overcoming gas, oil and water flows—and preventing blowouts; keeping the hole free of cuttings; preventing the walls of the hole from caving; cooling the bit and lubricating the drill stem, and securing proper information from the well and not damaging productive beds.

Of these, preventing blowouts and securing information from the hole are the most important, in the opinion of James W. Bugbee.

Bugbee is with Baroid, one of the biggest and probably the oldest of the concerns specializing in drilling mud.

"The cuttings that the mud brings up will tell you what you've actually got in the hole," he said, "and in a wildcat well—that's all important."

You don't just mix a lot of mud over where you're going to drill and then start. You force the mud down the drilling stem, making sure you've got just the right amount and the right type.

Type can vary, almost from location, but generally in areas. What's good mud in the Mid-Continent area may not be quite right on the Gulf Coast.

Bentonite— or soapstone — forms the basis for one of two basic types of drilling mud offered by Baroid. This is the same bentonite used as a base for women's face powder.

It is mined in chunks, then put through a high refining process.

Spotless laboratories, emaculate research personnel, and highly complicated equipment signal the respectability — and importance — of mud. A far cry from its first mention of mud in connection with oil well drilling.

This was in 1897, Bugbee said, when there was reference to "driving cattle through a tank to stir up the mud on the bottom" and then "forcing the mud into the hole."

Mud as big business dates back only since the early thirties. Then, Bugebee said, wells started getting deeper and mud took on added importance.

New Shirt Styles Team Well With Spring Slacks

The sport shirt, which buttons down at the collar, is an excellent buy as it may be worn with or without a tie and is at home with either. Newest cotton T-shirts are so well-made and handsome tha they have become a must for every man who longs for both style and comfort.

Slacks are one of the most important parts of a man's wardrobe. They're handsome for office wear and appropriate for leisure and active sports, and definitely a prerequisite for vacation travel. The high-waisted Hollywood style continues to reign. New details such as offset pockets, back-flap pockets and saddle stitching merit your attention.

Gloria Ann Morris Weds Charles Raymond Mercer

Bridal Couple Exchange Nuptial Vows At Union Avenue Methodist Church In Memphis

Union Avenue Methodist Church in Memphis, Tenn., was the scene of a candlelight ceremony Saturday, March 8th at eight o'clock in the evening when Miss Gloria Ann Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Morris, of Memphis, became the bride of Charles Raymond Mercer, Mr. Mercer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thedford Homer Mercer of Bastrop.

Southern smilax interspersed with baskets of white gladioli and stock and tiers of glowing tapers in branched candelabra formed a background before which the vows were spoken. Single Cathedral candles marked the bridal aisle.

Dr. Wayne A. Lamb, pastor, officiated.

Mrs. Anti Bell, organist, accompanied Miss Thelma Jean Cunningham, who rendered several vocal selections.

The bride, given in marriage, was lovely in a gown of candlelight satin styled with a portrait neckline edged in lace and long sleeves extending to points over the hands. The full skirt developed into a cathedral train, and she was wearing a crown of matching lace holding fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies.

Miss Mary Ann Knox served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Phyllis Chandler, Miss Edwina Cline and Mrs. Spurgeon Welch Jr. of Bastrop, sister of the bridegroom.

The bridal attendants were wearing hyacinth blue faille gowns fashioned with bertha collars framing the portrait necklines, cap sleeves and full gathered skirts. They wore bonnets and mitts of matching blue faille and strings of pearls, gifts of the bride. Their bouquets were of pink roses tied with pink satin ribbon.

Flower girls were Donna Kay Wilson, cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Wilson, of Memphis, and Brenda Chandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Chandler, of Memphis. Their frocks were of white taffeta styled with full skirts and white bonnets, and they carried pink sweetheart roses.

Robert Gene Rabuin of Bastrop was best man. Groomsmen were James E. Morris, Jr., brother of the bride, Marvin Merritt of Hastings, Neb., and Robert Samuel Parham. Junior groomsmen were Billy Morris, brother of the bride, and Kenneth Mercer, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Morris, mother of the bride, was wearing a purple crepe gown with a V-neckline, short sleeves and a lavender orchid. Mrs. Mercer, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in an aqua chiffon gown over taffeta with a white orchid.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with a white satin cloth and centered by a tiered cake between crystal candelabra holding white tapers.

Assisting at the reception was Miss Gloria Sullivan, Miss Nancy Clemmer, Miss Carolyn Canfield, Miss Freddie June York and Mrs. Thomas R. Chandler.

The couple then left on a wedding trip, the bride was wearing a navy blue suit with a navy blue straw hat and blue and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. They will make their home in Key West, Fla., where Mr. Mercer is stationed at the Naval Air Station.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Minza Rabun, Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Welch, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gene Rabun, and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Mercer and son Kenneth, all of Bastrop, Mr. Marvin Merritt, of Hastings Neb.

BRIDE AND GROOM

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raymond Mercer shown leaving the Union Ave. Methodist Church in Memphis, Tenn., following their marriage Saturday, March 8th. The bride is the former Gloria Ann Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Morris, of Memphis, Mr. Mercer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thedford Homer Mercer, of Bastrop.

Town And Country Club In Tallulah Has Fashion Show

The annual spring style show sponsored by the Town and Country Club which took place at the Community Club was a most interesting and enjoyable affair. Guests were seated in the ball room where the rear end had been arranged as the interior of a modern dress shop Mrs. W. W. Pippin, president of the club welcomed the visitors.

Mrs. Devonne Payne as the clever and humorous narrator announced the various skits, musical numbers and models in her usual charming style. Mrs. Harold Smith served as the versatile accompanist.

Mrs. R. C. Webb as Madam Dressright, who operated the ladies fashion shop greated, in pantomime, her first customer, mother and daughter, Mrs. Dot Bray and little Dottee Bray. Then tiny tots and older children, who modeled dainty, beautiful, and colorful dresses delighted the guests. The models representing local merchants were Judy Wood, Dianne Webb, Elizabeth Ann Smith, Lillian Loe and Wallis Regenold. And those modeling sister dresses were Karen and Cherry Moberley and Susan and Sandra Grace.

This was followed by a group of children giving an interesting square dance with excellent performance. The participating couples were Ann DeMoss and Bill Pippin, Beverly Allen and Walter Scott, Mary Jo Provine and Edward Eiland and Carolyn Friis and Mark Brown.

The next customer in the shop was Daisy Mae Scraggs of the Li'l Abner comic strip, in her typical Dog Patch costume and bare feet, who wished to buy some "store bought clothes." She held a glass jar containing coins which had been carefully horded for the desired purchase. Daisy Mae was portrayed by Mrs. W. R. Roper.

In her best effort to please this new customer, Madam Dressright presented her beautiful spring and summer cotton dresses as the models also representing local merchants passed in review. Daisy Mae's expressive gestures and delighted smiles indicated her complete surprise and fascination.

Following this Miss Harriet Smith and Miss LeEvelyn Grace in picturesque costumes gave a well executed tap dance. They are students of the Beaufait School of Dance.

Next came the parade of exquisite evening dresses as Daisy Mae sat entranced. Models for these and the cotton dresses included Miss Carolyn Foster, Miss Mary Elizabeth Ezell, Miss Marguerite Everett, Miss Jane Vernon Sevier, Miss Bitsy Adams, Mrs. Robert Wily Gandy, Miss Norma Jean Gaspard, Mrs. Elizabeth Kincaid, Mrs. Edgar Lancaster, Mrs. Ralph Loe, Mrs. Homer Erwin, Mrs. Stuart Moberley, Mrs. Billy Grace, Mrs. Warren Sevier, Miss Celie Benjamin, Mrs. Robert Todd, Mrs. George Kimbrough and Mrs. James Wallace.

In conclusion Daisy Mae made her selection and appeared in a beautiful blue evening gown which transformed her appearance as Miss Norma Jean Gaspard sang, "In My Alice Blue Gown."

Following the program delicious iced punch and confections were served from the prettily appointed refreshment table centered with an arrangement of purple and white irises and spirea flanked by white tapers in crystal holders.

March Meeting Of Calhoun P.-T. A. Held

Calhoun Parent-Teachers' Association met in regular session in the high school auditorium on March 10.

The feature of the program was a puppet show presented by students of Mrs. John Platt, art instructor at Ouachita Parish High School, Monroe, and former graduate of Calhoun High School.

Mrs. Alex Vardeman gave a reading which was enjoyed by the members.

Officers for the new year were elected as follows: Mrs. Lloyd Coon, president; Mrs. M. A. Thompson, vice-president; Mrs. E. H. Farr, secretary; Mrs. R. O. Sutton, treasurer.

Installation will be held on April 14 in the school cafeteria.

Inspection of the first aid room at the close of the meeting was an event of interest, since the room has been completely furnished by the P. T. A. with special credit going to Mrs. Lloyd Coon and Mrs. H. W. Griggs.

Gloria Ann Morris Weds Charles Raymond Mercer

Bridal Couple Exchange Nuptial Vows At Union Avenue Methodist Church In Memphis

Union Avenue Methodist Church in Memphis, Tenn., was the scene of a candlelight ceremony Saturday, March 8th at eight o'clock in the evening when Miss Gloria Ann Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Morris, of Memphis, became the bride of Charles Raymond Mercer, Mr. Mercer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thedford Homer Mercer of Bastrop.

Southern smilax interspersed with baskets of white gladioli and stock and tiers of glowing tapers in branched candelabra formed a background before which the vows were spoken. Single Cathedral candles marked the bridal aisle.

Dr. Wayne A. Lamb, pastor, officiated.

Mrs. Anti Bell, organist, accompanied Miss Thelma Jean Cunningham, who rendered several vocal selections.

The bride, given in marriage, was lovely in a gown of candlelight satin styled with a portrait neckline edged in lace and long sleeves extending to points over the hands. The full skirt developed into a cathedral train, and she was wearing a crown of matching lace holding fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of calla lilies.

Miss Mary Ann Knox served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Phyllis Chandler, Miss Edwina Cline and Mrs. Spurgeon Welch Jr. of Bastrop, sister of the bridegroom.

The bridal attendants were wearing hyacinth blue faille gowns fashioned with bertha collars framing the portrait necklines, cap sleeves and full gathered skirts. They wore bonnets and mitts of matching blue faille and strings of pearls, gifts of the bride. Their bouquets were of pink roses tied with pink satin ribbon.

Flower girls were Donna Kay Wilson, cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Wilson, of Memphis, and Brenda Chandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Chandler, of Memphis. Their frocks were of white taffeta styled with full skirts and white bonnets, and they carried pink sweetheart roses.

Robert Gene Rabuin of Bastrop was best man. Groomsmen were James E. Morris, Jr., brother of the bride, Marvin Merritt of Hastings, Neb., and Robert Samuel Parham. Junior groomsmen were Billy Morris, brother of the bride, and Kenneth Mercer, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Morris, mother of the bride, was wearing a purple crepe gown with a V-neckline, short sleeves and a lavender orchid. Mrs. Mercer, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in an aqua chiffon gown over taffeta with a white orchid.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The table was laid with a white satin cloth and centered by a tiered cake between crystal candelabra holding white tapers.

Assisting at the reception was Miss Gloria Sullivan, Miss Nancy Clemmer, Miss Carolyn Canfield, Miss Freddie June York and Mrs. Thomas R. Chandler.

The couple then left on a wedding trip, the bride was wearing a navy blue suit with a navy blue straw hat and blue and white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. They will make their home in Key West, Fla., where Mr. Mercer is stationed at the Naval Air Station.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Minza Rabun, Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Welch, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gene Rabun, and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Mercer and son Kenneth, all of Bastrop, Mr. Marvin Merritt, of Hastings Neb.

BRIDE AND GROOM

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raymond Mercer shown leaving the Union Ave. Methodist Church in Memphis, Tenn., following their marriage Saturday, March 8th. The bride is the former Gloria Ann Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Morris, of Memphis, Mr. Mercer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thedford Homer Mercer, of Bastrop.

Town And Country Club In Tallulah Has Fashion Show

The annual spring style show sponsored by the Town and Country Club which took place at the Community Club was a most interesting and enjoyable affair. Guests were seated in the ball room where the rear end had been arranged as the interior of a modern dress shop Mrs. W. W. Pippin, president of the club welcomed the visitors.

Mrs. Devonne Payne as the clever and humorous narrator announced the various skits, musical numbers and models in her usual charming style. Mrs. Harold Smith served as the versatile accompanist.

Mrs. R. C. Webb as Madam Dressright, who operated the ladies fashion shop greated, in pantomime, her first customer, mother and daughter, Mrs. Dot Bray and little Dottee Bray. Then tiny tots and older children, who modeled dainty, beautiful, and colorful dresses delighted the guests. The models representing local merchants were Judy Wood, Dianne Webb, Elizabeth Ann Smith, Lillian Loe and Wallis Regenold. And those modeling sister dresses were Karen and Cherry Moberley and Susan and Sandra Grace.

This was followed by a group of children giving an interesting square dance with excellent performance. The participating couples were Ann DeMoss and Bill Pippin, Beverly Allen and Walter Scott, Mary Jo Provine and Edward Eiland and Carolyn Friis and Mark Brown.

The next customer in the shop was Daisy Mae Scraggs of the Li'l Abner comic strip, in her typical Dog Patch costume and bare feet, who wished to buy some "store bought clothes." She held a glass jar containing coins which had been carefully horded for the desired purchase. Daisy Mae was portrayed by Mrs. W. R. Roper.

In her best effort to please this new customer, Madam Dressright presented her beautiful spring and summer cotton dresses as the models also representing local merchants passed in review. Daisy Mae's expressive gestures and delighted smiles indicated her complete surprise and fascination.

Following this Miss Harriet Smith and Miss LeEvelyn Grace in picturesque costumes gave a well executed tap dance. They are students of the Beaufait School of Dance.

Next came the parade of exquisite evening dresses as Daisy Mae sat entranced. Models for these and the cotton dresses included Miss Carolyn Foster, Miss Mary Elizabeth Ezell, Miss Marguerite Everett, Miss Jane Vernon Sevier, Miss Bitsy Adams, Mrs. Robert Wily Gandy, Miss Norma Jean Gaspard, Mrs. Elizabeth Kincaid, Mrs. Edgar Lancaster, Mrs. Ralph Loe, Mrs. Homer Erwin, Mrs. Stuart Moberley, Mrs. Billy Grace, Mrs. Warren Sevier, Miss Celie Benjamin, Mrs. Robert Todd, Mrs. George Kimbrough and Mrs. James Wallace.

In conclusion Daisy Mae made her selection and appeared in a beautiful blue evening gown which transformed her appearance as Miss Norma Jean Gaspard sang, "In My Alice Blue Gown."

Following the program delicious iced punch and confections were served from the prettily appointed refreshment table centered with an arrangement of purple and white irises and spirea flanked by white tapers in crystal holders.

March Meeting Of Calhoun P.-T. A. Held

Calhoun Parent-Teachers' Association met in regular session in the high school auditorium on March 10.

The feature of the program was a puppet show presented by students of Mrs. John Platt, art instructor at Ouachita Parish High School, Monroe, and former graduate of Calhoun High School.

Mrs. Alex Vardeman gave a reading which was enjoyed by the members.

Officers for the new year were elected as follows: Mrs. Lloyd Coon, president; Mrs. M. A. Thompson, vice-president; Mrs. E. H. Farr, secretary; Mrs. R. O. Sutton, treasurer.

Installation will be held on April 14 in the school cafeteria.

Inspection of the first aid room at the close of the meeting was an event of interest, since the room has been completely furnished by the P. T. A. with special credit going to Mrs. Lloyd Coon and Mrs. H. W. Griggs.

Lela Bess Kite Is Winner In Contest Sponsored By Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary, Unit No. 13, recently sponsored an Americanism contest open to high school students in the local schools. Mrs. Graves Godwin, chairman, announced the winners as Miss Lela Bess Kite, Neville High School student, and Dwight Grubbs Ouachita student, as first and second place winners.

Judges in the contest were Mr. C. E. McKenzie, Sr., Mr. Bert W. Sperry, and Mr. James H. Trousdale, Jr.

The title of the contest was "Does Our Personal Patriotism Need Revitalizing."

The following is the essay written by Lela Bess Kite, first place winner.

"Dangling at the end of the hangman's rope upon capture as an American spy, would your last words be "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country?" That's what Nathan Hale said.

And even more up-to-date is the famous cry "Take her down" that won the congressional medal of honor for Commander Howard W. Gilmore in the Second World War. Commander Gilmore, wounded by a Japanese bullet, gave this order to his second in command to take the submarine down in the few minutes it would take to save his commanding officer. Saving many lives, Commander Gilmore helplessly floated off the bridge and perished alone in the sea.

Certainly it is plain that these Americans had patriotism that could not have been surpassed. Giving one's life for his country and countrymen is the greatest price anyone can pay.

Great men — noble deeds — and here we sit in a commonplace office, store, farm or factory doing commonplace, everyday duties. How can we show our true sentiments toward our motherland in such ordinary settings? No, we cannot plan brilliant military stratagems or even give outstanding orations in behalf of the union, but are we doing all we can?? Do we recognize the importance of organizations like the Red Cross and the welfare bureaus? Do we help in civic activities such as bond drives, elections, and various other undertakings? Are we true patriots in respecting the law, the courts, the flag, and the Constitution? Do we look upon them as our guideposts and do all we can to support and uphold them in every thought, word, and deed?

If we cannot give these few questions a positive answer, our personal patriotism does need revitalizing! Begin now to become a bona fide citizen of the good ole U. S. A.!!"

Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. Has Meeting

The second grade entertained the Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. at its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon at 3 p.m. Under the direction of Miss Catherine Livaudais, the children presented a charming program of songs and dances. The rhythm band also played, accompanied by Miss Livaudais at the piano.

The business meeting opened with the P.-T. A. prayer by Mrs. Mae Snapp. Mrs. Harvard S. Nix presided and Mrs. John A. Peters read the minutes and gave the executive report. Following a report of the nominating committee by Mrs. Clyde Butler, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Edgar Powell, first vice-president, Mrs. Harold Hunt; second vice-president and program chairman, Mrs. Gerald Frasier; secretary, Mrs. John A. Peters; treasurer, Mrs. Dallas Wales.

A room count was taken and the trophy awarded to Mrs. McMurphy's second grade. After the meeting was adjourned, refreshments were served by mothers of the second grade.

Hal White has pitched for the Detroit Tigers for ten years, including his two year stint in the service, and has won 30 games during that time.

WIN CONTEST AWARDS

Mrs. Graves Godwin, Americanism chairman, Unit No. 13 of the American Legion Auxiliary, is shown above presenting cash awards to Lela Bess Kite, Neville High School student, and Dwight Grubbs, Ouachita student, who were first and second place winners in the Americanism Essay contest sponsored recently by the auxiliary.

Miss Bonnie Lou Adam Is Bride Of Wilbur Webb

A lovely spring wedding marked with simplicity was that of Miss Bonnie Lou Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe J. Adams when she became the bride of Wilbur Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Webb, of Jackson, Miss.

The wedding was solemnized in the Ridge Ave. Baptist Church Saturday, March 15th with the Rev. A. T. Mitchell officiating at the double ring services.

The church was beautifully decorated in green and white flower arrangements flanked by branched candelabra which formed the background. The candles were lighted preceding the ceremony by the Rev. Louis Wilhite and Robert Kirby, who also served as ushers.

Kenneth Adams, brother of the bride, sang "Because" and "Oh, Promise Me" accompanied by Miss Elaine Lolly. Miss Lolly played a program of prenuptial selections preceding the wedding.

Miss Frankie Hayes, college roommate of the bride, served as her only attendant. She was lovely in an organdy gown of light blue with matching headdress. She carried a bouquet of pink radiance roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a picture of loveliness in an ankle length white organdy. The gown was fashioned with a tight fitting bodice and a full gathered skirt with a billowy effect. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. Her veil was of fingertip length attached to a Juliet cap. She carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of yellow roses. Her Bible had been given to her by a close friend.

Mr. Freeman Webb, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Mrs. Adams, mother of the bride, chose a two-piece tailleur of navy faille with which she wore a navy hat and pink gloves. Her corsage was of purple Iris. Mrs. Webb, the bridegroom's mother, was chic in a navy blue crepe dress with rhinestone trim. Her hat was of navy and she wore white gloves. Her corsage was also of purple Iris.

Reception

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The white bridal decor was depicted in the arrangements throughout the living room and dining room.

The bride's book was presided over by Mrs. L. S. Mitchell, sister of the bride.

The lovely tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom and served to the guests by Mrs. Kenneth Adams.

Miss Sammie Camp and Miss Marguerite Wilhite assisted in the serving courtesies.

Immediately after the reception the bridal couple left for a short wedding trip to Bellingrath Gardens and points of interest in Alabama. For traveling the bride was wearing a navy suit with short Eton jacket of checks. Her navy hat featured similar trim. She wore a corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High school and attended Mississippi college in Clinton, Miss. She is now employed in a secretarial capacity for the college.

The bridegroom is a student at Mississippi college where he is preparing himself for the ministry.

They are now at home in Jackson, Miss.

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — Two wild ducks have selected the North Saskatchewan River as a winter location instead of making the trip south. The ducks were spotted in open waters warmed by an outlet at the city power plant.

Barrel Chairs Again!

In answer to so many calls on where can I get a barrel to make a chair—First Mr. Heninger, 100 Eleventh Street, Monroe, has a few. Lynn Barnett, extension secretary, says the wholesale houses sometimes get Worchestershire Sauce in small barrels. This is usually sold to eating places serving barbecue. The barrels sell for from one to two dollars a piece. In a down town furniture store window there is a slipper chair, that looks exactly like it was made from a barrel. Perfectly beautiful, too.

Garden News

I was talking to Nodi Thatcher yesterday. She had just been to Farmerville and said the dogwoods on that highway were gorgeous. Will be a nice drive for the family this afternoon. Mother and Dad can enjoy the trees while the children are fighting on the back seat, eating candy and ice cream and getting it all over their clothes and car. That's life, isn't it?

Lydia Nichols, (telephone number 8472), is looking for some monkey grass. She'll bring her yard man to do the digging. If you have an overflow, won't you call her? Monkey grass, Liriope (Lily-turf) and violets are three of our most beautiful and prolific border plants. The first two will grow in most any soil. Violets need acid soil and must be kept watered during dry spells. The landscape architects say we keep our borders too thin. One specialist said just as the border gets wide enough to give balance, we start thinning. They say leave the borders until they are at least a foot wide and two feet is more interesting.

Monkey grass and liriope have another function, too—to plant on slopes that are difficult to mow, or in small areas that present grass and mowing problems. In New Orleans numbers of home owners plant their entire lawn with monkey grass so there will be no mowing. Ivy can be used on slopes and odd shaped lawn spaces. Notice in Virginia Windes yard (2505 Myrtle Street, Monroe)—where the curved walk joins the driveway there was a small patch of lawn. Virginia has planted this solid with ivy. Not only does it solve a mowing problem but the dark green foliage of the ivy is a beautiful contrast to the other greens in the yard. Where ivy is used on slopes, bulbs can be planted, too. As the bulb foliage dies, the ivy will hide these unattractive tops.

The weather man has been kind to us who were late with our planting. He extended February weather into March. Let's hope we don't have those hot dry winds later this month. If they come—keep the new plants well watered. Of course watering means taking the nozzle off the hose and letting the water trickle on a plant until the ground is soaked. That sounds rather foolish, now with water standing everywhere. But—those March winds can dry up everything mighty fast. Those same winds are supposed to be very fine on established plants. They whip the plant from side to side encouraging good strong root growth—(So they say).

We have a flower planting guide you may want. The guide gives the name of the flower, planting time, months of bloom, color and height. Call 3-2251 if you care for one.

You can now buy Zoysia Matrello and Centipede grass at a local nursery. Remember those are the two grasses that don't have to be mowed.

That's all for today. See you next Sunday in this same column.

Scientists believe that there was a marked uniformity of plants throughout the world before glacial times, with warm temperature types extending as far north as Greenland.

'Raspberry Red' To Be Presented At The Swartz School In April

The seventh and eighth grade English classes of Swartz Elementary School are presenting a forty minute play "Raspberry Red" at the school auditorium Friday, April 4, at 7:30 p. m.

The most important character, Red Sims, portrayed by Clarence White, wants to be dirty like Huck Finn and Tom Sawyer.

Mother (Addie Hollfield) and father (Jimmie Wheeler) try to persuade him to clean up. They even promise him a bicycle if he will change.

At the last Red turns the tables on his family in a very interesting way.

Other members of the cast include: Hulda, Una Canterberry; Ione, Alice Patton; Letty, Judy Scarf; Bobbie, James Gray; Carol, Corda Buckley; Jack, Luther Burney; Phillip, Donald Thompson; Mrs. Dunn, Faye Glass; Rev. Dunn Noah Case, and Mrs. Clark, Wanda Thompson.

Indian corn or maize is unknown in the native state, but is believed to have originated in tropical America.

Lela Bess Kite Is Winner In Contest Sponsored By Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary, Unit No. 13, recently sponsored an Americanism contest open to high school students in the local schools. Mrs. Graves Godwin, chairman, announced the winners as Miss Lela Bess Kite, Neville High School student, and Dwight Grubbs Ouachita student, as first and second place winners.

Judges in the contest were Mr. C. E. McKenzie, Sr., Mr. Bert W. Sperry, and Mr. James H. Trousdale, Jr.

The title of the contest was "Does Our Personal Patriotism Need Revitalizing."

The following is the essay written by Lela Bess Kite, first place winner.

"Dangling at the end of the hangman's rope upon capture as an American spy, would your last words be "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country?" That's what Nathan Hale said.

And even more up-to-date is the famous cry "Take her down" that won the congressional medal of honor for Commander Howard W. Gilmore in the Second World War. Commander Gilmore, wounded by a Japanese bullet, gave this order to his second in command to take the submarine down in the few minutes it would take to save his commanding officer. Saving many lives, Commander Gilmore helplessly floated off the bridge and perished alone in the sea.

Certainly it is plain that these Americans had patriotism that could not have been surpassed. Giving one's life for his country and countrymen is the greatest price anyone can pay.

Great men — noble deeds — and here we sit in a commonplace office, store, farm or factory doing commonplace, everyday duties How can we show our true sentiments toward our motherland in such ordinary settings? No, we cannot plan brilliant military stratagems or even give outstanding orations in behalf of the union, but are we doing all we can?? Do we recognize the importance of organizations like the Red Cross and the welfare bureaus? Do we help in civic activities such as bond drives, elections, and various other undertakings? Are we true patriots in respecting the law, the courts, the flag, and the Constitution? Do we look upon them as our guideposts and do all we can to support and uphold them in every thought, word, and deed?

If we cannot give these few questions a positive answer, our personal patriotism does need revitalizing! Begin now to become a bona fide citizen of the good ole U. S. A.!!"

Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. Has Meeting

The second grade entertained the Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. at its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon at 3 p.m. Under the direction of Miss Catherine Livaudais, the children presented a charming program of songs and dances. The rhythm band also played, accompanied by Miss Livaudais at the piano.

The business meeting opened with the P.-T. A. prayer by Mrs. Mae Snapp. Mrs. Harvard S. Nix presided and Mrs. John A. Peters read the minutes and gave the executive report. Following a report of the nominating committee by Mrs. Clyde Butler, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Edgar Powell, first vice-president, Mrs. Harold Hunt; second vice-president and program chairman, Mrs. Gerald Frasier; secretary, Mrs. John A. Peters; treasurer, Mrs. Dallas Wales.

A room count was taken and the trophy awarded to Mrs. McMurphy's second grade. After the meeting was adjourned, refreshments were served by mothers of the second grade.

Hal White has pitched for the Detroit Tigers for ten years, including his two year stint in the service, and has won 39 games during that time.

WIN CONTEST AWARDS

Mrs. Graves Godwin, Americanism chairman, Unit No. 13 of the American Legion Auxiliary, is shown above presenting cash awards to Lela Bess Kite, Neville High School student, and Dwight Grubbs, Ouachita student, who were first and second place winners in the Americanism Essay contest sponsored recently by the auxiliary.

Miss Bonnie Lou Adam Is Bride Of Wilbur Webb

A lovely spring wedding marked with simplicity was that of Miss Bonnie Lou Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe J. Adams when she became the bride of Wilbur Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Webb, of Jackson, Miss.

The wedding was solemnized in the Ridge Ave. Baptist Church Saturday, March 15th with the Rev. A. T. Mitchell officiating at the double ring services.

The church was beautifully decorated in green and white flower arrangements flanked by branched candelabra which formed the background. The candles were lighted preceding the ceremony by the Rev. Louis Wilhite and Robert Kirby, who also served as ushers.

Kenneth Adams, brother of the bride, sang "Because" and "Oh, Promise Me" accompanied by Miss Elaine Lolly. Miss Lolly played a program of prenuptial selections preceding the wedding.

Miss Frankie Hayes, college roommate of the bride, served as her only attendant. She was lovely in an organdy gown of light blue with matching headdress. She carried a bouquet of pink radiance roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a picture of loveliness in an ankle length white organdy. The gown was fashioned with a tight fitting bodice and a full gathered skirt with a billowy effect. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. Her veil was of fingertip length attached to a Juliet cap. She carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of yellow roses. Her Bible had been given to her by a close friend.

Mr. Freeman Webb, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Mrs. Adams, mother of the bride, chose a two-piece tailleur of navy faille with which she wore a navy hat and pink gloves. Her corsage was of purple Iris. Mrs. Webb, the bridegroom's mother, was chic in a navy blue crepe dress with rhinestone trim. Her hat was of navy and she wore white gloves. Her corsage was also of purple Iris.

Reception

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The white bridal decor was depicted in the arrangements throughout the living room and dining room.

The bride's book was presided over by Mrs. L. S. Mitchell, sister of the bride.

The lovely tiered wedding cake was cut by the bride and groom and served to the guests by Mrs. Kenneth Adams.

Miss Sammie Camp and Miss Marguerite Wilhite assisted in the serving courtesies.

Immediately after the reception the bridal couple left for a short wedding trip to Bellingrath Gardens and points of interest in Alabama. For traveling the bride was wearing a navy suit with short Eton jacket of checks. Her navy hat featured similar trim. She wore a corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High school and attended Mississippi college in Clinton, Miss. She is now employed in a secretarial capacity for the college.

The bridegroom is a student at Mississippi college where he is preparing himself for the ministry.

They are now at home in Jackson, Miss.

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — Two wild ducks have selected the North Saskatchewan River as a winter location instead of making the trip south. The ducks were spotted in open waters warmed by an outlet at the city power plant.

FERRIDAY, La., March W. B. Mask of Monroe gave an organ recital Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at the Vidalia Methodist Church under the auspices of the Willing Workers Organization in Vidalia.

Mr. Mask, who is a graduate of Louisiana State University, a member of the American Guild of organists and an instructor of organ and piano in Monroe, played the new Consonette organ, recently purchased from Hewitt's Music Company in Monroe, for the church by the Willing Workers Organization.

No admission was charged but a free will offering was taken up. The recital was well attended and the music was greatly enjoyed and well received and Mr. Mask was roundly applauded at the end of the program during which he played the following program:

Andantino, Gounod.

Nazareth, Gounod.

Elevation, Batiste.

Prelude in A Major, Prelude in C. Minor, Prelude in C. Major and Prelude in B Minor, Chopin.

Andante, Chopin.

Andanta, Wely.

Andante, Beethovan.

I Know That My Redeemer Liveth, Handel.

Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring, John Bull.

Ave Maria, Bach-Guonod.

Aria "Oh, Tender Moon" from Opera "Faust", Guonod.

Aria, "How So Fair" from Opera Martha "Flotow".

Aria, "Evening Star" from Opera "Tannhauser", Wagner.

Mrs. C. C. Beadles Is Hostess At March Meeting Of Lamkin Club

Making the best of ourselves, posture and good grooming, was the topic chosen by Mrs. Euna D. Speilman, when she spoke at the March meeting of the Lamkin Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. C. C. Beadles.

Crocheted rag rugs was also discussed at the meeting with Mrs. Beadles giving complete instructions to the members.

Following the luncheon a business meeting was held with Mrs. E. M. Sanders being elected to fill the vacancy as secretary-treasurer caused by the resignation of Mrs. Sam Oden.

Mrs. Speilman then gave a demonstration of posture and good grooming. Pictures were shown illustrating the advantages of the home equipment being at the right height. Mrs. Speilman also emphasized the neatness in dress being important to one's good grooming.

Mrs. Monroe Holmes was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Beadles served refreshments to Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. E. M. Sanders, Mrs. L. L. Deen, Mrs. T. L. Veanble, Mrs. Patrick McHenry, Mrs. Sam Oden, Mrs. J. D. Collier, and Guest Mrs. Oma Flemming and Mrs. Speilman.

The word "hotel" first was used by Joseph Corre, a New York innkeeper, in 1790.

ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT

Miss Joy May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. May, of West Monroe, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Jimmie Smith, son of Mrs. Johanna Smith, of this city, is announced today.

Officers Elected At March Meeting Of Lida Benton P.-T. A.

A review of accomplishments during this current year and plans for the next were presented at the March meeting of the Lida Benton Parent-Teachers Association.

Outstanding work of students, the school and the P.-T. A. were brought to the attention of the group. The Lida Benton chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Mary Lou Welch and accompanied by Mrs. Patricia Willey, gave a most creditable and entertaining performance. Members of the girls' basketball introduced themselves and gave a resume of the season and the honors received. This team displayed the trophy awarded them as second place winners in the All - City Elementary Basketball League and also the sportsmanship trophy awarded to member Ann Miller for best individual sportsmanship. The girls extended their thanks to Mr. Golson, principal of Lida Benton for his coaching and encouraging support of the team.

Two excellent films were shown. "Teaching Responsibility" and "Working Together" were graphic lesson in helping children to assume responsibilities and the effectiveness of planning and working together toward worthwhile goals.

Mrs. Roberts, president, thanked Mrs. Adams, program chairman, for the excellent programs of the year. Mrs. Roberts announced that the scrapbook, arranged by Mrs. W. H. Rogillio, publicity chairman, was rated superior at the fifth district meeting and will be entered in competition at the state convention, at which time also goal seals will be awarded the unit for the goals certificate.

The report of the nominating committee was accepted. Officers nominated to serve next year were: president, Mrs. W. F. Roberts; vice-president, Mrs. Grady Grafton; secretary, Mrs. C. A. Hill; treasurer, Mrs. George Burkett and historian, Mrs. R. C. Bragg.

Mrs. Burkett reported on attendance at the leadership conference held at the Virginia Hotel. The unit voted to send a delegate to the annual state convention.

A social hour was enjoyed at the close of business with first grade room mothers serving as hostesses. They were Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Panzica, Mrs. Grafton, Mrs. Bowles and Mrs. Acosta. Mrs. Overton's and Mrs. Anderson's Brownie troup were in charge of the nursery.

The oldest harness race in the world is the Transylvania, a trotting stake that has been raced annually at Lexington, Ky. since 1889.

Delta Rho Delta To Keep Busy With Advent Of Spring

Sigma Chapter To Have Variety Of Speakers And Entertainments

The spring season, just around the corner, is chunk-full of exciting events, lectures, social service work and entertainments for members of Sigma chapter of Delta Rho Delta National sorority.

Most events extend over a considerable time, but the visit of two executive council members, Mrs. Helen A. Giese and Mrs. Irene Davitt both from Texas, is packed into less than two short days and a full program of activity has been planned for them.

Delta Rho Delta National Sorority and its affiliated Educational Bureau, National Extension Forum has as its aim the advancement of adult education by the lecture method of instruction. A course of ten lectures per year is delivered by competent speakers, selected for their aptitude in presenting the subjects assigned, from outlines furnished by the forum's educational staff of writers and researchers, and through suggestions by each chapter's lecture committee.

Besides participation in all civic movements the local chapter has two major projects this year, the assisting in furnishing braces and shoes for infantile paralysis patients in the community and the Scholarship Educational Fund for students at Northeast Louisiana State College.

It isn't all work, however, for members also enjoy many social affairs and entertainments planned during the year by Mrs. Bertha Patterson and her committee.

Miss Freeda Mickel is archon of the local chapter, Miss Marguerite Kirkpatrick, social service chairman; Miss Ann Mickel, chairman scholarship educational fund; Mrs. James N. Riddle, membership director; Mrs. Catherine Lumbley, assistant membership director; Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, local counselor,

Miss Lillie Glenn is Louisiana State president and director of publicity for the local chapter of Delta Rho Delta.

Current speakers scheduled to appear before the local chapters of Delta Rho Delta include Mrs. Helen A. Giese, national counselor from Fort Worth on March 26.

Mr. Harold Brady, vice president and general manager of the Negley Bag and Paper Co. will make his first appearance before the local group on April 4.

The May speaker will be Mr. Harry Lemert, department of music at Northeast Louisiana State College and the lecture season will close in June with the appearance of an old time favorite with the group, Dr. Ben F. Lehmberg of Colorado, formerly pastor of the Riverside Memorial Methodist Church in Houston, Tex.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO

by J. Paul Hewitt

Ever hear of anybody spending his life savings to buy a piece of music? $2,500 was the price of this particular violin concerto. But it seemed to pay off in the long-run. This is how it happened. Violinist Viviane Bertolami Kirkwood and her husband commissioned the famous Mexican composer, Carlos Chevez to compose a concerto for her first come-back concert in a new caraas. (She'd already made a debut). Chavez was pleased with the commission and finished the concerto in time for a rip-roaring premiere in Mexico City a few weeks back.

The premiere was a great success with the young violinist doing justice to a rather brilliant piece of music which lasted for 45 minutes. Just goes to show that there's more than one road to success. If you're a musician and you have $2500, you may be able to get a composer like Stravinsky or Chavez to write your music for you. Failing this . . . you may have to put up with something that's already been composed. That's allright too. There's a lot of good music around just waiting to be performed.

Music lovers in the Twin Cities will focus their interest on Northeast Louisiana State's spring production on Thursday, April 3rd. The Department of Music will present Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley" and Lukas Foss' "The Jumping Frog". The productions are under the direction of Harry Lemert, head of the Music Department.

Listen today to "Piano Playrouse", KMLB at 1:00 p.m. and "Music for All", KNOE at 2:45 p.m.

And there's a lot of good musical talent going begging for a chance. Be sure that this is not the case at your house. Give your youngsters a fine piano or organ. Let them enjoy music. You'll find our convenient terms easy to afford at HEWITT, INC., 216 Grammont. Phone: 2-1491.

STEEL CAPITAL

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh's claim as the "steel capital of the world" got added impetus recently when Crucible Steel Co. moved its main offices here from New York City.

Six of the nation's 14 largest steel campaines now have headquarters in Pittsburg. In addition to Crucible, they are: U. S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin, National Steel, Pittsburg Steel and Allegheny Ludlum.

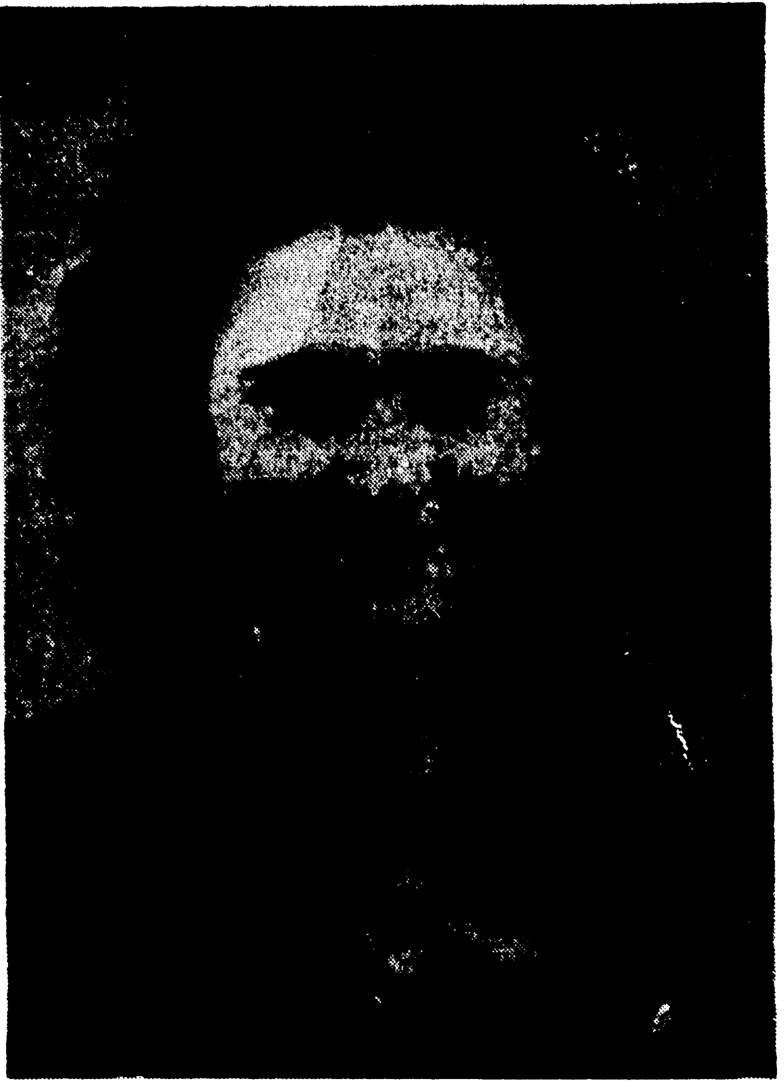
ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED



Miss Magdalene Fowler, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Van C. Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan W. Howell, of West Monroe, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fowler, of this city. The wedding will take place at the First Pentecostal Church of West Monroe the early part of April.

TWO HOSTESSES ENTERTAIN LATERTULIA BOOK CLUB MEMBERS

Delightful hostesses at an interesting meeting of La-Tertulia Book Club on last Thursday evening were Mrs. Jennette Mahaffy and Mrs. George Lawn.

Spring flowers decorating the mantel were fashioned of bridal-wreath, daffodils and white Iris.

Mrs. P. P. Lynch introduced a guest, Mrs. A. R. Sims, who charmed her listeners with her illustrated talk on color styling the home. Mrs. Sims, said, "Interior Decoration is the art of creating beautiful and suitable arrangements of furnishings. This art may be applied to homes in many different ways. But all the ways have one aim; that aim is to create interiors which are not only distinctive and suitable to various purposes, but which also radiates a feeling of comfort, hospitality, and charm.

Color is the medium with which the decorator creates the atmosphere or spirit, of a room. For this reason, a knowledge of color in decoration is a basic necessity. Colors are of two general kinds, warm and cool—The decorator can use warm, glowing colors in a room to suggest cheerful hospitality. Cool colors create feeling of space, and grayed colors—whether warm or cool—tend to subdue a room and make it formal.

There are two types of color schemes, one type is made of complementary colors, and the other type is made up of related, or analogous colors.

A complementary color is one lying directly opposite another on the color wheel, and may be a primary, secondary, or intermediate color. For example, reds and greens are complementary, blue and orange, or yellow and violets are complementary. When any color and its complement are placed side by side each emphasizes, or intensifies, the other.

Related or analogous, color are these which lie side by side on the color wheel, reaching from a primary to a secondary color, or the opposite. For example, the hue between green and blue gradually progress through the various green-blues and blue-greens. These closely related hues used together in a room create a calm atmosphere."

The hostesses served delicious refreshments to Miss Achsah Belt, Miss Maude Brownlee, Mrs. Clyde Cook, Mrs. Leon DeLee, Mrs. Edward Ferguson, Mrs. Kenneth Holt, Miss Clara Johnston, Mrs. P. P. Lynch, Mrs. Carl Riggin, Mrs. V. A. Shelby, Mrs. Richard Watkins, Mrs. Carl Jackson, Mrs. Eugene Lutz, Mrs. A. R. Sims, and Mrs. Bennie Goyne.

YWCA Activities

YRG'S

One of the things that we say about our YWCA Residence is that it is a "home away from home!" When we think of "home" we all like to go back home and have a family reunion. On Sunday several of the girls who formerly lived at the Y came back home for Sunday dinner and a reunion. Those who enjoyed being back together with Mrs. "Mom" Hundley were: Mrs. M. F. Richards (Evelyn Driggers), Mrs. Julienne Griffin, Mrs. Perry Fisher, Jr. (Dean Manning), Mrs. Johnny Braswell (Linda Sherrard), Miss Lilia Dukes. Recently Mrs. Ray Martini (Bobbie Ann Irby) of Shreveport, La., visited at the Y and to show her young son "Doug" to her Y friends; another proud mother who wished her friends to see her son, Billy Jack, was Mrs. Jack Barnes of West Monroe.

On Monday evening the YRG's had their regular supper and devotional meeting. Helen Crosby gave the devotional.

Y-ves' Club

On Wednesday morning the Y'ves' Club held their regular meeting at the YWCA with Mrs. Lambert Romero president, presiding. Guests for the meeting were: Mrs. C. M. Howard, Mrs. C. R. Tillman, Mrs. J. H. Walker, and Mrs. J. C. Wallace. The program was a most interesting "tour talk" given by Mrs. Frank Smith on her tour of Italy.

Y-Teens

On Wednesday afternoon all Y-Teens gathered at the YWCA for a special meeting which was called to order by Ann Hebert, president of the Jolly Y Janes' Club. Emma Jean Hall gave the devotional which was a prayer poem: "God Who Touchest Earth With Beauty." Mary Virginia Parker, vice president of the council, introduced the guest speaker: Dr. Mary Mims Extension Sociologist from L. S. U. "Miss Mary" gave a most inspiring and practical talk which the girls enjoyed and will long remember.

Two of the Y-Teen groups have had the privilege of having as their guest speaker for the meetings Miss Pearl LeFevre who talked on "Simple Courtesies." Miss LeFevre stressed the importance of kindness and consideration for others as the basis of our courtesy.

The Blue Triangle Club met at Lenwill School. Carma Brantley gave the devotional. Marilyn Tippen read "Love Will Outreach the Stars." A group composed of: Jackie Joyner, Elna Terrell, Carolyn Saterfield, Ruth Coates, Catherine Rawes, Mildred Haley, Sylvia Martin, and Carma Brantley Rythm," an interpretation of Y-Teens.

"Mandarin" was formerly the common name for all public officials in China.

Girl Scout News

You're anxious to hear, we knew, how many pennies the Juliette Low offering brought in last Sunday. Will you be surprised when we tell you that the total in those little yellow bags amounted to $110.50? We're not exactly surprised, as we hoped it would be an even hundred, anyway. Congratulations, girls and leaders. We believe that everyone of you knows by now what the Juliette Low Fund does and feels proud that her contribution is a part of it.

We're hearing a lot of compliments on all who took part in the birthday program. We'd like Betty Davis to know that we think she did a mighty fine job. One thing we think you'd like to know is that the scroll which was a part of the "Adventure in Friendship" skit was drawn and painted by two girls who unrolled it—Sally Hinkle and Mary Emma Wilson of troop 28. We were awfully proud of our junior high girls in their attractive teen-age uniforms and the spic-and-span, starched and polished intermediates and brownies. They surely looked like a million dollars, every one of them.

Scouts believe in getting out of doors all the time, but with sunshine like that of the past week, we don't see how anyone resists the urge. One of the leaders who took a troop of young Brownies out to camp for a Saturday outing, said, "I don't believe the girls had ever had a chance before to run wild in the woods, and they made the most of it." Lest our leaders become fearful that Scouts are allowed to "run wild," we hasten to explain that at last the Scouts have secured a fence around a portion of the land, within which the girls can run wild. We agree that they need to do just that every now and then. For hikes to the river or anywhere else they are carefully organized according to Girl Scout standards.

On the last pretty Saturday the girls of Troop 4 had a great deal of fun and learned a new skill by lashing a table for the outdoor kitchen at camp. The table is really a work of art and will be most useful. Now those weiners can be put safely out of reach of Bozo, the dog. Of course, the girls climbed over the stile (no gates in the fence to be left open) and cut sticks for lashing from the persimmon trees out in the field. Guess the camp committee is going to have to build a special stile for Bozo. He whined and wanted to go with the girls so badly that he finally succeeded in jumping over the barbed wire. He had come in across the cattle guard, but couldn't find it again.

Incidentally, Bozo is the big boxer who belongs to a fisherman on the river and who has assumed the role of protector of the Girl Scouts and their property. You should hear one troop tell about the fight that ensued when another dog deigned to cross the property before the fence was built. Good old Bozo!

Cold week ends have slowed up the painting, too, so there is plenty to do at camp for fun and for camp improvement, too. The more girls and their parents put their own efforts into improving camp, the more it is going to mean to them.

Speaking of parents, a parent-daughter project for today is the trip to Natchez that has been planned by troop 11. Off hand, we wouldn't think that ten-and-eleven year olds would be too interested in old homes, but if we know our Scouts, they'll take in everything. We're in favor of family projects and when one is carried on under the auspices of Scouting, we're for it.

Until the 18th Century linen manufacture was one of the most extensive of European industries.

Delta Rho Delta To Keep Busy With Advent Of Spring

Sigma Chapter To Have Variety Of Speakers And Entertainments

The spring season, just around the corner, is chunk-full of exciting events, lectures, social service work and entertainments for members of Sigma chapter of Delta Rho Delta National sorority.

Most events extend over a considerable time, but the visit of two executive council members, Mrs. Helen A. Giese and Mrs. Irene Davitt both from Texas, is packed into less than two short days and a full program of activity has been planned for them.

Delta Rho Delta National Sorority and its affiliated Educational Bureau, National Extension Forum has as its aim the advancement of adult education by the lecture method of instruction. A course of ten lectures per year is delivered by competent speakers, selected for their aptitude in presenting the subjects assigned, from outlines furnished by the forum's educational staff of writers and researchers, and through suggestions by each chapter's lecture committee.

Besides participation in all civic movements the local chapter has two major projects this year, the assisting in furnishing braces and shoes for infantile paralysis patients in the community and the Scholarship Educational Fund for students at Northeast Louisiana State College.

It isn't all work, however, for members also enjoy many social affairs and entertainments planned during the year by Mrs. Bertha Patterson and her committee.

Miss Freeda Mickel is archon of the local chapter, Miss Marguerite Kirkpatrick, social service chairman; Miss Ann Mickel, chairman scholarship educational fund; Mrs. James N. Riddle, membership director; Mrs. Catherine Lumbley, assistant membership director; Mrs. D. C. Metcalf, local counselor,

Miss Lillie Glenn is Louisiana State president and director of publicity for the local chapter of Delta Rho Delta.

Current speakers scheduled to appear before the local chapters of Delta Rho Delta include Mrs. Helen A. Giese, national counselor from Fort Worth on March 26.

Mr. Harold Brady, vice president and general manager of the Negley Bag and Paper Co. will make his first appearance before the local group on April 4.

The May speaker will be Mr. Harry Lemert, department of music at Northeast Louisiana State College and the lecture season will close in June with the appearance of an old time favorite with the group, Dr. Ben F. Lehmberg of Colorado, formerly pastor of the Riverside Memorial Methodist Church in Houston, Tex.

STEEL CAPITAL

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pittsburgh's claim as the "steel capital of the world" got added impetus recently when Crucible Steel Co. moved its main offices here from New York City.

Six of the nation's 14 largest steel campaines now have headquarters in Pittsburg. In addition to Crucible, they are: U. S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin, National Steel, Pittsburg Steel and Alleghency Ludlum.

A HAPPY NOTE OR TWO

by J. Paul Hewitt

Ever hear of anybody spending his life savings to buy a piece of music? $2,500 was the price of this particular violin concerto. But it seemed to pay off in the long-run. This is how it happened. Violinist Viviane Bertolami Kirkwood and her husband commissioned the famous Mexican composer, Carlos Chevez to compose a concerto for her first come-back concert in a new caraas. (She'd already made a debut). Chavez was pleased with the commission and finished the concerto in time for a rip-roaring premiere in Mexico City a few weeks back.

The premiere was a great success with the young violinist doing justice to a rather brilliant piece of music which lasted for 45 minutes. Just goes to show that there's more than one road to success. If you're a musician and you have $2500, you may be able to get a composer like Stravinsky or Chavez to write your music for you. Failing this . . . you may have to put up with something that's already been composed. That's allright too. There's a lot of good music around just waiting to be performed.

Music lovers in the Twin Cities will focus their interest on Northeast Louisiana State's spring production on Thursday, April 3rd. The Department of Music will present Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley" and Lukas Foss' "The Jumping Frog". The productions are under the direction of Harry Lemert, head of the Music Department.

Listen today to "Piano Playrouse", KMLB at 1:00 p.m. and "Music for All", KNOE at 2:45 p.m.

And there's a lot of good musical talent going begging for a chance. Be sure that this is not the case at your house. Give your youngsters a fine piano or organ. Let them enjoy music. You'll find our convenient terms easy to afford at HEWITT, INC., 216 Grammont. Phone: 2-1491.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Magdalene Fowler, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Van C. Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan W. Howell, of West Monroe, is announced today by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fowler, of this city. The wedding will take place at the First Pentecostal Church of West Monroe the early part of April.

TWO HOSTESSES ENTERTAIN LATERTULIA BOOK CLUB MEMBERS

Delightful hostesses at an interesting meeting of La-Tertulia Book Club on last Thursday evening were Mrs. Jennette Mahaffy and Mrs. George Lawn.

Spring flowers decorating the mantel were fashioned of bridalwreath, daffodils and white Iris.

Mrs. P. P. Lynch introduced a guest, Mrs. A. R. Sims, who charmed her listeners with her illustrated talk on color styling the home. Mrs. Sims, said, "Interior Decoration is the art of creating beautiful and suitable arrangements of furnishings. This art may be applied to homes in many different ways. But all the ways have one aim; that aim is to create interiors which are not only distinctive and suitable to various purposes, but which also radiates a feeling of comfort, hospitality, and charm.

Color is the medium with which the decorator creates the atmosphere or spirit, of a room. For this reason, a knowledge of color in decoration is a basic necessity. Colors are of two general kinds, warm and cool—The decorator can use warm, glowing colors in a room to suggest cheerful hospitality. Cool colors create feeling of space, and grayed colors—whether warm or cool—tend to subdue a room and make it formal.

There are two types of color schemes, one type is made of complementary colors, and the other type is made up of related, or analogous colors.

A complementary color is one lying directly opposite another on the color wheel, and may be a primary, secondary, or intermediate color. For example, reds and greens are complementary, blue and orange, or yellow and violets are complementary. When any color and its complement are placed side by side each emphasizes, or intensifies, the other.

Related or analogous, color are these which lie side by side on the color wheel, reaching from a primary to a secondary color, or the opposite. For example, the hue between green and blue gradually progress through the various green-blues and blue-greens. These closely related hues used together in a room create a calm atmosphere."

The hostesses served delicious refreshments to Miss Achsah Belt, Miss Maude Brownlee, Mrs. Clyde Cook, Mrs. Leon DeLee, Mrs. Edward Ferguson, Mrs. Kenneth Holt, Miss Clara Johnston, Mrs. P. P. Lynch, Mrs. Carl Riggin, Mrs. V. A. Shelby, Mrs. Richard Watkins, Mrs. Carl Jackson, Mrs. Eugene Lutz, Mrs. A. R. Sims, and Mrs. Bennie Goyne.

YWCA Activities

YRG'S

One of the things that we say about our YWCA Residence is that it is a "home away from home!" When we think of "home" we all like to go back home and have a family reunion. On Sunday several of the girls who formerly lived at the Y came back home for Sunday dinner and a reunion. Those who enjoyed being back together with Mrs. "Mom" Hundley were: Mrs. M. F. Richards (Evelyn Driggers), Mrs. Julienne Griffin, Mrs. Perry Fisher, Jr. (Dean Manning), Mrs. Johnny Braswell (Linda Sherrard), Miss Lilla Dukes. Recently Mrs. Ray Martini (Bobbie Ann Irby) of Shreveport, La., visited at the Y and to show her young son "Doug" to her Y friends; another proud mother who wished her friends to see her son, Billy Jack, was Mrs. Jack Barnes of West Monroe.

On Monday evening the YRG's had their regular supper and devotional meeting. Helen Crosby gave the devotional.

Y-ves' Club

On Wednesday morning the Y'ves' Club held their regular meeting at the YWCA with Mrs. Lambert Romero president, presiding. Guests for the meeting were: Mrs. C. M. Howard, Mrs. C. R. Tillman, Mrs. J. H. Walker, and Mrs. J. C. Wallace. The program was a most interesting "tour talk" given by Mrs. Frank Smith on her tour of Italy.

Y-Teens

On Wednesday afternoon all Y-Teens gathered at the YWCA for a special meeting which was called to order by Ann Hebert, president of the Jolly Y Janes' Club. Emma Jean Hall gave the devotional which was a prayer poem: "God Who Touchest Earth With Beauty." Mary Virginia Parker, vice president of the council, introduced the guest speaker: Dr. Mary Mims Extension Sociologist from L. S. U. "Miss Mary" gave a most inspiring and practical talk which the girls enjoyed and will long remember.

Two of the Y-Teen groups have had the privilege of having as their guest speaker for the meetings Miss Pearl LeFevre who talked on "Simple Courtesies." Miss LeFevre stressed the importance of kindness and consideration for others as the basis of our courtesy.

The Blue Triangle Club met at Lenwill School. Carma Brantley gave the devotional. Marilyn Tippen read "Love Will Outreach the Stars." A group composed of: Jackie Joyner, Elna Terrell, Carolyn Saterfield, Ruth Coates, Catherine Rawes, Mildred Haley, Sylvia Martin, and Carma Brantley Rythm," an interpretation of Y-Teens.

"Mandarin" was formerly the common name for all public officials in China.

Girl Scout News

You're anxious to hear, we know, how many pennies the Juliette Low offering brought in last Sunday. Will you be surprised when we tell you that the total in those little yellow bags amounted to $110.50? We're not exactly surprised, as we hoped it would be an even hundred, anyway. Congratulations, girls and leaders. We believe that everyone of you knows by now what the Juliette Low Fund does and feels proud that her contribution is a part of it.

We're hearing a lot of compliments on all who took part in the birthday program. We'd like Betty Davis to know that we think she did a mighty fine job. One thing we think you'd like to know is that the scroll which was a part of the "Adventure in Friendship" skit was drawn and painted by two girls who unrolled it—Sally Hinkle and Mary Emma Wilson of troop 28. We were awfully proud of our junior high girls in their attractive teen-age uniforms and the spic-and-span, starched and polished intermediates and brownies. They surely looked like a million dollars, every one of them.

Scouts believe in getting out of doors all the time, but with sunshine like that of the past week, we don't see how anyone resists the urge. One of the leaders who took a troop of young Brownies out to camp for a Saturday outing, said, "I don't believe the girls had ever had a chance before to run wild in the woods, and they made the most of it." Lest our leaders become fearful that Scouts are allowed to "run wild," we hasten to explain that at last the Scouts have secured a fence around a portion of the land, within which the girls can run wild. We agree that they need to do just that every now and then. For hikes to the river or anywhere else they are carefully organized according to Girl Scout standards.

On the last pretty Saturday the girls of Troop 4 had a great deal of fun and learned a new skill by lashing a table for the outdoor kitchen at camp. The table is really a work of art and will be most useful. Now those weiners can be put safely out of reach of Bozo, the dog. Sylvan Garden Club In Urania Has Meeting

The members of the Sylvan Garden club in Urania met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. F. Matthews for their monthly social and program.

Pink gladioli, bridal wreath and yellow calendula in arrangements lent a spring-like atmosphere to the rooms.

Mrs Ed Blevins, president opened the meeting and welcomed the guests and three new members.

The secretary, Mrs. M. A. Tannehill called the roll and read the minutes of the February meeting. Mrs. Tannehill also gave an interesting talk on conservation of wild flowers. The members were advised at this time of the season to feed azaleas and camellias and to plant chrysanthemums.

During the business session further plans were made on the arrangements to be entered in the State Flower Show to be held April 5-6 in Shreveport.

Mrs. Murphy Tannehill described her recent tour of the Murray Gardens which are located near Hammond, La.

Lovely refreshments depicting a St. Patrick's theme were served to the following members; Mrs. A. J. Sessions, Mrs. Quincy Cornwell, Mrs. Harry Nichols, Mrs. F. A. Thomas, Mrs. C. E. Tannehill, Mrs. W. C. Hicks, Miss Arrettia Cox, Mrs. C. M. Newsome, Mrs. Leon Brooks, Mrs. Q. T. Hardtner, Mrs. Ed Blevins, Mrs. M. A. Tannehill and Mrs. W. S. Higgins and three guests, Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey, of Beaumont, Tex., Miss Bettie Rae Fox of Shreveport and Mrs. Bessie Walsh of Winnfield.

Junior Class At Sikes To Give Play

"Comin' Round the Mountain" is the title of the three-act comedy that has been chosen by the junior class to be presented by them in the Sikes gymnasium on the evening of March 27th. The play is a truly novel comedy of funny doings in the backwoods of the mountain country down south. Maw and Paw Scitter and their family are typical hillbilly characters who have arranged a marriage for their beautiful "dotter" Corney Bell, to a bachelor neighbor, Sammy Fester. But Corney Bell who has fallen in love with a handsome resorter from the "outside" has different ideas. These are only a few of the many, many uproarious, and sometimes almost ridiculous situations in "Comin' Round the Mountain," which everybody says, is one of the most entertaining plays to be published this year.

A hillbilly band will also be present to play the old pieces and entertain. The play begins at 7:30 and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Sound does not travel in a vacuum.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Hicks And Fiance Honored At Party

Mrs. H. V. Collins And Mrs. J. W. Edmunds Entertain For Engaged Couple

Mrs. H. V. Collins and her sister, Mrs. J. W. Edmunds of Alexandria entertained recently in the home of Mrs. Collins honoring their niece, Miss Mary Elizabeth Hicks, and hr finance, Stuart L. Spoede, whose engagement is formally announced today by her parents.

Miss Hicks is the daughter of Mrs. W. H. Hicks and the late Mr. Hicks of Alto. She is serving as medical librarian in the Veterinary Library of Texas A. and M. College, Bryan, Tex. Mr. Spoede is the son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Herman Henry Spoede, of Wallis, Tex., and is connected with General Motors in the credit department of Bryan.

Mrs. Collins greeted the guests informally and presented them to the honorees. The bride-to-be wore a becoming early spring silk print, with a corsage of rose dawn camellias. Mrs. Thomas J. Mulhearn, Jr., and Mrs. J. L. Ragland presided at the coffee and tea services. They were assisted by Mrs. L. J. Mulhern, Mrs. Edmunds, Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. T. J. Mulhearn, Sr.

The centerpiece was an artistic arrangement of camellias and candles.

Modernistic arrangements of daffodils and golden harvest iris, from the gardens of Mrs. M. D. Thomason of Alto, were used advantageously throughout the reception suite.

The wedding will be solemnized June 7 at seven-thirty in the evening at the Baptist Church in Alto.

Guests attending the reception were: Miss Mary Elizabeth Hicks, Mrs. Stuart L. Spoede, Mrs. W. H. Hicks of Alto, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Frazier, Mrs. W. E. Smith, Dr. Fred Sartor, Miss Tommie Sue Eaves, Miss Anna Lee Russell, Dr. and Mrs. S. A. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. John R. White, Mrs. A. D. The Welcome Branch Book Club will sponsor their annual benefit book review on April 16, at 2:30 p.m. at the Frances Hotel. This is to raise funds to maintain the library, and provide other reading material for patients at the G. B. Cooley sanitarium.

A former president of the club, Mrs. Thomas Jett, will review the new book, "What Eisenhower Thinks" by Allen Taylor.

Tickets are now on sale by the members of the Welcome Branch Book Club.

RESCUE UNITS READY

GOOSE BAY, Labrador (AP) — Trained rescue units are maintained at this Northeastern air base by Canadian and United States Air Forces to search for survivors of crashes in the trackless tundra of Northern Quebec and Labrador.

A "survival school" is conducted as a combined operation. Here airmen are taught how to live in the bush in winter or summer.

Aircraft and ground-rescue teams are ready on a 24-hour basis for emergencies. Goose Bay has two well-equipped hospitals on the base run by the R. C. A. F. and the U. S. A. F.

Two Couples Pledge Nuptial Vows At Collinston Wedding

A double wedding of sweet simplicity at three o'clock on Saturday afternoon, March 15th, united in marriage Miss Betty Wyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ethel Wyatt and Staff Sergeant Arvell Kitchens, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kitchens, and Miss Barbara Kitchens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kitchens, and Sergeant James Sellin.

The double ring services were performed by the Rev. Leon Simpson, pastor of the Collinston Baptist Church, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carter with a small group of friends and members of the families present.

The brides were lovely in identical suits of gray with navy accessories and corsages of white carnations.

The bridegrooms were dressed in their uniforms of Airforce blue.

Mrs. Roy Carter served as Miss Kitchens only attendant, and Miss Patsy Faye Higgs served as Miss Wyatt's only attendant.

Roy and Troy Carter, itentical twins served the bridegrooms as best-men.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding. Miss Shirley Clark cut the three-tiered wedding cake, which was served with coffee and soft drinks.

The couples did not go on a wedding trip due to the illness of Mr. W. E. Kitchens. They have apartments at the Collinston Hotel.

After a short furlough the bridegrooms will return to Keesler Field at Biloxi Miss. where they are stationed with the U. S. Airforce.

The brides will continue going to high school in Collinston where they will finish in June.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Neil Oliver and Mrs. Troy Carter from Bastrop, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Lee and Mrs. Lorraine Green from West Monroe.

During the 1948 baseball season the Cleveland Indians drew 1,240,891 fans to 26 night games for an average of 47,720.

Miss Yvonne Factor Is Bride Of Mr. E. F. Gunn

St. Matthew's Catholic Church Is Setting For Lovely Double-Ring Service

In a ceremony marked by simplicity and reverence, Miss Yvonne M. Factor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Factor, was joined in marriage to Mr. E. F. Gunn, of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Gunn, Sr., of Alexandria.

The St. Matthew's Catholic Church was the scene of the double-ring ceremony solemnized by father Sheldon, at eight - thirty o'clock in the morning, Saturday, February 23.

The bridal couple exchanged their vows before the altar which was decorated with white and pink gladioli. Preceding the ceremony the "Bridal March" and "To A Wild Rose" was played.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white satin ankle-length gown with net which featured a four cornered lace peplum over net. She wore a lace jacket with long fitted sleeves and high peter-pan collar. Her headdress was of white satin outlined in seed pearls with a finger tip veil of tulle nylon illusion. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli, and white hyacinths and fern with streamers of white satin ribbon and hyacinths.

Miss Wanda Factor was maid of honor and was wearing a lavender taffeta and net strapless ankle-length gown, with matching stole of net. Her matching headdress of net featured rosettes on each side centered with clusters of seed pearls. Her bouquet was of painted daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Ann Rizzo and Miss Betty Jean Jones. They wore dresses identical to the one worn by Miss Factor with Miss Rizzo in yellow taffeta and blue taffeta. Their bouquets were of painted daises.

Walter Eichelberger served as best man. Ushers were Edward Plonsky and Charles Vernon.

Mrs. Factor, mother of the bride, was wearing a powder blue suit with white and brown accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Gunn, was wearing a navy blue suit with white and navy accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding at the home of the bride's parents.

Centering the bride's table was the three tiered wedding confection flanked by double candle holders and arrangements of narcissus between candles. The punch bowl and the bridal bouquets were placed on the receiving table in the living room.

For her wedding trip to Baton Rouge, the bride chose a gold suit with cocoa brown accessories, and a white gladioli corsage. Upon their return they will reside at 108 Travis St. in West Monroe.

The bride attended Pennsylvania schools and graduated from Meridian High in Meridian, Miss. She attended Northeast Louisiana State College.

Out of town guests were: Mrs. M. M. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Schnorr, and Mr. Walter Phillips, of Pittsburg, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Bufkin Edwards, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Gunn, of Alexandria, Walter Eichelberger of Baton Rouge.

Sylvan Garden Club In Urania Has Meeting

The members of the Sylvan Garden club in Urania met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. F. Matthews for their monthly social and program.

Pink gladioli, bridal wreath and yellow calendula in arrangements lent a spring-like atmosphere to the rooms.

Mrs. Ed Blevins, president, opened the meeting and welcomed the guests and three new members.

The secretary, Mrs. M. A. Tannehill called the roll and read the minutes of the February meeting. Mrs. Tannehill also gave an interesting talk on conservation of wild flowers. The members were advised at this time of the season to feed azaleas and camellias and to plant chrysanthemums.

During the business session further plans were made on the arrangements to be entered in the State Flower Show to be held April 5-6 in Shreveport.

Mrs. Murphy Tannehill described her recent tour of the Murray Gardens which are located near Hammond, La.

Lovely refreshments depicting a St. Patrick's theme were served to the following members; Mrs. A. J. Sessions, Mrs. Quincy Cornwell, Mrs. Harry Nichols, Mrs. F. A. Thomas, Mrs. C. E. Tannehill, Mrs. W. C. Hicks, Miss Arrettla Cox, Mrs. C. M. Newsome, Mrs. Leon Brooks, Mrs. Q. T. Hardtner, Mrs. Ed Blevins, Mrs. M. A. Tannehill and Mrs. W. S. Higgins and three guests, Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey, of Beaumont, Tex., Miss Bettie Rae Fox of Shreveport and Mrs. Bessie Walsh of Winnfield.

Junior Class At Sikes To Give Play

"Comin' Round the Mountain" is the title of the three-act comedy that has been chosen by the junior class to be presented by them in the Sikes gymnasium on the evening of March 27th. The play is a truly novel comedy of funny doings in the backwoods of the mountain country down south. Maw and Paw Scitter and their family are typical hillbilly characters who have arranged a marriage for their beautiful "dotter" Corney Bell, to a bachelor neighbor. Sammy Fester. But Corney Bell who has fallen in love with a handsome resorter from the "outside" has different ideas. These are only a few of the many, many uproarious, and sometimes almost ridiculous situations in "Comin' Round the Mountain," which everybody says, is one of the most entertaining plays to be published this year.

A hillbilly band will also be present to play the old pieces and entertain. The play begins at 7:30 and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Sound does not travel in a vacum.

Home Gardener Club Has Silver Tea Wednesday

Members Display Antiques At Event Held In The Home Of Mrs. Milton Ford

Over two hundred and fifty guests availed themselves of the opportunity of viewing the beautiful antiques in the lovely home of Mrs. Milton Ford, sponsored by the Home Gardener Club.

Noted among these guests were several men interested in civic affairs of the city and were Mr. Milton Ford, Mr. Jack Howard, Mr. C. B. McQuiller, Mr. C. H. Shook and Mr. Joe Ellis.

This was an opportunity for the people of today to see and appreciate the heir-looms from ancestors of yesteryear. Among them were Bisque, early American pressed glass, imported china, sterling silver, cut glass and crystal.

One display that created a great deal of interest was a bound volume of Harpers Bazaar, dating January through December 1857, displayed by Mr. Albert Horuff.

The flower arrangements throughout the house were shown to a great advantage in antique containers.

The dining table was overlaid with a lovely lace cover with a silver tea service at each end.

The center of interest on the table was a beautiful flower arrangement made by Mrs. Jewell McQuiller in her favorite cambridge bowl. This arrangement, in keeping with the color scheme, consisted of yellow iris, daffodils, poeticus, calla lilies and yellow rose buds.

The refreshments were served from antique serving plates and antique compotes were holding green and yellow mints.

The lovely poeticus narcissus on the registration table were compliments from the gardens of Mrs. C. S. Swain. Camellias shown in conjunction with a display of antique china were grown by Mrs. H. A. Whitfield.

Receiving the guests with Mrs. Ford were Mrs. L. N. Copes, chairman, Mrs. John Peters, president, Mrs. M. J. Hortman and Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, past presidents.

Alternating at the silver services were Mrs. F. V. Reitzell, Mrs. C. H. Shook, Mrs. Jewell McQuiller, Mrs. L. A. Smith, Mrs. W. E. Young, Mrs. Aline Banister, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery and Mrs. C. J. Cornett.

Other hostesses throughout the home were Mrs. H. O. Hartman, Mrs. J. A. Funston, Mrs. O. L. Hoskins, Mrs. M. R. Hausherr, Mrs. R. N. Dozier, Mrs. Roy Colquette, Mrs. F. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Florence Brothers, Mrs. H. F. Madison, Jr., Mrs. C. D. Smith, Mrs. L. D. Rogers, Mrs. Laura Phillips, Mrs. A. A. Tarpley, Mrs. Tom Firnberg, Mrs. L. R. Harrison, Mrs. Gerald Frazier, Mrs. C. R. Clay, Mrs. Ertie Lampkins, and Mrs. C. E. Street.

This club strives to help in all civic projects.

Mrs. P. M. Donald Is March Hostess At Drew Club Meeting

Importance of "Insect Control" was demonstrated and explained by Mrs. P. M. Donald before the Drew Home Demonstration Club at its regular meeting in the Donold home Thursday afternoon It was pointed out by Mrs. Donald that insects cause a heavy loss in vegetable gardens, a few simple controls and precautions, applied at the right time will greatly reduce or prevent these losses. Read your labels when buying insecticides, cryolite, D. D. T., nicotine, protenone, and sbadilla if used on the insects they are recommended for and if applied properly, will control most garden pest.

In a clothing leaders report, Mrs. R.O. Moss, suggests that when buying fabrics or ready-to wear, one should know the "new words" for special treatments of fabrics. These new words tell if the fabric is washable, fast-colored, preshrunk, crease resistant, permanent finish, or if treated to prevent moths.

Mrs. Mae Bourland, gave information on the prevention of lice, mites, and other parasites that rob poultry raisers every year. Mrs. Raymond Agin, House Furnishing leader, told of two styles of knife storage places for safety and convenience. The Family Life leader, Mrs. G. A. Strozier, showed by a chart with a pendelum how by the swing of the pendelum, ones life can be on the happy side or the unhappy side.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mrs. Albert Frost, Mrs. Clara Gilliland, Mrs. Strozier, Mrs. Agin, Mrs. Byron Henry, Mrs. George Bailev, Mrs. Bourland, Mrs. J. M. Kent and Mrs. Moss.

4-Step Program For Making New Friends

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: We have just moved to a suburban town from the city. I am finding it very difficult to make new friends, as most of the people around here have known each other for years. I'm a sophomore in high school. After school I have nothing to do but sit home and study or read. My mother says she's tired of my moping, but I do miss my friends in the city and don't know what to do with myself here. Have you any suggestions?

VIVIAN

ANSWER: It does often take a little time and patience for one to break into a new and already established "crowd," but it certainly is not the hopeless task you make it. Your schoolmates are just waiting to see if you measure up to their standards before accepting you as one of themselves. In the meantime, I have a few pointers that may help. Proficiency in four major fields of personal endeavor will soon bring you all the friends and dates you could possibly hope for. Here they are: Take the four letters that spell G-I-R-L! Let each one remind you of a trait you must acquire, and perfect. These are the things you must do: Groom, Interest, Relax, Liven! Not too difficult an assignment, is it?

APPEARANCE COMES FIRST

Groom: Your appearance, of course, is the first thing people notice about you, and from it they can form the most amazing conclusions. If you happen to be an habitually untidy person, you'll be immediately marked tabu with particular people. So you begin by paying meticulous attention to the way you look. Your hair must be clean, lustrous, shining, and arranged simply and tidily. If you use make-up, go easy. Don't plaster color on cheeks that nature has already tinted with a glowing pink, nor waste gobs of lipstick on youthfully red lips. Be sure your clothes are always spotless and pressed, your shoes shined, and heels straightened. Don't go in for extremes in anything, especially when in school.

Interest: Now you have attracted the attention, and approval, of your schoolmates by a well-scrubbed and shining appearance. They begin to notice you and make conversation. Show your interest in them. Don't try to impress them with your life in the city, the glamorous friends you knew, or places you frequented. Be curious, but not obnoxiously inquisitive, about the activities of your new acquaintances, and about the school. Even though the goings-on may seem "small town" to you, this is, after all, where you live and local affairs will be important in your new life.

Relax: Now that you are receiving some attentions from your neighbors, don't be flustered by them. Accept any invitations extended to you in a gracious manner, with no false hesitancies about not knowing whether you're free on a certain night or not. Even though some of the boys and girls may seem boring to you, be nice to them and accept any overtures in a pleasantly grateful manner.

Liven: By this time, you have become one of the bunch. You go to many of their homes, their parties, and are part of the general group. Don't sit back on your laurels. You must begin to do your part by contributing something to the general welfare. If you have talent, don't be hesitant about contributing some of it. If you play a musical instrument or sing, be generous in sharing the gift, but don't overdo it. Gauge the point at which your audience is satisfied, but not bored, and stop. Young peoples' groups become restive very easily, and activities must be constantly changed. If you don't have a particular talent, develop one. Become proficient in at least one sport and be ready to join in any games possible.

Follow this simple program, and see how long it takes to make friends!

DEAR MISS DIX: I was married four years ago when I was 18, and now have three children. My husband has driven a truck ever since our marriage, and has only been coming home once or twice a week. I hated it at first, but now I am glad, as he bores me to death. His only topic of conversation is trucks! Now he wants to get a job where he will be home nights. I dread it as I don't know how I can stand having him home every night of the week.

BONNIE

ANSWER: When a man is working hard to support you and his family, I don't see how you can tell him you don't want him home because he bores you! After all, he's earning the living for you. Being alone so much these past four years has probably made you so independent of anyone else's companionship that you resent having your solitude invaded. This phase, too, will pass as soon as you get used to your husband's new working schedule. If his conversation bores you, have you given any thought to your own? Perhaps you don't always have a sparkling flow of small talk either.

Dorothy Jean Barton And Jerry Lewis Are United In Marriage

Rev. and Mrs. Jewell Barton, of Sterlington, announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Jean, to Jerry Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Lewis, of Ferriday.

The marriage was solemnized Thursday, February 21st in Ferriday by the Rev. W. W. Hall.

Mr. Lewis is featured on the Ouachita Valley Jamboree program held each Saturday night at the Ouachita Valley fairgrounds exhibit building in West Monroe, with Al Jordan. Mr. Lewis sings high tenor and plays the piano.

The bridal couple are making their home in Ferriday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Calhoun on Louisiana Ave.

Mrs. Edwin Crowley Entertains At Meeting Of Readers' Clique

Miss Frances Barnes Is Guest Speaker At March Event

The members of the Readers' Clique met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Edwin Crowley on Auburn Ave.

A short business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Ivy Jordan. Reports from different committees were heard. Mrs. G. L. Morgan, chairman of the Easter egg project, was thanked for having completed this project in such a highly successful manner.

The correspondence was read by Mrs. Crowley, which included a letter from the local Red Cross thanking the club for a donation.

Miss Frances Barnes, speech and hearing therapist of the Monroe city school system ahd the Crippled Childrens' Clinic, made a very interesting address to the club. Improper hearing, Miss Barnes stated, is a very common reason for a person's inability to speak correctly. Miss Barnes stated that there are many speech defects in addition to those caused by inability to hear properly. The defect might be that of articulation, of distortion of sound, of lisping, voice disorder such as unusual pitch or hoarseness, of stuttering, of cerebral palsy speech, cleft lip or cleft palate speech or aphasia which is an injury to the association area of the brain. Each one of these disorders was discussed by Miss Barnes.

After her address, she graciously answered the many questions asked her by the members of the club.

Miss Barnes received a bachelors degree from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, a masters degree from Louisiana State University in education and psychology, and a masters degree from the University of Illinois in speech correction. For two years, she served at the state Spastic School in Alexandria. The past four summers Miss Barnes has spent on the staff at the University of Illinois.

During the conversational hour that followed delicious refreshments were served to Mrs. Burl Hollis, Mrs. J. S. Harbuck, Mrs. Ray Updegraff, Mrs. Clay Wilson, Mrs. Pete Coats, Mrs. Oliver Lowery, Mrs. Mike John, Mrs. T. F. Wilson, Mrs. A. G. Olcott, Mrs. Louis Peters, Mrs. Harrell Webster, Mrs. G. L. Morgan, Mrs. Ivy Jordan, Mrs. Henry Menuet, Mrs. James Schonlau, Mrs. Fred Parrish, Mrs. Ryamond John and Miss Barnes.

Logtown P.-T. A. Has Monthly Meeting

The Girls' Choir composed of girls from the sixth, seventh and eighth grades rendered a lovely trio of songs, "Oh Yes Yes," "Ole Uncle Moon," and "Bless Us We Pray," under the able direction of Mrs. Bobby Wilson, to open the regular meeting of the Logtown Parent-Teacher meeting.

A business session was then held with Mrs. Marvin Shipp, presiding. Reports from the following members, Mrs. Shipp, Mrs. Bill Luton, Mrs. Alma Stout, Mrs. Neal Long, Mrs. James Pender and Mrs. Spancer who attended the District meeting at Sterlington, were heard. Mrs. Shipp extended an invitation at this meeting to the district to hold their October meeting at the Logtown school.

A vote was made to send two delegates to the state convention to be held in New Orleans. Plans were made and committees appointed for a "Cake Walk" and Magician Show" to be held in Logtown school March 21st at seven p. m.

The seventh grade won the room count having the most mothers and grandmothers present.

Home Gardener Club Has Silver Tea Wednesday

Members Display Antiques At Event Held In The Home Of Mrs. Milton Ford

Over two hundred and fifty guests availed themselves of the opportunity of viewing the beautiful antiques in the lovely home of Mrs. Milton Ford, sponsored by the Home Gardener Club.

Noted among these guests were several men interested in civic affairs of the city and were Mr. Milton Ford, Mr. Jack Howard, Mr. C. B. McQuiller, Mr. C. H. Shook and Mr. Joe Ellis.

This was an opportunity for the people of today to see and appreciate the heir-looms from ancestors of yesteryear. Among them were Bisque, early American pressed glass, imported china, sterling silver, cut glass and crystal.

One display that created a great deal of interest was a bound volume of Harpers Bazaar, dating January through December 1857, displayed by Mr. Albert Horuff.

The flower arrangements throughout the house were shown to a great advantage in antique containers.

The dining table was overlaid with a lovely lace cover with a silver tea service at each end.

The center of interest on the table was a beautiful flower arrangement made by Mrs. Jewell McQuiller in her favorite cambridge bowl. This arrangement, in keeping with the color scheme, consisted of yellow iris, daffodils, poeticus, calla lilies and yellow rose buds.

The refreshments were served from antique serving plates and antique compotes were holding green and yellow mints.

The lovely poeticus narcissus on the registration table were compliments from the gardens of Mrs. C. S. Swain. Camellias shown in conjunction with a display of antique china were grown by Mrs. H. A. Whitfield.

Receiving the guests with Mrs. Ford were Mrs. L. N. Copes, chairman, Mrs. John Peters, president, Mrs. M. J. Hortman and Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, past presidents.

Alternating at the silver services were Mrs. F. V. Reitzell, Mrs. C. H. Shook, Mrs. Jewell McQuiller, Mrs. L. A. Smith, Mrs. W. E. Young, Mrs. Aline Banister, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery and Mrs. C. J. Cornett.

Other hostesses throughout the home were Mrs. H. O. Hartman, Mrs. J. A. Funston, Mrs. O. L. Hoskins, Mrs. M. R. Hausherr, Mrs. R. N. Dozier, Mrs. Roy Colquette, Mrs. F. C. Reynolds, Mrs. Florence Brothers, Mrs. H. F. Madison, Jr., Mrs. C. D. Smith, Mrs. L. D. Rogers, Mrs. Laura Phillips, Mrs. A. A. Tarpley, Mrs. Tom Firnberg, Mrs. L. R. Harrison, Mrs. Gerald Frazier, Mrs. C. R. Clay, Mrs. Ertie Lampkins, and Mrs. C. E. Street.

The Garden Club as a whole appreciated the response of the public in attending the silver tea given for the purpose of purchasing swings for Bernstein Park for the enjoyment of the children of the Twin Cities.

This club strives to help in all civic projects.

ANSWER: It does often take a little time and patience for one to break into a new and already established "crowd," but it certainly is not the hopeless task you make it. Your schoolmates are just waiting to see if you measure up to their standards before accepting you as one of themselves. In the meantime, I have a few pointers that may help. Proficiency in four major fields of personal endeavor will soon bring you all the friends and dates you could possibly hope for. Here they are; Take the four letters that spell G-I-R-L! Let each one remind you of a trait you must acquire, and perfect. These are the things you must do: Groom, Interest, Relax, Liven! Not too difficult an assignment, is it?

APPEARANCE COMES FIRST

Groom: Your appearance, of course, is the first thing people notice about you, and from it they can form the most amazing conclusions. If you happen to be an habitually untidy person, you'll be immediately marked tabu with particular people. So you begin by paying meticulous attention to the way you look. Mrs. P. M. Donald Is March Hostess At Drew Club Meeting

Importance of "Insect Control" was demonstrated and explained by Mrs. P. M. Donald before the Drew Home Demonstration Club at its regular meeting in the Donold home Thursday afternoon It was pointed out by Mrs. Donald that insects cause a heavy loss in vegetable gardens, a few simple controls and precautions, applied at the right time will greatly reduce or prevent these losses. Read your labels when buying insecticides, cryolite, D. D. T., nicotine, protenone, and sbadilla if used on the insects they are recommended for and if applied properly, will control most garden pest.

In a clothing leaders report, Mrs. R.O. Moss, suggests that when buying fabrics or ready-to wear, one should know the "new words" for special treatments of fabrics. These new words tell if the fabric is washable, fast-colored, preshrunk, crease resistant, permanent finish, or if treated to prevent moths.

Mrs. Mae Bourland, gave information on the prevention of lice, mites, and other parasites that rob poultry raisers every year. Mrs. Raymond Agin, House Furnishing leader, told of two styles of knife storage places for safety and convenience. The Family Life leader, Mrs. G. A. Dorothy Jean Barton And Jerry Lewis Are United In Marriage

Rev. and Mrs. Jewell Barton, of Sterlington, announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Jean, to Jerry Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Lewis, of Ferriday.

The marriage was solemnized Thursday, February 21st in Ferriday by the Rev. W. W. Hall.

Mr. Lewis is featured on the Ouachita Valley Jamboree program held each Saturday night at the Ouachita Valley fairgrounds exhibit building in West Monroe, with Al Jordan. Mr. Lewis sings high tenor and plays the piano.

The bridal couple are making their home in Ferriday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Calhoun on Louisiana Ave.

Mrs. Edwin Crowley Entertains At Meeting Of Readers' Clique

Miss Frances Barnes Is Guest Speaker At March Event

The members of the Readers' Clique met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Edwin Crowley on Auburn Ave.

A short business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Ivy Jordan. Reports from different committees were heard. Mrs. G. L. Morgan, chairman of the Easter egg project, was thanked for having completed this project in such a highly successful manner.

The correspondence was read by Mrs. Crowley, which included a letter from the local Red Cross thanking the club for a donation.

Miss Frances Barnes, speech and hearing therapist of the Monroe city school system and the Crippled Childrens' Clinic, made a very interesting address to the club. Improper hearing, Miss Barnes stated, is a very common reason for a person's inability to speak correctly. Miss Barnes stated that there are many speech defects in addition to those caused by inability to hear properly. The defect might be that of articulation, of distortion of sound, of lisping, voice disorder such as unusual pitch or hoarseness, of stuttering, of cerebral palsy speech, cleft lip or cleft palate speech or aphasia which is an injury to the association area of the brain. Each one of these disorders was discussed by Miss Barnes.

After her address, she graciously answered the many questions asked her by the members of the club.

Miss Barnes received a bachelors degree from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, a masters degree from Louisiana State University in education and psychology, and a masters degree from the University of Illinois in speech correction. For two years, she served at the state Spastic School in Alexandria. The past four summers Miss Barnes has spent on the staff at the University of Illinois.

During the conversational hour that followed delicious refreshments were served to Mrs. Burl Hollis, Mrs. J. S. Logtown P.-T. A. Has Monthly Meeting

The Girls' Choir composed of girls from the sixth, seventh and eighth grades rendered a lovely trio of songs, "Oh Yes Yes," "Ole Uncle Moon," and "Bless Us We Pray," under the able direction of Mrs. Bobby Wilson, to open the regular meeting of the Logtown Parent-Teacher meeting.

A business session was then held with Mrs. Marvin Shipp, presiding. Reports from the following members, Mrs. Shipp, Mrs. Bill Luton, Mrs. Alma Stout, Mrs. Neal Long, Mrs. James Pender and Mrs. Spancer who attended the District meeting at Sterlington, were heard. Mrs. Shipp extended an invitation at this meeting to the district to hold their October meeting at the Logtown school.

A vote was made to send two delegates to the state convention to be held in New Orleans. Plans were made and committees appointed for a "Cake Walk" and Magician Show" to be held in Logtown school March 21st at seven p. m.

The seventh grade won the room count having the most mothers and grandmothers present.

MRS. C. B. BRAUN IS MARCH HOSTESS TO REVIEW CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. C. B. Braun entertained the Review Club Monday afternoon in her home at 1608 North Second Street. Dogwood blossoms, azaleas and pink honeysuckle gave an air of spring, while decorations of green candles and shamrocks carried out the St. Patrick's Day theme.

The meeting was opened with the reading of the club collect, followed by a brief business session. The president, Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Jr., welcomed a new member, Mrs. D. W. Griffith, into the club. The president's message on the recognition of St. Patrick's Day consisted of quotations and comments of famous men, including Kipling and Mark Twain.

As a follow-up to the recent trying days of filing income tax returns, Mrs. Ben Cobb reviewed an interesting article from Fortune magazine on "What It Costs to Be an American." She stated that the per capita share of national defense each year is $400.00 per person and $1,500.00 per family.

Following Mrs. Cobb's enlightening review, Mrs. J. C. Loftin introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. J. K. Brothers, Jr. Mrs. Brothers reviewed "These Are Our Lives," a federal writers' publication, edited by W. T. Couch. This book, following in line with the club's study of the south in biography, portrayed the methods and quality of life of a people, revealing the real workings of institutions, customs, habits as compared to methods in fiction and in sociological studies.

At the close of the program, a delightful social hour was enjoyed during which Mrs. Braun served delicious and attractive St. Patrick's Day refreshments to the following members: Mrs. Bill Inabnet, Mrs. Ben Cobb, Mrs. D. W. Griffith, Mrs. J. K. Brothers, Jr., Mrs. E. P. Cudd, Mrs. W. T. Davis, Mrs. A. T. Givens, Mrs. DeWitt Henry, Mrs. J. C. Loftin, Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Jr., Mrs. J. P. Noel. Miss Elrissa Maxwell Weds John R. Linecum

In a simple, but lovely home ceremony Thursday evening at 7, o'clock, Miss Elrissa Maxwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Maxwell of Georgetown, La., became the bride of Mr. John R. Lincecum, son of Mrs. T. C. Lincecum and the late Mr. Lincecum also of Georgetown.

The wedding took place at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Monroe Sessions in Urania, La.

The Rev. Floyd Lisenby, pastor of the Georgetown Baptist Church read the double-ring vows before the fireplace banked with magnolia foliage, with tall floor baskees filled with white spirea and dogwood blossoms. The mantle held an arrangement of bridal wreath, dogwood and white iris with tall white candles in crystal candelabra placed at the back.

The bride was lovely in a spring suit of beige orlon material with British tan accessories. She wore a purple orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a small reception was held for the members of the families and the few friends attending.

The bride's table was laid with an imported, white linen damask cloth and centered with an arrangement of white daisies and fern. Tall white candles in silver holders glowed on either side. At one end of the table was placed the three-tiered wedding cake, embossed in white rose buds and topped with a miniature bride and groom, at which Mrs. C. E. Lincecum, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, presided. At the other end of the table, Miss Margie Lincecum, served punch from a crystal bowl.

The bride attended Northwestern College at Natchitoches and is now teaching in the physical education department of the LaSalle High School in Olla, La.

Mr. Lincecum attended Northwestern and Louisiana Tech. He is employed with the state welfare department in Alexandria.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Georgetown, La.

NEWS FROM THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Among the new books of fiction received at the Ouachita Parish Public Library during the past week, there are books to appeal to every type of reader. Do you like mystery stories? If you do, you will surely want to read Leslie Ford's new story, "The Bahamas Murder Case." This story appeared as a serial in the Saturday Evening Post last summer. It has everything to make it an interesting story, colorful background, beautiful heroine and an absorbing plot. "Barbary Hoard" by John Appleby is called a novel of suspense. This story has for its setting northern Africa and the territory around Algiers. It is a story of a search for buried treasure and all the hazards involved. Don't miss it.

Historical novels are always popular and there are two new ones in this week's group. "Shiloh" by Shelby Foote is the story of the battle fought early in April 1862, and the story is told through the eyes of men who were there. We hear alternately from the Union and Confederate sides. When the reader finishes this book, he will have lived through one of the really important crises of our nation; he will have been at Shiloh. "The Forest Cavalier" by Roy Flanagan is a romance of America's first frontier, that of Virginia in the late seventeenth century. In this novel the author deals in an entirely fresh way with a basic national theme — the making of an American. He describes in terms of a driving narrative, the moment of division between the old world and the new, and the instant of first advance to the American future. This is the story of Lance Clayborne, recently come from the old world, who is caught up in the violence of Bacon's rebellion. Mr. Flanagan has done a wonderful job of bringing alive, one of the most stirring incidents in our history.

Many readers prefer stories with a modern background and there are several new ones available. "The Day of the Peacock" by Elizabeth Boatwright Coker is concerned with life in the new south. In this book we see the conflicts between the old and the new ways of life in the south, and there is a fascinating love story also. "The Penningtons" by Basil Partridge is a story of a large and wonderful family, their problems and the ways in which they were resolved. The story opens in the year 1905 in a remote Candian city where the father of the family is Dean of the Cathedral. This is a loveable family and one that you will enjoy knowing. "Bright Procession" by John Sedges is the story of a man who throughout his life looked for the good in people and found it. It is an inspiring story, but not a sissy one.

"Prescription for Marriage" by Mary Brinker Post is the love story of a marriage and how it was saved when it seemed on the point of ruin. It is a story that will fascinate every woman who has ever been in love. Honestly and sensitively written, it offers hope for those who have failed, and a challenge to those who still have hope. "Grand Right and Left" by Louis Kronenberger is a different sort of story. It deals with a man who had everything and was completely bored because there was nothing left for him to collect. His wife suggested that he collect people, which he did with amazing results. A web of plots and counterplots emeshes the group in a way that is interesting to read about.

Ernestine Gilbreth Carey, co-author of the very popular "Cheaper by the Dozen" has written a breezy novel about life in a department store, which she calls "Jumping Jupiter." This novel is often satirical, frequently hilarious and always interesting. It is one of the first novels to get behind the show windows of the high-pressure world of retail merchandising.

All of these books are available at the Ouachita Parish Public Library. Take advantage of the resources awaiting you.

The Community Service Club Has March Meeting

FERRIDAY, La., March 19—The Community Service Club held its regular meeting Friday night at the home of Mrs. Jules Glanton with Mrs. Harvey Ganey as co-hostess. There were 18 members present. Eight members of the club volunteered to work on the Red Cross drive and work will be begun during the coming week. Each group was assigned to a specific territory so that no one will have to go far from her neighborhood. The First - Aid course, sponsored by the Red Cross, now in progress will close at the end of six weeks. At this time a new class will be organized and 16 members of the club have signed to take this new course. Members were asked to donate cookies for Easter for the Veterans Hospital in Alexandria.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT MEETING OF MISSOURI PACIFIC WOMEN'S CLUB

At the business meeting of the Missouri Pacific Women's Club on Friday at the clubhouse, Mrs. F. V. Reitzell opened the meeting by having the salute to the flag and the reading of the club collect led by the chaplain, Mrs. J. R. Arthur.

Election of officers for the coming club year was held and the names of the new officers will be announced at the May meeting at which time they will be installed in office.

Courtesy chairman, Mrs. C. E. Copeland, read an invitation to club members to attend the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. William Livingstone Perce at their home on the evening of March 19th. Another invitation was extended from the Home Gardner Club to attend a silver tea in the home of Mrs. Milton Ford on the afternoon of March 19th.

A speech of commendation given by Mrs. R. N. Dozier to the following past presidents attending: Mrs. A. J. Speer, Mrs. W. E. Burke, Mrs. M. R. Hausherr, Mrs. F. H. Peterson, Mrs. R. H. Dollar, Mrs. C. E. Copeland and Mrs. C. H. McAmis and in turn each was presented with a lovely corsage by Mrs. F. V. Reitzell.

Honorary membership awards were bestowed on Mrs. W. L. Perce and Mrs. W. C. Lanier, both wives of retired Missouri Pacific employees and active in club work.

Rev. R. T. Watson, pastor of the First Christian Church spoke to the group on "Our World Tomorrow." Mrs. Watson was also a guest of the club.

Dainty refreshments in the shamrock motif were served by the following hostesses: Mrs. L. M. Posey, Mrs. R. E. Speer, Mrs. R. S. Baggott and Mrs. O. M. Dowdy.

At the business meeting of the Missouri Pacific Women's Club on Friday at the clubhouse, Mrs. F. V. Reitzell opened the meeting by having the salute to the flag and the reading of the club collect led by the chaplain, Mrs. J. R. Arthur.

Election of officers for the coming club year was held and the names of the new officers will be announced at the May meeting at which time they will be installed in office.

Courtesy chairman, Mrs. C. E. Copeland, read an invitation to club members to attend the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. William Livingstone Perce at their home on the evening of March 19th. Another invitation was extended from the Home Gardner Club to attend a silver tea in the home of Mrs. Milton Ford on the afternoon of March 19th.

A speech of commendation given by Mrs. R. N. Dozier to the following past presidents attending: Mrs. A. J. Speer, Mrs. W. E. Burke, Mrs. M. R. Hausherr, Mrs. F. H. Peterson, Mrs. R. H. Dollar, Mrs. C. E. Copeland and Mrs. C. H. McAmis and in turn each was presented with a lovely corsage by Mrs. F. V. Reitzell.

Honorary membership awards were bestowed on Mrs. W. L. Perce and Mrs. W. C. Lanier, both wives of retired Missouri Pacific employees and active in club work.

Rev. R. T. Watson, pastor of the First Christian Church spoke to the group on "Our World Tomorrow." Mrs. Watson was also a guest of the club.

Dainty refreshments in the shamrock motif were served by the following hostesses: Mrs. L. M. Posey, Mrs. R. E. Speer, Mrs. R. S. Baggott and Mrs. O. M. Dowdy.

NEW 1952 Chevrolet
CENTERPOISE POWER
Vibration and power impulses are "screened out" as engine is centered and rubber-cushioned between new high-side mountings.
LARGEST BRAKES
Big 11-inch brake drums apply more leverage for more stopping power. Stops are smoother, safer, with less effort.
WIDEST COLOR CHOICE
26 rich new colors and two-tone combinations . . . widest choice in Chevrolet's field. New De Luxe interiors are color-matched.
Lowest priced in its field!
This beautiful new Chevrolet Bel Air—like many Chevrolet models—lists for less than any comparable model in its field. (Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.)
No other low-priced car offers these fine features!
Every single feature shown here is offered only by Chevrolet in its field. And every single one means extra pleasure, extra safety, or extra economy for you. Yet again in 1952 Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in its field! Come in and see for yourself!
BODY BY FISHER
Fisher Body sets the standard—for styling, for craftsmanship, for comfort! Fisher Unisteel construction is extra strong and sturdy.
UNITIZED KNEE-ACTION RIDE
Chevrolet's famous Knee-Action ride is now even softer, smoother. New shock absorbers give even finer ride control.
WIDEST TREAD
Chevrolet measures 58¾ inches between centers of rear wheels —a broader base to give you more stability, less sway!
4-WAY ENGINE LUBRICATION
Chevrolet's exclusive engine lubricating system supplies exactly the right kind and amount of lubrication to each moving part.
CAST IRON ALLOY PISTONS
Pistons are of same material as the cylinder block—expand and contract at the same rate. Reduces wear, saves oil!
SAFETY PLATE GLASS ALL AROUND
Chevrolet alone in its field gives you safety plate glass in windshield and all windows for a clearer, truer all-round view.
POWERGLIDE AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION
Powerglide is simpler with fewer parts to wear. It's smoother—no complicated intermediate gears. (Optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.)
MOST POWERFUL VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE
Teamed with Powerglide is the most powerful valve-in-head engine in Chevrolet's field and an outstandingly fine performer in any field!

MRS. FRED TUCKER ENTERTAINS MAGNOLIA STUDY CLUB MEMBERS

Amid an array of lovely spring flowers, the Magnolia Study Club ushered in the first day of spring in the home of Mrs. Fred Tucker with Mrs. C. P. Landers as co-hostess.

The members were delightfully entertained with several members exhibiting their skill in special exercises designed for keeping the trim figure which most club members strive to have.

The president, Mrs. C. C. Lucky, presided over the meeting. Many arts were listed and classified by the members to be carried to the Fifth District meeting to be held in Rayville March 29th.

The regular meeting had for its purpose the Reforestration program. Mrs. Ed Hislop, program chairman, presented Mrs. Tom Leos who gave an interesting report of "Products of American Forests." She said in part: "There is magic in wood. Did you ever think what life would be like without trees. Fortunately the timber is replaced and we do not have a great worry. We stand on floors, we wax wood furniture, we dust wood picture frames, and our clothes are even made of wood. Some people have called this the atomic age. It can also be called the age of wood."

Mrs. Aline Banister spoke on "The World of 1951" and stated that our beloved country is at the crossroads. There are those countries that envy us our freedom, our material prosperity and there are those who would destroy us. The General Federation of Women's Clubs has a manifesto for action. In a Democracy we believe in a majority decision and we abide by it. We are committed to certain fundamental functions, the support of the United Nations collective security, ratification of the North Atlantic Pact, support of UMT and other defense measures. Let us pledge ourselves to believe in victory, to think victory and to work for it.

Delicious refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. Tom Leos, Mrs. W. O. Ferguson, Mrs. A. T. White, Mrs. Milton Ford, Mrs. L. N. Dozier, Mrs. Ed Hislop, Mrs. R. P. McKay, Mrs. F. Reitzell, Mrs. Joe F. Smith, Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. L. N. Copes, Mrs. H. O. Hartman, Mrs. J. E. Nelson, Mrs. C. C. Lucky, Miss Virginia Smith, Mrs. W. E. Young and the hostesses, Mrs. Fred Tucker and Mrs. C. P. Landers.

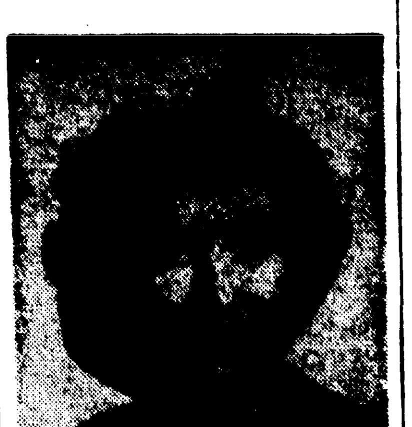
FFA SWEETHEART



Miss June Blake, student at Ouachita Parish High School, will represent the parish chapter of the Future Farmers of America in a state "Sweethearts' Convention" to be held in Baton Rouge during June. The West Monroe girl was chosen chapter sweetheart at a meeting Wednesday afternoon. Winner of the state sweetheart contest will represent Louisiana at the national convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

Miss Patricia Lawless Entertained At Open House In Oak Ridge

The Community Hall at Oak Ridge was the scene of a beautifully appointed event Tuesday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon when Mrs. T. A. Rains, Mrs. F. J. Fitch, Mrs. J. B. Shaw, Jr., and Mrs. J. B. Shaw, Sr., introduced Miss Patricia Lawless of Springfield, Mo, to the many friends of the Shaw family.

Mrs. H. J. Norris, Mrs. Alice Tilberry, Mrs. Frank Dixon and Mrs. Homer Flynn assisted in extending courtesies to the guests from Monroe, Bastrop, Mer Rouge and Oak Ridge.

Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. R. E. Whipple, of Mer Rouge.

Tea girls were Ruth Herron, Edna Osborne, Eugenia Valentine, Mary Sterling Rolfe, Ann Files, Elizabeth Conger, Carroll Ann Smith, Ruby Day and Martha Ann Longhridge.

Miss Patricia Lawless of Springfield, Mo., who has been the guest in the home of Mrs. J. B. Shaw was the inspiration for a number of parties during her visit in Oak Ridge. She was also dinner guest the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Rains, Jr., in Mer Rouge.

MISS DOROTHY JANE MONROE WEDS GEORGE DALE WELCH

Wedding vows were repeated by Miss Dorothy Jane Monroe and George Dale Welch at eight o'clock Friday night, February 22nd at Wesley Methodist Church in Tyler, Texas. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis R. Monroe of Tyler, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Welch of Newellton, La.

The ceremony was read by Rev. James Lee Riley before the beautifully decorated altar.

Miss Louise Glenn sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." She was accompanied by Mrs. John Sides, organist, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a suit of navy blue imported linen with petal pink accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with camellias.

She was attended by her cousin, Miss Ruth Marie Roberson, who was attired in a pink silk shantung dress, style with fitted boduce and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bridegroom's brother-in-law, James Eads of Newellton, La. served as best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the wedding.

The table was laid with lace and cut-work cloth and centered with an arrangement of white flowers. The three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. James Eads, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Eva Langham presided at the table.

Mrs. Welch graduated from Canton High School and attended business college in Dallas, Mr. Welch is a graduate of the Newellton High School and the Belknap Training School in Louisville, Ky.

The couple will reside at 2822 Copeland Road, Tyler, Tex.

STENOGRAPHY COURSE SHORTER

One - Year Secretarial Science Study At Lafayette

LAFAYETTE, La., March 22 (Special)—To help relieve the critical shortage of efficient stenographers, Southwestern Louisiana Institute announced it will offer a one-year secretarial science course beginning this summer.

The course is designed especially for students who do not intend to complete a full four-year college program, according to Dr. Herbert Hamilton, dean of administration and head of the department of economics and business administration. However, credits earned in the one-year course may be applied toward a degree if the student contiues in college.

The basic secretarial skills of shorthand and typewriting will be taught in an intensified program, making it possible for a student to complete in eleven months, training for a good stenographic position.

The one-year course will also include instructions in English grammar, business correspondence, business arithmetic, filing, secretarial bookkeeping, business machines, and office management.

The regular faculty and equipment and facilities of the business administration department will be utilized in the course.

No tuition fee is required and students may live in the modern dormitories of the college, live at home or commute.

TIGERETTES ARE TEAM SUPPORT

Grow Stronger Year By Year; Linda Thompson Honored

Founded as a democratic group to support Neville's Tiger football team, the Tigerettes have grown and expanded in recent years, without losing sight of their founding principles.

On the drill field, their colorful group is required to comply with the strictest of military discipline. Commanderes for the girls are selected each spring from the upper class girls. The seniors provide the senior commander and alternate. The juniors provide two junior commanders. The Tigerettes make the selection by secret ballot.

Last week the 170 girls selected Linda Thompson as senior commander. As senior alternate they selected Geney Wilson. Both of these girls have three years of marching experience behind them.

Next week the Tigerettes will select the Junior Commanders along with their president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. These girls when elected will be formally installed at the annual Tigerette banquet to be held in May. All will have a vital role to play in maintaining the fast pace set by this versatile group.

• JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Go Ahead And Cry; We Are With You

By Oswald Jacoby

"Every bridge player must listen to my tale of woe," writes a sad Chicago fan. "There never was such a fixing since bridge has been played.

"I got to my optimistic contract of five clubs, and West opened the four of spades. East took the queen of spades and the ace of spades. Then he quickly led another card from his hand.

Opening lead—♠ 4

"As he led this new card from his hand, he looked at the dummy and said, 'This is a misdeal. There are two kings of spades in this deck.' Then he looked down at the card he had led and turned a bright shade of green. As you've undoubtedly guessed, he had led the king of clubs under the impression that he was leading the king of spades.

"Well, he grabbed his king of clubs to try to put it back in his hand, and I didn't try to stop him, but my partner insisted that the card had been led and that East couldn't take it back. Since North also happens to be my boss, and since I'm not a complete nitwit, I didn't argue the point. That king of clubs had to stand as a lead.

"The payoff, as you can see, is that the king of clubs is the only card that East can lead to defeat me. With that lead I get no ruffs in dummy, and I can win only ten tricks in high cards: a spade, a heart, two diamonds, and six clubs.

If East leads any of the remaining ten cards in his hand (but not the king of clubs), I can make the contract. For example, if East leads a third spade, I throw a diamond from my hand and win in dummy.

"Then I finesse the queen of diamonds, take the ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond in dummy with the queen of clubs, and finesse clubs to return to my hand. All the finesses work, and all the right cards drop.

"The play is much the same no matter what East returns — just as long as he doesn't get a brainstorm and return that king of clubs. Do I have a right to howl and gnash my teeth or don't I?"

Permission to howl is hereby granted. Sympathetic bridge players are urged not to sob too loudly over this sad tale.

Q—The bidding has been:

South, 1 Spade; West, Pass; North, 2 Clubs; East, Pass.

South,?

You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-10-7-4-2, Heart A, Diamonds A-6-5-3, Club 8. What do you do?

A—Bid three spades. You can practically guarantee a game, but a jump to three spades is sufficient. Some players consider it technically not quite forcing, but as a practical matter a partner whose hand was good enough for a response at the level of two will never pass this jump re-bid.

Today's Question

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-10-7-4-2, Heart A, Diamond 8, Clubs A-6-5-3. What do you do?

In Armed Forces

GULFPORT, Miss., March 22.—(Special)—Ben Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Powell, 100 Powell Street, West Monroe, Louisiana, has been promoted to sergeant at Technical Training Air Force (TTAF) headquarters here, it was announced today.

Sergeant Powell is serving in the Adjutant General Publications division at TTAF which operates the 10 major USAF technical training schools and indoctrination centers, in addition to more than 50 student squadrons located at civilian educational institutions throughout the country. At TTAF bases are stationed one-fifth of all Air Force personnel.

A graduate of Helena, Arkansas high school, Sergeant Powell was a linotype operator before entering the Air Force in 1950.

BACK-BREAKING BROTHERS

HARRISBURG, Ill. (AP) — Benjamin Gobin, 25, is the fourth of seven brothers to break his back in four years. All lived.

He fell at work on a Joppa, Ill., power plant. George, 40, and Roy, 32, suffered broken backs in separate coal mine accidents. Brother Oscar, 28, fell 119 feet at work in Hammond, Ind., to break his back.

It's got the other three brothers wondering who's next.

FFA SWEETHEART

Miss June Blake, student at Ouachita Parish High School, will represent the parish chapter of the Future Farmers of America in a state "Sweethearts' Convention" to be held in Baton Rouge during June. The West Monroe girl was chosen chapter sweetheart at a meeting Wednesday afternoon. Winner of the state sweetheart contest will represent Louisiana at the national convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

Miss Patricia Lawless Entertained At Open House In Oak Ridge

The Community Hall at Oak Ridge was the scene of a beautifully appointed event Tuesday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon when Mrs. T. A. Rains, Mrs. F. J. Fitch, Mrs. J. B. Shaw, Jr., and Mrs. J. B. Shaw, Sr., introduced Miss Patricia Lawless of Springfield, Mo., to the many friends of the Shaw family.

Mrs. H. J. Norris, Mrs. Alice Tilberry, Mrs. Frank Dixon and Mrs. Homer Flynn assisted in extending courtesies to the guests from Monroe, Bastrop, Mer Rouge and Oak Ridge.

Presiding at the guest book was Mrs. R. E. Whipple, of Mer Rouge.

The tea table, overlaid with a linen and lace cloth, carried out the green and white motif. The centerpiece of white gladioli and carnations was flanked by burning white tapers.

Tea girls were Ruth Herron, Edna Osborne, Eugenia Valentine, Mary Sterling Rolfe, Ann Files, Elizabeth Conger, Carroll Ann Smith, Ruby Day and Martha Ann Longhridge.

Miss Patricia Lawless of Springfield, Mo., who has been the guest in the home of Mrs. J. B. Shaw was the inspiration for a number of parties during her visit in Oak Ridge. She was also dinner guest the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Rains, Jr., in Mer Rouge.

MISS DOROTHY JANE MONROE WEDS GEORGE DALE WELCH

Wedding vows were repeated by Miss Dorothy Jane Monroe and George Dale Welch at eight o'clock Friday night, February 22nd at Wesley Methodist Church in Tyler, Texas. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis R. Monroe of Tyler, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Welch of Newellton, La.

The ceremony was read by Rev. James Lee Riley before the beautifully decorated altar.

Miss Louise Glenn sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." She was accompanied by Mrs. John Sides, organist, who also played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a suit of navy blue imported linen with petal pink accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with camellias.

She was attended by her cousin, Miss Ruth Marie Roberson, who was attired in a pink silk shantung dress, style with fitted boduce and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bridegroom's brother-in-law, James Eads of Newellton, La. served as best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately following the wedding.

The table was laid with lace and cut-work cloth and centered with an arrangement of white flowers. The three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. James Eads, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Eva Langham presided at the table.

Mrs. Welch graduated from Canton High School and attended business college in Dallas, Mr. Welch is a graduate of the Newellton High School and the Belknap Training School in Louisville, Ky.

The couple will reside at 2822 Copeland Road, Tyler, Tex.

Pitcher Vic Raschi of the Yankees was assigned Joe DiMaggio's old locker at the St. Petersburg spring training quarters.

STENOGRAPHY COURSE SHORTER

One - Year Secretarial Science Study At Lafayette

LAFAYETTE, La., March 22 (Special)—To help relieve the critical shortage of efficient stenographers, Southwestern Louisiana Institute announced it will offer a one-year secretarial science course beginning this summer.

The course is designed especially for students who do not intend to complete a full four-year college program, according to Dr. Herbert Hamilton, dean of administration and head of the department of economics and business administration. However, credits earned in the one-year course may be applied toward a degree if the student contiues in college.

The basic secretarial skills of shorthand and typewriting will be taught in an intensified program, making it possible for a student to complete in eleven months, training for a good stenographic position.

The one-year course will also include instructions in English grammar, business correspondence, business arithmetic, filing, secretarial bookkeeping, business machines, and office management.

The regular faculty and equipment and facilities of the business administration department will be utilized in the course.

No tuition fee is required and students may live in the modern dormitories of the college, live at home or commute.

TIGERETTES ARE TEAM SUPPORT

Grow Stronger Year By Year; Linda Thompson Honored

Founded as a democratic group to support Neville's Tiger football team, the Tigerettes have grown and expanded in recent years, without losing sight of their founding principles.

On the drill field, their colorful group is required to comply with the strictest of military discipline. Commanderes for the girls are selected each spring from the upper class girls. The seniors provide the senior commander and alternate. The juniors provide two junior commanders. The Tigerettes make the selection by secret ballot.

Last week the 170 girls selected Linda Thompson as senior commander. As senior alternate they selected Geney Wilson. Both of these girls have three years of marching experience behind them.

Next week the Tigerettes will select the Junior Commanders along with their president, vice - president, secretary, and treasurer. These girls when elected will be formally installed at the annual Tigerette banquet to be held in May. All will have a vital role to play in maintaining the fast pace set by this versatile group.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Go Ahead And Cry; We Are With You

By Oswald Jacoby

"Every bridge player must listen to my tale of woe," writes a sad Chicago fan. "There never was such a fixing since bridge has been played.

"I got to my optimistic contract of five clubs, and West opened the four of spades. East took the queen of spades and the ace of spades. Then he quickly led another card from his hand.

Opening lead—♠ 4

"As he led this new card from his hand, he looked at the dummy and said, 'This is a misdeal. There are two kings of spades in this deck.' Then he looked down at the card he had led and turned a bright shade of green. As you've undoubtedly guessed, he had led the king of clubs under the impression that he was leading the king of spades.

"Well, he grabbed his king of clubs to try to put it back in his hand, and I didn't try to stop him, but my partner insisted that the card had been led and that East couldn't take it back. Since North also happens to be my boss, and since I'm not a complete nitwit, I didn't argue the point. That king of clubs had to stand as a lead.

"The payoff, as you can see, is that the king of clubs is the only card that East can lead to defeat me. With that lead I get no ruffs in dummy, and I can win only ten tricks in high cards: a spade, a heart, two diamonds, and six lubs.

If East leads any of the remaining ten cards in his hand (but not the king of clubs), I can make the contract. For example, if East leads a third spade, I throw a diamond from my hand and win in dummy.

"Then I finesse the queen of diamonds, take the ace of diamonds, ruff a diamond in dummy with the queen of clubs, and finesse clubs to return to my hand. All the finesses work, and all the right cards drop.

"The play is much the same no matter what East returns — just as long as he doesn't get a brainstorm and return that king of clubs. Do I have a right to howl and gnash my teeth or don't I?"

Permission to howl is hereby granted. Sympathetic bridge players are urged not to sob too loudly over this sad tale.

Q—The bidding has been:
South, 1 Spade; West, Pass; North, 2 Clubs; East, Pass.
South,?

You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-10-7-4-2, Heart A, Diamonds A-6-5-3, Club 8. What do you do?

A—Bid three spades. You can practically guarantee a game, but a jump to three spades is sufficient. Some players consider it technically not quite forcing, but as a practical matter a partner whose hand was good enough for a response at the level of two will never pass this jump re-bid.

Today's Question

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-10-7-4-2, Heart A, Diamond 8, Clubs A-6-5-3. What do you do?

Universal-International's "Flesh And Fury" cleverly combines the stark background of the prize fight game with the unfolding of a poignant love story. Tony Curtis and Jan Sterling, shown above, are starred in "Flesh And Fury" with Mona Freeman. Wallace Ford and Connie Gilchrist head the strong supporting cast. "Flesh And Fury" plays a three day engagement at the Paramount opening today.

'Flesh and Fury' Wins New Praise For Curtis

Young Tony Curtis, newest graduate to the Hollywood starring ranks, has added another notch to his newly-won acting laurels by virtue of his outstanding performance in Universal - International's "Flesh and Fury," which opens today at the Paramount Theatre.

This new film, which also stars Jan Sterling and Mona Freeman, comes close on the success of Tony's initial starring role in the Technicolor "The Prince Who Was a Thief" and will prove to his legion of followers that he is well qualified to wear the coveted crown of stardom.

"Flesh and Fury" cleverly combines the stark background of the prize fight game with the unfolding of a poignant love story that reaches a new screen high in its tender telling.

Curtis, cast as a struggling boxer in "Flesh and Fury," has created a characterization which achieves an unusual impact on the emotions.

Conflict backgrounds the unfolding of "Flesh and Fury" when Jan Sterling, cast as a brash, designing nightclub dancer, gives Curtis his first taste of gaiety and night life while helping herself to his winnings.

Mona Freeman plays a contrasting role to the glamorous Jan Sterling in her sympathetic portrayal of a magazine writer who falls in love with the young fighter and helps him to find real happiness.

Playing the meanest role of her career to date, a career studded as it is with "meanie" parts, Miss Sterling rises to heights in many intensely dramatic scenes with Curtis. Mona Freeman scores tenderly in her deep understanding of the fighter.

Wallace Ford and Connie Gilchrist head the strong supporting cast of "Flesh and Fury." Ford is seen as the devoted fight manager who guides Curtis to a world's championship title and Miss Gilchrist who plays the fight manager's wife who kindles the tender romance between Curtis and Miss Freeman.

"Flesh and Fury" was directed by Joseph Pevney and produced by Leonard Goldstein. Irving Glassberg and Hans J. Salter receive cinematography and musical credits, respectively.

AT THE JOY THURSDAY

The sword of Monte Cristo is wielded by John Derek, right, angainst Anthony Quinn in Columbia Pictures' "Mask of the Avenger," new romance in color by Technicolor at the Joy Theatre Thursday. The drama stars Derek and also features Jody Lawrance, Arnold Moss and Eugene Iglesias.

'Death of a Salesman' Stars Frederic March

One of the most extraordinary motion pictures of the year is promised for the Tem Theatre. . . when Stanley Kramer's first production for Columbia Pictures, "Death of a Salesman," has its local premiere beginning Sunday March 30. Fredric March, the distinguished American actor and twice winner of the Academy Award is starred in the film which is based upon the Pulitzer Prize-winning play. March's supporting cast, recruited from veterans of the New York and London productions of "Death of a Salesman," include Mildred Dunnock, Kevin McCarthy Cameron Mitchell and Howard Smith.

In "Death of a Salesman," Kramer has tackled a theme universal in scope: the dream of success and the conflict with reality. The central character of the film is Willy Loman, a salesman who, all his life, has traded on his ability to be well-liked. This quality, he believes, is the key to success and he grooms his two sons accordingly. Willy's one mistake, seen by a son, unleashes the overpowering surge of the film's emotional drama.

March plays Willy, the amiable salesman who wants to make a good life for his two sons and his adoring wife but fails to recognize that there is more to success than being a hale-fellow-well-met. Mildred Dunnock, who created the role for Broadway, enacts the part of March's wife. Kevin McCarthy, from the London cast of the triumphant play, makes his motion picture debut in "Death of a Salesman" as Biff, Willy's drifter son.

Cameron Mitchell is seen as Happy, the other son, a woman-chaser who pursues his visions of success in a minor office job, while Howard Smith plays March's lifelong friend and neighbor. Both Mitchell and Smith also appeared in the Broadway play, one of the most-honored dramas of our time.

Fredric March, as Willy, is said by Hollywood to transcend even his Academy Award-winning performances in "The Best Years of Our Lives" and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Randolph Scott stops to survey the ground ahead in this scene from "Man in the Saddle," the story of a man having been pushed as far as he can go and comes back. "Man in the Saddle" opens a four day engagement at the Paramount Theatre Wednesday.

Randolph Scott Tops As 'Man in the Saddle'

All the wide wonder of the West is brought to the screen in Randolph Scott's new starrer for Columbia Pictures, "Man in the Saddle," which will thrill audiences Wednesday at Paramount Theater. Joan Leslie, Ellen Drew and Alexander Knox head the tremendous supporting cast of this outdoor action drama, which was filmed in color by Technicolor. "Man in the Saddle" is easily the biggest and most entertaining of the epics of the West which have made Scott one of the great box-office draws of all time.

"Man in the Saddle" gives Scott a perfect vehicle for his rugged talents. He is seen as the owner of a small ranch, a law-abiding citizen who goes out of his way to avoid trouble. Based upon the best selling novel by Ernest Haycox, "Man in the Saddle" tells how the rancher is beloved by two women, Joan Leslie and Ellen Drew. The latter has never revealed to Scott how she feels about him. Miss Leslie, on the verge of marrying him, drops him like a hot potato to seek financial security as the wife of wealthy rancher Alexander Knox.

Knox can't help feeling that Miss Leslie is still in love with Scott and, violently jealous, he tries to run the "Man in the Saddle" out of the country. A no-holds-barred feud erupts between Knox's henchmen and Scott and his friends. When Scott is ambushed and wounded by gunfire, Miss Drew takes him to a mountain hideout to nurse him back to health. Discovered here by one of Knox's men, Scott is up against a fight for his life when the big rancher personally leads a group of killers to unhorse the "Man in the Saddle" once and for all. The movie includes a thrilling fight that will leave you gasping, and ends with a flaming gun-battle.

In addition to the great performances by the principals in the cast, splendid characterizations are delivered by Richard Rober, John Russell, Alfonso Bedoya and recording artist Tennessee Ernie, who sings "Man in the Saddle."

A South American species of mantis is so large that it attacks small frogs, lizards and birds.

SHIP SALVAGE PLANNED

SINGAPORE (AP)—Two ocean liners and a coal hulk whose scrap value is worth several million dollars are soon to be salvaged from the depths of Singapore harbor.

The victims of bombing and mining during World War II, the ships are the Empress of Asia, the Sirdhana and the hulk Oscar II.

The Empress of Asia, aboard which the last batch of British troop reinforcements arrived before Singapore's fall in 1942, was bombed and sunk by Japanese planes with much armor aboard. The Sirdhana hit a mine in 1939 and the sulk was scuttled to prevent it falling into Japanese hands.

Tensas Basin Levee Board Annual Inspection Made By

$650 Smithland Project Is Among Sites Visited By Officials

Members of the Tensas basin levee board, accompanied by engineers and officials of Catahoula parish and Jonesville, made their annual inspection of the flood control program. last week.

Board members from northeast Louisiana parishes met in Jonesville where they were joined by other officials. They then proceeded to the Smithland landing cut-off on Black river. They were carried to one of the large boats, where an excellent meal was served by the crew of the craft.

The members of the board then inspected the Smithland project. The project, which was let to a private contractor for $650,000 is being financed with 100 per cent [illegible] funds.

[illegible] cut off will be approximately [illegible] and a half across the [illegible] the river and will cut off [illegible] the river, which makes [illegible] levee lowards. Protec[illegible] will affect [illegible] in Catahoula parish and 12,000 in Concordia.

Engineers stated that the project would be completed in the near future. Large pumps located on the two boats are taking heavy clay from the bottom of the river and pouring it across the middle of the river, making a hard wall from the floor of the river. After the cut off is completed a levee will be built across the river and traffic will be dispersed across a road located on the top of the levee.

The Smithland cut off is one of the most tremendous jobs ever undertaken in this part of the state. The board members after leaving the Smithland cut off proceeded to inspect other levee work in the vicinity, a new pump station located near the city of Jonesville to pump the water from the city itself, and the new sections of seawall in Jonesville.

During the past four years the Tensas basin levee board has constructed the Jonesville ring levee, Bawcomville ring levee, Belview, and Indian mound levees.

There has also been restoration of the Columbia ring levee, the levee from the swimming pool to the levee well, Davis lake levee in Caldwell parish. In addition there has been construction of numerous detached sections of levees along the Ouachita river and Bayou Bartholomew and a chanel cut bridge in Morehouse parish. Under the present board the Black bayou flood gate structure has been completed and temporary pumps have been erected in Bawcomville.

The board has maintained all levees in the district and has participated in maintenance of levees on the south bank of the Arkansas river and the west bank of the Mississippi river.

Board members making the tour were Tom Hicks, Ouachita parish, president; A. C. James, Caldwell; W. C. Brown, Catahoula; J. C. Buie, Franklin; Jesse Lusk, West Carroll; G. R. Russell, LaSalle.

Other persons attending the inspection were D. W. Manning, president of the Catahoula police jury, John R. Hawkins, Arkansas and Mississippi inspector for the board; C. B. Johnston, federal government engineer for the Jonesville project; A. P. Andrews, area engineer for the state department of public works, Carey Wiley and Tillman Crutchfield, alderman of the city of Jonesville; Stanley Morrison, engineer for Morrison Construction Company for the Jonesville levee project; John McCormick, attorney for the board; F. S. Stevenson, inspector for the levee board; S. C. Smith, area engineer from Tallulah for the state department of public works.

WEEK END TRIP FOR STUDENTS

St. Matthew's Having Pilgrimage To Shreveport And St. Vincent's

St. Matthew's High School Sodality is sponsoring a Vocation-Pilgrimage Tour the week end of March 21-23. The group left Monroe for Shreveport Friday afternoon by bus, and will return Sunday evening, in the same manner. St. Vincent's College and Academy the Motherhouse of their teachers, the Daughters of the Cross, will be hostess to the students during their sojourn away. Their itinerary will include the following centers of interest while in Shreveport: The St. Anne's Foundling Home, The Schumpert Memorial Sanitarium, St. John's Church and School, the new Veterans' Hospital at Fort Humbug, and the Colored Missions on Buena Vista Street. The program includes a picnic lunch at St. Mary's School, a visit to Barksdale Field, and a weiner roast on St. Vincent's Campus. Among the Sodalists participating in this excursion are Beth Debnam, Rosina Lisotta, Vita Marie Jacola, Phyllis Jo Nastasi, Sally Hays, Debbie Ann Hill, Teresa Otwell, Beatrice Varino, Ethel Lee Landreaux, Martha Jane LaSuzza, Maria Maggio, Ann Jernigan, Vita Jean Zagone, Patsy Boone, Pat Lynn Danna, Pat N. Danna, Mary Louise Varino, Yyonne Mansour, Evy Lee Ritter, Carole Ann Tonore, Anna Marie Danna, Dorothy Chaplin, J. D. Cascio, Philip Lisotta, Vincent Marsala, Lucas Lisotta, Ralph Norman, Albert Elias, Anthony Danna. The boys and girls will be accompanied by Sisters Rita, D. C., Adrian, D. C., Ann Patricia, D. C., Mary Joseph, D. C., Laurentia, D. C. and Dorothea, D. C.

Natchez, Mississippi, and the Azalea Trail, Purple Tour were the attraction and treat for the St. Matthew's Students last week end. Richmond, The Briers, The Parsonage, Bontura, and Cherokee, were among the beautiful ante-bellum homes visited by the students and Sisters. Sister Patricia, and Sister Rita escorted the following: Ronald Abbott, Jimmy John Peterson, Rat N. Danna, Teresa Otwell, Betty Britt, Carole Ann Tonore, Mona Lee Ticheli, Yvonne Mansour, Pat Lynn Danna, Phyllis Jo Nastasi, Christine Inzina, Vita Marie Jacola, Sally Hays, Rosina Lisotta, Beth Debnam, Miriam Biggar, Barb Barbson, Polly Riley, Frank Ticheli, J. D. Cascio, Ralph Norman, Vincent Marsala, Betty Jane Shipp, Marcie Ann Renaud, and Jimmy Fox.

The St. Matthew's High School Choir sang the traditional hymns and a beautiful High Mass on the Feast of St. Joseph, March 19. The choir is under the direction of the Reverend William Allison, and Sister Aloysius, D. C.

Students most fittingly celebrated St. Patrick's Day on March 17 when they rallied to the school's cause and sold shamrocks with a tremendous success and thus netted sufficient funds to purchase an electric clock to replace their present manual period bell. They commemorated the Name Day of their Principal, Sister Patricia, by attending Holy Mass and receiving Communion in a body for Sister's intentions.

The Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that if the best combinations of known practices were put to use on all farms in the United States, farm production could be increased as much as 75 per cent.

NATL. GUARD TO BE RE-EQUIPPED

New Motor Vehicles To Be Installed Of Latest Design

The entire Louisiana National Guard will re-equipped with the very latest type motor vehicles direct from the manufacturers' production lines within the next 60 days, Brig. Gen. Raymond F. Hufft disclosed today.

The Adjutant General said the turn-in of 717 trucks, jeeps and trailers scattered among Guard units in 41 Louisiana cities and towns will get under way early next week.

The old World War II vehicles now in use will be delivered to the Red River Arsenal at Texarkana. The new vehicles, on which shipping orders are now being received, will come direct from the factories.

The new 6x6 2½-ton trucks feature hydramatic drives and "snorkels" for air intake and "snorters" for exhaust to permit operation in deep water. They also come with kits to adapt the trucks for arctic, desert or water use within minutes.

The new glamorized jeeps will have rounded instead of square corners, will be easier on gas consumptoin, will run 300 miles without refueling, and will have softer seats, larger springs and new shock absorbers.

The jeeps will also be equipped for deep water operation, according to General Hufft.

The General said the scheduling of vehicle replacements during the next two months has been worked out in great detail to avoid interference with current movements of National Guard units to and from rifle ranges at Lafayette, Camp Polk, Camp Beauregard and Camp Villere for week-end marksmanship training.

All vehicles will be processed at the State Maintenance Shop at Camp Beauregard before turned in, and the enew vehicles will be received and be processed and equipped there also, Hufft announced.

A large number of the new vehicles will be retained in the concentration site for Guard vehicles at Esler Field adjoining Camp Beauregard until the Guard begins its annual trek to Camp Polk for its summer field training encampment early in August, Hufft added.

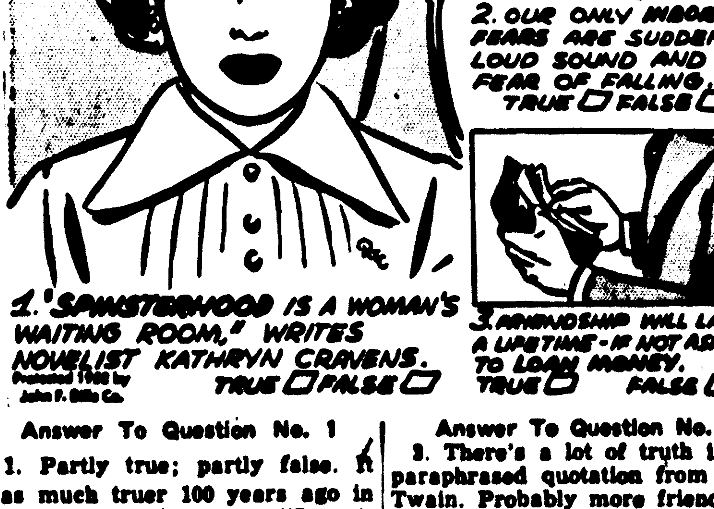
LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.



1. "SPINSTERHOOD IS A WOMAN'S WAITING ROOM," WRITES NOVELIST KATHRYN CRAVENS. TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐
Protected 1952 by John F. Dille Co.
2. OUR ONLY INBORN FEARS ARE SUDDEN, LOUD SOUND AND FEAR OF FALLING. TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐
3. FRIENDSHIP WILL LAST A LIFETIME - IF NOT ASKED TO LOAN MONEY. TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Partly true; partly false. It was much truer 100 years ago in the setting of the novel, "Pursuit of Gentlemen." Women waited for Prince Charming and couldn't do much about it. But the head of one women's college said recently that the girls were not waiting but had their nets out to catch the biggest, the best, fish possible. Men still assume they are the answer to maidens' prayers, and since they are the only male sex, maidens have to catch as catch can.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. This was thought proved beyond question by Psychologist John Watson. However, when Psychologist W. W. Hunt shot a revolver close to the heads of 60 babies it didn't scare them worth a cent. Several who were crying, stopped. Most of them, however, did wiggle their toes. This should make Dr. Watson wiggle his behavioristic toes, but scientists progress by making each other wiggle their psychological toes.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. There's a lot of truth in this paraphrased quotation from Mark Twain. Probably more friends are lost through lending money than refusing to. However, it would be a cold, hard world if we always adhered to this. I've never had much money to lend, but when I have — although I sometimes lost both friend and money — I've never regretted the favor. I know I won't have many stars in my crown, and I hope Saint Peter will count these few loans as stardust —if not five pointed stars.

TENSAS LEVEE BOARD FLOOD CONTROL PROGRAM

The Jonesville pumping station is shown above with the floodgates in closed position. The new station will pump water from the town and disperse it into surrounding water beds.

The above picture shows the progress of construction on the Smithland Landing Cut-Off after completion of the initial cut.

Tensas Basin Levee Board Annual Inspection Made By

$650 Smithland Project Is Among Sites Visited By Officials

Members of the Tensas basin levee board, accompanied by engineers and officials of Catahoula parish and Jonesville, made their annual inspection of the flood control program last week.

Board members from northeast Louisiana parishes met in Jonesville where they were joined by other officials. They then proceeded to the Smithland landing cut-off on Black river. They were carried to one of the large boats, where an excellent meal was served by the crew of the craft.

The members of the board then inspected the Smithland project. The project, which was let to a private contractor for $650,000 is being financed with 100 per cent federal funds.

The cut off will be approximately a mile and a half across the middle of the river and will cut off 15 miles of the river, which makes a complete circle inwards. Protection from this cutoff will affect 9,000 acres of land in Catahoula parish and 12,000 in Concordia.

Engineers stated that the project would be completed in the near future. Large pumps located on the two boats are taking heavy clay from the bottom of the river and pouring it across the middle of the river, making a hard wall from the floor of the river. After the cut off is completed a levee will be built across the river and traffic will be dispersed across a road located on the top of the levee.

The Smithland cut off is one of the most tremendous jobs ever undertaken in this part of the state. The board members after leaving the Smithland cut off proceeded to inspect other levee work in the vicinity, a new pump station located near the city of Jonesville to pump the water from the city itself, and the new sections of seawall in Jonesville.

During the past four years the Tensas basin levee board has constructed the Jonesville ring levee, Bawcomville ring levee, Belview, and Indian mound levees.

There has also been restoration of the Columbia ring levee, the levee from the swimming pool to the levee wall, Davis lake levee in Caldwell parish. In addition there has been construction of numerous detached sections of levees along the Ouachita river and Bayou Bartholomew and a chanel cut bridge in Morehouse parish. Under the present board the Black bayou flood gate structure has been completed and temporary pumps have been erected in Bawcomville.

The board has maintained all levees in the district and has participated in maintenance of levees on the south bank of the Arkansas river and the west bank of the Mississippi river.

Board members making the tour were Tom Hicks, Ouachita parish, president; A. C. James, Caldwell; W. C. Brown, Catahoula; J. C. Buie, Franklin; Jesse Lusk, West Carroll; G. R. Russell, LaSalle.

Other persons attending the inspection were D. W. Manning, president of the Catahoula police jury, John R. Hawkins, Arkansas and Mississippi inspector for the board; C. B. Johnston, federal government engineer for the Jonesville project; A. P. Andrews, area engineer for the state department of public works, Carey Wiley and Tillman Crutchfield, alderman of the city of Jonesville; Stanley Morrison, engineer for Morrison Construction Company for the Jonesville levee project; John McCormick, attorney for the board; F. S. Stevenson, inspector for the levee board; S. C. Smith, area engineer from Tallulah for the state department of public works.

Sister Patricia, and Sister Rita escorted the following: Ronald Abbott, Jimmy John Peterson, Rat N. Danna, Teresa Otwell, Betty Britt, Carole Ann Tonore, Mona Lee Ticheli, Yvonne Mansour, Pat Lynn Danna, Phyllis Jo Nastasi, Christine Inzina, Vita Marie Jacola, Sally Hays, Rosina Lisotta, Beth Debnam, Miriam Biggar, Barb Barbson, Polly Riley, Frank Ticheli, J. D. Cascio, Ralph Norman, Vincent Marsala, Betty Jane Shipp, Marcie Ann Renaud, and Jimmy Fox.

The St. Matthew's High School Choir sang the traditional hymns and a beautiful High Mass on the Feast of St. Joseph, March 19. The choir is under the direction of the Reverend William Allison, and Sister Aloysius, D. C.

Students most fittingly celebrated St. Patrick's Day on March 17 when they rallied to the school's cause and sold shamrocks with a tremendous success and thus netted sufficient funds to purchase an electric clock to replace their present manual period bell. They commemorated the Name Day of their Principal, Sister Patricia, by attending Holy Mass and receiving Communion in a body for Sister's intentions.

The Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that if the best combinations of known practices were put to use on all farms in the United States, farm production could be increased as much as 75 per cent.

NATL. GUARD TO BE RE-EQUIPPED

New Motor Vehicles To Be Installed Of Latest Design

The entire Louisiana National Guard will re-equipped with the very latest type motor vehicles direct from the manufacturers' production lines within the next 60 days, Brig. Gen. Raymond F. Hufft disclosed today.

The Adjutant General said the turn-in of 717 trucks, jeeps and trailers scattered among Guard units in 41 Louisiana cities and towns will get under way early next week.

The old World War II vehicles now in use will be delivered to the Red River Arsenal at Texarkana. The new vehicles, on which shipping orders are now being received, will come direct from the factories.

The new 6x6 2½-ton trucks feature hydramatic drives and "snorkels" for air intake and "snorters" for exhaust to permit operation in deep water. They also come with kits to adapt the trucks for arctic, desert or water use within minutes.

The new glamorized jeeps will have rounded instead of square corners, will be easier on gas consumptoin, will run 300 miles without refueling, and will have softer seats, larger springs and new shock absorbers.

The jeeps will also be equipped for deep water operation, according to General Hufft.

The General said the scheduling of vehicle replacements during the next two months has been worked out in great detail to avoid interference with current movements of National Guard units to and from rifle ranges at Lafayette, Camp Polk, Camp Beauregard and Camp Villere for week-end marksmanship training.

All vehicles will be processed at the State Maintenance Shop at Camp Beauregard before turned in, and the enew vehicles will be received and be processed and equipped there also, Hufft announced.

A large number of the new vehicles will be retained in the concentration site for Guard vehicles at Esler Field adjoining Camp Beauregard until the Guard begins its annual trek to Camp Polk for its summer field training encampment early in August, Hufft added.

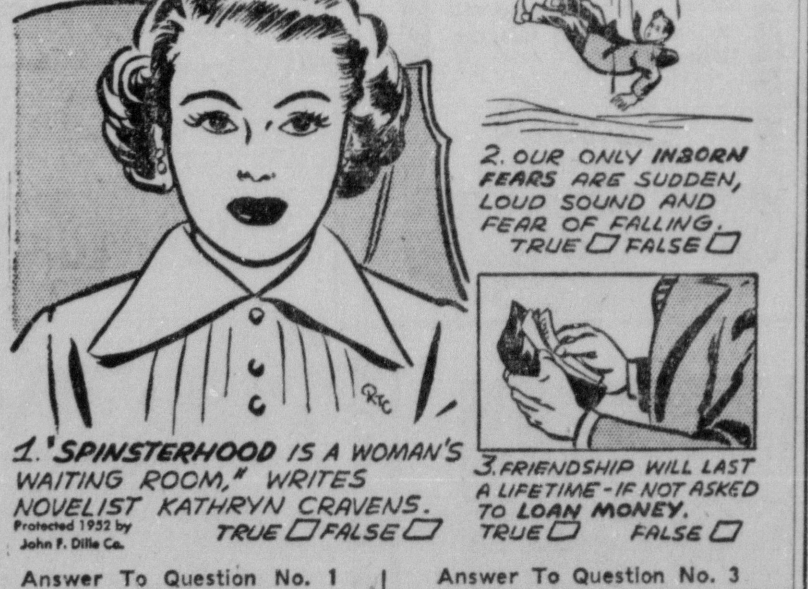
LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. S.



1. "SPINSTERHOOD IS A WOMAN'S WAITING ROOM," WRITES NOVELIST KATHRYN CRAVENS. TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐

2. OUR ONLY INBORN FEARS ARE SUDDEN, LOUD SOUND AND FEAR OF FALLING. TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐

3. FRIENDSHIP WILL LAST A LIFETIME - IF NOT ASKED TO LOAN MONEY. TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐

Protected 1952 by John F. Dille Co.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Partly true; partly false. It was much truer 100 years ago in the setting of the novel, "Pursuit of Gentlemen." Women waited for Prince Charming and couldn't do much about it. But the head of one women's college said recently that the girls were not waiting but had their nets out to catch the biggest, the best, fish possible. Men still assume they are the answer to maidens' prayers, and since they are the only male sex, maidens have to catch as catch can.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. This was thought proved beyond question by Psychologist John Watson. However, when Psychologist W. W. Hunt shot a revolver close to the heads of 60 babies it didn't scare them worth a cent. Several who were crying, stopped. Most of them, however, did wiggle their toes. This should make Dr. Watson wiggle his behavioristic toes, but scientists progress by making each other wiggle their psychological toes.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. There's a lot of truth in this paraphrased quotation from Mark Twain. Probably more friends are lost through lending money than refusing to. However, it would be a cold, hard world if we always adhered to this. I've never had much money to lend, but when I have — although I sometimes lost both friend and money — I've never regretted the favor. I know I won't have many stars in my crown, and I hope Saint Peter will count these few loans as stardust —if not five pointed stars.

NEVILLE COMEDY SHOW PLANNE

'And Came Spring' Delightful Play Planned, April 8

There are plays and plays abou American families. Each is a littl different. Each serves its ow purpose. In the past some of t most popular and most frequent produced plays have fallen in this category. But only occasio ally do two authors approach t subject with the freshness, insigh and humor that is displayed "And Came the Spring." Toda when comedy is especially need in the world, Marijane and Josep Hayes have supplied it lavishly, a the while preserving the natura ness, and heightening the color their interesting characters.

Life is made up of poignancy a well as laughter—and what is mor filled with both of these qualitie than first love? Here is a movin and amusing picture of a first lov which begins an avalanche of co plications calculated to win the a proval of the saddest member any audience.

The speech department of N ville High School will present t new comedy, that happily po sesses a majority of the virtu looked for in a popular success, thee Neville auditorium on April

This play provides a unique a fascinating form of entertainme particularly for those of you w are susceptible to the charm comedy. It promises to be one those gala events in the theater gala in that they produce an ou pouring of excited playgoers w revel in the acclaiming of a ne play.

Sadie Hawkins Day Is Planned At La. College

"Presbyterian Fellowship

Sure Means a GREAT DEAL

. . . to ANY-ONE who is ALONE"

Anyone who is alone much of the time will find great comfort and satisfaction in the fellowship which awaits them at a Presbyterian Church. There is a warm and cordial relationship that exists among those who attend the services, which means a great deal to the individual who wants spiritual guidance and the companionship of true Christian friends.

The church through its many activities provides an excellent means of contact where you can make new acquaintances and form new friendships. Regular attendance at church will do far more than broaden your circle of friends . . . it will provide spiritual strength, an inner confidence and point of view, that will give direction and meaning to your entire life.

If you are lonesome, then you are especially invited to attend the services Sunday for, Christian fellowship will help you.

There Is A Place In Business
FOR RELIGION

I am in a position to see and know the needs of many men in many walks of life because I am an executive. I have contacts with hundreds of friends and acquaintances in a large industrial area. I am convinced that it is possible to apply the principles of religion in business as well as elsewhere. Mr. Le Torneau, a great industrialist of our southland, has set a good example of religion and industry combined.

Experience has taught that it is much easier to deal with people as employees or other business relations when moral and ethical relations form the background of discussion. Morals and ethics do not constitute the whole background of religion, but they are a great part of it. It is amazing how quickly the average person responds to the motives of right and justice . . . with just a little encouragement and how eager he is to know more about the spiritual side of life.

The many experiences I have had with my fellow man have served to strengthen my own spiritual nature and has taught me how powerful a factor religion is in the life of man. I also have a higher regard for my church and a deeper appreciation of its service and influence in the community.

And beyond all this is the peace and satisfaction I derive from a sense of the presence and power of God, in my own life and in the lives of others.

NINE HELD FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Seven Arrested For Reckless Driving, Others For Speeding, No License

Nine of the 18 arrests made by the local troop of the state police were for operating a vehicle under the influence of intoxicating liquors, while reckless driving had the next largest number, with seven offenders. Other offenses were speeding and operating a vehicle with improper brakes and having no driver's license.

The report covered arrests made during the past week.

Arrested and charged with operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors and fleeing the scene of the accident was Cleo Simmons, 32-year-old Ruston Negro. Drunk driving and causing property damage was filed against Roy Elkins, 46, from Farmerville, while the following seven were charged with operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors: Wesley C. Upshaw, 26, Route 3, West Monroe; Roy E. Nelson, 29, Vienna; Benjamin F. Taylor, 59, Route 1, Columbia; Dorris C. Hastings, 41, 401 Atkins avenue, Shreveport; Delma Cheek, 33, Rayville; Ray B. Talley, 36, 1228 Kirk Circle street, Greenville, Miss.; and Willie Dayless Smith, 44, 400 South Second street, West Monroe.

Charged with reckless driving were: Stanley Cradwell, 35, Route 1, Sondheimer; Joseph Hopson, 28, Route 1, Lake Providence; and Leon E. Benson, 20, Negro, Farmerville.

Booker T. Billberry, 20-year-old Negro, from Farmerville was charged with reckless driving and fleeing the scene of the accident, and Eugene J. Moore, 46, Negro, Route 3, Box 153B Monroe, with reckless driving and causing property damage.

Charges of reckless driving and causing an accident were filed against John E. Taylor, 62, Box 54, Many. Samuel Langworthy, 22-year-old Negro, Eudora, Ark., was picked up by troopers and charged with reckless driving and having no driver's license.

Willie Burrell, 26-year-old Negro, Sondheimer was charged with speeding and Wilbert Long, 26, Negro, Lake Providence with having no driver's license and improper brakes.

IN MOVIELAND

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie industry is all at sea—but this time it's a film cycle instead of economic troubles.

War pictures seem to be on the wane. Westerns, which come and go in importance, also appear on the downbeat. The most notable trend in movie subjects is in the direction of the ocean, and the dramatic possibilities thereof.

The trend appears to be duplicating what has happened with best-selling books. The fiction leader for many months has been "The Caine Mutiny," and closely following it was "The Cruel Sea," another naval saga of World War II. The non-fiction leader has been "The Sea Around Us," a lucid account of submarine life and phenomenon.

Now the movies are getting into the act. Every studio in town has sea stories in the works. And one ocean saga often leads to another, for an interesting reason. The construction of a sea-going vessel on a movie stage is an expensive matter, and studios like to use the set for more than one film.

For instance, Paramount built an 18th century English vessel for "Botany Bay." The set has since been used for two other films, "Caribbean Gold" and "Hurricane Smith." MGM has constructed a replica of the Mayflower for "The Plymouth Adventure." Now the studio is hunting around for other sea subjects. A sequel to "Mutiny on the Bounty" may be one of them.

At 20th-Fox, there are no less than five sea films being prepared. They are: "Single - Handed," a World War II story by C. S. Forester; "Nearer My God to Thee," about the Titanic; "Face in the Deep," concerning a deep-sea diver; "12 Mile Reef," a story of sponge fishing, and an untitled submarine opus.

Warners has "Sea Chase," the story of a German U-boat, and subjects concerning the USS Marblehead and the four chaplains who lost their lives at sea. U-I has made "The World in His Arms" with Gregory Peck, "Against All Flags" with Errol Flynn, and "Yankee Buccaneer" with Jeff Chandler.

Two producers have latched onto best - sellers. Howard Hughes bought "The Sea Around Us," and Stanley Kramer now owns "The Caine Mutiny." It's still doubtful whether the Navy will lend cooperation to the latter subject, however. . . .

Three local theaters ran into a hornet's nest this week. On the lower half of a double bill, they advertised an English film. The star was billed thusly: "Michael Wilding, Mr. Elizabeth Taylor."

MGM's legal eagles went to work and the theaters had to drop the billing. Now it's "Michael Wilding Britain's No. 1 screen lover."

Capsule review: "The Wild North" is at its best when it remains in the big outdoors. It's laid in the great Canadian wilds, and the scenery and action thrills are wonderful. But when the story goes indoors, it begins to creak. The plot is traditional Northwest Mounted Police stuff. A gay trapper, Stewart Granger gets involved with a murder and heads for the hills. The loyal mountie Wendell Corey goes out to get him. The actors, with Cyd Charisse as the romantic half-breed, do their best. But the photography, done with a new and life-like process, outweighs their efforts.

Bob Garbrecht of New York is the only non-Texan on the Rice football roster with the exception of border resident Buddy Edwards of Texarkana, Ark.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By Oswald Jacoby

Casino Can Be Challenging

Most people think that Casino is a game for children, but it's actually a fine game of skill and one of the most difficult games to play really well. A good player doesn't win every game, but in the long run he will give a very bad beating to the unthinking player.

For example, suppose you are the dealer and that you have just dealt the last cards of the pack to your opponent and yourself. You have already taken in 24 cards, so that you need only three more cards to have a majority.

If you always know how many cards you have taken in, you will just make sure of getting three cards. If you are uncertain, you may take some chances and wind up without "cards" or with a tie.

A good player likewise keeps track of the spades and of all the cash points. For example, until Big Casino has been played you must avoid playing a card that will make a combination of 10 with anything on the table.

If your opponent builds a ten with a card from his hand, you may be unable to stop him; but at least you don't have to give it to him on a silver platter.

After you have played a few times, you will find it possible to keep track of all the high cards—the tens, nines and eights. Those are the cards that are most useful in winning big builds.

Towards the end of any deal you have a big advantage if you know, for example, that there are no nines out but that there are still three eights to be played. That sort of information steers you towards safe plays and away from dangerous plays.

Very few card players can keep track of all the cards. It's much easier (and almost as useful) to keep track of the unpaired cards.

For example, suppose your opponent takes a 5 with another 5. Those cards pair each other, so you pay no attention to them. But if he takes in a 3 and a 2 with a 5, all of those cards are unpaired.

As the game progresses, you keep in your mind a constantly changing list of the cards that are unpaired. This isn't very hard, especially with a little practice. When the last turn comes, you usually know every card in your opponent's hand.

For example, suppose you keep track and know that 8, 7, 5, 3 are unpaired up to the last deal. Your last four cards include an 8 and a 5. You know that your opponent must have the 7 and the 3.

You may not be sure of his other two cards. Perhaps the picture cards will give you a clue. Or perhaps you will know from keeping track of spades, cash points, and the higher cards.

Even if your information is not complete, it's a lot better than being altogether in the dark.

TWO CITIES TO GET OPS STUDY

Shreveport, Jefferson, Tex. To Be Included In Broad Food Survey

Shreveport and Jefferson, Tex., have been selected along with 137 other cities and towns to be included in the OPS Food Margin Survey which starts Monday, March 24, according to James E. McGinley, district OPS Price Executive. The survey in Shreveport and Jefferson will be conducted by David F. Snipes of the district Food Section.

The purpose of the survey is to determine how markups now permitted by OPS ceiling price regulations compare with markups used in the period immediately preceeding outbreak of hostilities in Korea. Results of the survey will be used by OPS to determine if any adjustments should be made in grocery markups because of changed merchandising practices. The survey will cover all types of wholesale and retail grocery stores throughout the nation. Shreveport and Jefferson, Tex., were chosen under a sampling formula devised by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The BLS has assigned technical supervisors to assist the OPS in making the survey. Mr. Snipes, who will conduct the survey in Jefferson and Shreveport, was given special training for the survey in the OPS Regional Office in Dallas.

Other Louisiana cities which will be included in the survey include New Orleans, Crowley, and Hammond.

A sweeter wash is a cleaner wash

Surf guarantees a sweeter wash than any soap, any detergent you now use

Prove it yourself—
in your own linen closet.

THERE'S A GOOD REASON why we can make this guarantee so confidently. A Surf wash smells sweeter because it is so clean. Surf not only gets out the dirt and grime you can see in clothes—it also reaches deep into the fabric and gets out the soap scum and odor that other washday products leave in.

You can easily prove this yourself with a simple test. Use Surf the next time you do the family wash. Then compare the sweet smell of cleanness in your Surf wash with anything in your linen closet that was washed with the product you've been using. You'll be delighted with the new sweet, clean difference.

Today, or weeks away, your Surf-washed clothes will smell as clean as they look and look as clean as they smell. That's your proof that they're clean clear through.

UNCONDITIONAL GUARANTEE

The makers of Surf—Lever Brothers Company—guarantee you the sweetest wash you've ever had—regardless of the product you are now using, with or without rinsing—or your money refunded.

We guarantee, if you switch to Surf, you'll have the sweetest wash on earth!

IT SAYS..."TRIED TO PHONE YOU, BUT NO NUMBER LISTED. ARRIVING AT 5:25 P.M. TODAY WILL LOOK YOU UP AND GO DIRECT TO HOUSE. LOVE TO YOU AND THE BABY SIGNED = LEYTON OLSON"
STEVE! YOU LOOK AS IF YOU HAD SEEN A GHOST!
JUST HEARD A WIRE FROM ONE!...LEYTON OLSON...IS BACK....THAT'S SUMMER'S HUSBAND!
WOW!
WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO?
IT'S 5:20 NOW! —IS THAT PLANE LOADED WITH DOC SUMMIT'S STUFF TO GO TO THE FAR EAST FOR FIELD TESTING?
YES—IT'S UNDER GUARD UNTIL YOU GET BACK FROM YOUR WEEKEND HONEY-MOON!
LET'S GO TO THE AIRPORT
BUT, STEVE...
WHAT ELSE IS THERE TO DO? IN TEN MINUTES SHE'LL BE IN HIS ARMS!
A SHORT TIME LATER
DOES A MRS. LEYTON OLSON LIVE HERE?
Y-YES, SIR!
WON'T YOU COME IN?

S-SHE CAN'T COME TO THE PHONE, MAJOR CANYON... SHE JUST HAD A T-TELEGRAM...
IT SAYS..."TRIED TO PHONE YOU, BUT NO NUMBER LISTED. ARRIVING AT 5=25 P.M. TODAY WILL LOOK YOU UP AND GO DIRECT TO HOUSE. LOVE TO YOU AND THE BABY SIGNED= LEYTON OLSON"
STEVE! YOU LOOK AS IF YOU HAD SEEN A GHOST!
JUST HEARD A WIRE FROM ONE!.. LEYTON OLSON... IS BACK... THAT'S SUMMER'S HUSBAND!
WOW!
WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO?
IT'S 5=20 NOW! —IS THAT PLANE LOADED WITH DOC SUMMIT'S STUFF TO GO TO THE FAR EAST FOR FIELD TESTING?
YES—IT'S UNDER GUARD UNTIL YOU GET BACK FROM YOUR WEEKEND HONEY-MOON!
LET'S GO TO THE AIRPORT
BUT, STEVE...
WHAT ELSE IS THERE TO DO? IN TEN MINUTES SHE'LL BE IN HIS ARMS!
A SHORT TIME LATER
DOES A MRS. LEYTON OLSON LIVE HERE?
Y-YES, SIR!
WON'T YOU COME IN?

LORD PLUSHBOTTOM PHONED AND SAID TO TELL YOU HE'S BRINGING SENATOR BUMP HOME TO DINNER.
OH, MY STARS! AND MAMIE'S OFF TODAY.
AW, I DON'T THINK TH' SENATOR'D BE INTERESTED IN HER.
THANK HEAVEN, I PICKED UP THIS CHICKEN AND SOME COLD CUTS AT THE DELICATESSEN.
THAT SHOULD SOFTEN THE SENATOR UP FOR THAT LOAN AT HIS BANK.
GET OUT!
AND STAY OUT!
AW, LISTEN, EMMY—
NOW, LORD PLUSHBOTTOM WILL HAVE TO TAKE ME AND THE SENATOR OUT TO DINNER.
I HOPE KAYO REMEMBERED TO GIVE HER MY MESSAGE.
SO DO I. I KNOW HOW WIVES ARE WHEN THEY HAVE UNEXPECTED GUESTS DROP IN.
KAYO, TELL LADY PLUSHBOTTOM THAT THE SENATOR AND I ARE HERE.
HEY-EMMY!
YOU JEST DARE LET THAT HOUND IN THIS HOUSE AND I'LL—
HUMPH-GOOD-BY, PLUSHBOTTOM. I WILL BE ON MY WAY.
AND I THINK I WILL GO WITH YOU, SENATOR.
TEN O'CLOCK! WHAT IN THE WORLD COULD BE DETAINING HIS LORDSHIP AND THE SENATOR?

DADDY, QUICK! A DOGCATCHER JUST PICKED UP DAISY.
STOP!- THAT'S UNCONSTITUTIONAL-- YOU CAN'T DO THAT TO A TAXPAYER
IF SHE'S A TAXPAYER, WHERE'S THE TAG ON HER COLLAR?
SHE HAS ONE-- IT MUST'VE FALLEN OFF AROUND OUR HOUSE
I'LL WAIT HERE UNTIL YOU GET BACK
BE CALM, DAISY-- I'LL FIND YOUR DOG TAG AND BE RIGHT BACK
OH-BOO HOO-- OUR DARLING DAISY BEING CARRIED OFF IN A WAGON LIKE A COMMON CROOK
I'LL GET HER A LAWYER -- COME ON, HELP ME FIND HER LICENSE TAG
I FOUND IT, DAGWOOD--IT CAME OFF WHILE SHE WAS GETTING HER BATH
WE FOUND IT, DAISY-YOU'RE A CITIZEN IN GOOD STANDING AGAIN
WHERE'S THE DOG-CATCHER?
HE WENT IN THIS RESTAURANT FOR HIS LUNCH
LUNCH
WE CAN'T WAIT FOR HIM-- COME ON, DAISY, I'LL TAKE YOU RIGHT HOME
THERE'S A SNAP LOCK ON THE OUTSIDE- WE CAN'T GET OUT
IT'S THE CITY DOG POUND, MAMA-- THEY WANT YOU TO COME RIGHT DOWN THERE AND CLAIM YOUR HUSBAND
SINCE WHEN DO HUSBANDS NEED DOG LICENSES?

INSIDE AN ARCTIC GLACIER, THE INVADERS FROM SATURN'S MOON RHEA ARE USING THEIR SECRET SCIENCE TO FREEZE THE EARTH INTO A GIGANTIC SNOWBALL ON WHICH ONLY SATURNIANS CAN SURVIVE. NOTHING STANDS BETWEEN THEM AND SUCCESS, BUT FLASH GORDON, ALONE IN THE ENEMY STRONGHOLD!
MOVING CAUTIOUSLY DOWN AN ICY CORRIDOR, FLASH LEAPS FOR COVER AND HOLDS HIS BREATH AS A BUSY SATURNIAN NEARLY RUNS INTO HIM.
AT THE END OF THE CORRIDOR, FLASH COMES UPON A VAST CAVERN THAT HOUSES THE SATURNIANS' IONIC RAY-GENERATOR! HE DISCOVERS THEY ARE USING THE EARTH'S MAGNETIC FIELD AND THE NORTHERN LIGHTS TO BLANKET OUR PLANET WITH AN ELECTRONIC SCREEN, SHUTTING OFF THE SUN'S HEAT-RAYS!
BUT SUDDEN DISASTER OVERTAKES FLASH'S ONE-MAN RAID, WHEN A SATURNIAN ENGINEER SPOTS THE EARTH-MAN AND SHOUTS AN ALARM. THE CLAMOR BRINGS A SWARM OF WEIRDLY ARMED GIANTS RUSHING INTO THE CAVERN.
FLASH REALIZES HE IS HOPELESSLY OUTNUMBERED. INSTEAD OF FIRING FUTILELY AT THE ATTACKING HORDE, HE EMPTIES HIS NEUTRON-BEAM GUN INTO THE IONIC-RAY POWER PLANT!
WITH AN EARTH-SHAKING ROAR, THE GENERATORS EXPLODE UPWARD, SHATTERING THE GLACIER INTO A MILLION FRAGMENTS AND SCATTERING THE SATURNIAN MACHINES OVER THE ARCTIC ICE. ALTHOUGH PARTLY SHIELDED, FLASH IS STUNNED AND HURLED SKYWARD!

PROM HOME PERMANENT NEEDS NO NEUTRALIZER!

NEW AUTOMATIC NEUTRALIZING GIVES BEST CURL OF ANY WAVING METHOD

Here is the new miracle wave! The only home permanent that contains no chemical neutralizer! The only home permanent that offers a special lotion just right for your type of hair. Nothing new to learn. Using any plastic curlers, roll your hair up, applying PROM waving lotion. A little later, rinse with plain water. That's all the work you do. When your hair dries naturally on the curlers, your PROM wave is in, to stay! Wonderful for all types of hair, including bleached, tinted hair. Grand for children; they don't have to sit still as you dab and drip neutralizer.

Guaranteed to "Take"

Even if other waves failed, PROM is guaranteed to "take" beautifully every time, to give you a softer, more natural-looking wave that lasts longer than any other home permanent, or money back! Leaves hair in better condition, so it holds sets better, too.

NO STRAGGLY ENDS!

PROM needs no neutralizer, is different from any other home permanent. Far easier, gives a better wave. With ordinary permanents, you dab on chemical neutralizer from outside. It often fails to penetrate down to the ends of hair wound inside the curler. So you may get little or no wave, or straggly ends.

Prom Neutralizes Automatically

PROM automatically neutralizes all the hair, inside and out . . . thoroughly, completely. So you get a lovely, long-lasting wave every time—right down to these important ends. Promise yourself a PROM today!
